FOREWORD

January, 29, 1990

Dear Readers:

It is an amazing feeling to end the book which has taken the better part of the past three years to research and write! If I weren't anxious to start the next one, I might wonder what I would do with the rest of my life, but like so many people who have discovered the joys of Ancestor hunting, I know I'll forever be adding that one more page, one more piece to the puzzle.

In my search for Tarbell and Gordon descendants I have met (by mail, and in person) some wonderful people who I am truly glad to know. I have also met a few who could care less about their heritage, preferring to "let the dead be dead". Some have gone out of their way to send me pictures, documents and histories, while others have ignored my letters or questioned my motives for getting the information.

I began this quest too late to have the assistance of my Mother who would have loved this hobby ! Ancestor hunting is now the third most popular persuit in the United States, after stamps and coins. Perhaps it is because our mobile society has lost it's roots, in a society where a quarter of our children live in one parent homes, where families move every 5 years, in ever increasing distances from the homes and families where they began.

Perhaps it is our search for an identity to again bring meaning to life in a society which values it less and less. I don't know what drives the genealogist, but you who have not tried it don't know what you are missing! If you have never been in a quiet library where a total stranger whispers to you she just found Uncle George whom she's searched 10 years for, or visited a town on vacation and found a family history in the library which you haven't yet seen, you are missing a lot (at least by my standards!)

Having become a retired housewife, thanks to an increasing disability from Polio I had as a child, recovered from, only to find 25 to 40 years later that muscle weakness and pain comes again, and having had to give up a home business I had for 15 years, I have found genealogy a wonderful outlet for my diminishing energies. We like to travel, and in the past 10 years I have researched libraries from Orlando, Florida, to Los Angeles and Burbank, CA to Dedham, MA., Portland, OR and Seattle, WA.

I have been fortunate enough to have visited Gordon farm twice with my family, and meet the current owner, Leila Gordon Scott, at the home where James and Jerusha (Tarbell) Gordon lived in the early 1800's at Rushford, NY. With the aid of a motorized scooter, I am still able to travel and hope to continue to do research for a long time, though at perhaps a slower pace.

My Thanks to a loving husband who supports my hobby to the extent that he even bought me my own computer for Christmas to write on, (making us a 2 computer family!), though the fact that I was using the one in his home office , surrounded by the dozens of books I used in my research may have had something to do with that! My computer is in the family room now, and so are the 80 notebooks of family research, and we are all much happier! Anyway, Thanks, Dennis!

No genealogist is self-centered enough to think that their work is complete or even 100 % accurate. I spent nearly 3 weeks collecting material from the huge files at the library at Salt Lake city. I also used material for as many family histories as I could find of Groton people, (see list at end), and put an ad in the Nexus which brought histories from a number of descendants, so the research is not all mine. I had town histories of Groton, Lunenburg, Townsend, Dunstable, Brookline, NH, Mason, NH, and Harvard, MA. to work from and used the services of the Boston NEGHS library by mail for two years to accumulate my research. Additions and corrections are very welcome!

I have traced over 800 families who descended from Abigail 2 Tarbell Whitney, 300 from Mary 2 Tarbell Sawtell, and about 250 of the families of John 2 Tarbell's descendants as well as nearly 1,000 of the families in the line of Thomas 2 Tarbell. I hope to write a book on each branch of the family of Thomas 1 Tarbell, with the goal of putting them altogether eventually in a giant Tarbell history, so any research you can share would be very welcome. Abigail Bowen Gordon, wife of James 7 Gordon Jr. and a descendant of Griffith 1 Bowen of Wales and Boston, deserves a book of her own, and research has been completed on that.

Chapter One

Introduction to the Tarbell Family

TARBELL is an unusual name, very little known in New England, as the Groton, MA. historian, Caleb Butler, states. Probably all people of that name now are descended from Thomas 1 Tarbell, a Watertown proprietor by 1647. The exact date that the family came to New England, or on what ship, has not been found, though they probably came from England or Wales.

For the first 20 years, Watertown was the most populous of New England towns, with the possible exception of Boston. New settlers came to Watertown, then went out to plant other towns in both CN. and MA. There was a major migration to Weathersfield, CN. in 1635, then Dedham in 1636, Sudbury, in 1637. Nashaway (or Lancaster), Martha's Vineyard, and Groton, MA as well as many other towns, soon followed.

Groton was a frontier town when Thomas Tarbell settled there with his family in 1662. Six generations of our family lived there until Jerusha 6 Tarbell went with her family to Mason, NH and married James 1 Gordon Sr. As we will see, they probably did not move far. Instead, the state moved it's boundaries and engulfed the part of MA. that was near Groton, taking that section into NH when the boundaries were re-assigned.

A petition to the general court of MA. in May of 1655, was the beginning of the new settlement of "Groaten". It was named for Groton, England, the birthplace of Gov. John Winthrop. Groton was situated on the frontiers of the Colony, 14 miles from the nearest settlement. There were only 9 other towns in the county of Middlesex when Groton was founded. After the first families arrived, a complaint of mismanagement by the Proprietors was made. A committee then visited the area and decided that there would be enough land there for 60 families. That was quite an estimate, as many years later, the land held some 10,000 population.

The original name of Groton was "Petapaug", or Peta-pa-wag. From the Lancaster River, the land rises gradually until it reaches the hills of Pepperell and Shirley on the west. On the east side is a somewhat loftier range of hills, the highest called Gibbet Hill. It overlooks the modern town as it did the pioneer settlement. An interesting tale goes with this hill.

" Once upon a time, a Dreadful Pirate was caught in Groton. Some say that he had wandered so far inland in order to hide securely a great pot of doubloons, his share of the proceeds of many a bloody capture on the high seas. Some say he was one of Captain Kidd's men. Anyhow he was caught and apparently with the goods, as there was no doubt about his guilt. So they set up a tall Gibbet upon that high hill, in sight of the town and hung the wretch. But not by his neck. He was Hung-in-chains. There he swung in the wind until he would starve to death. To add to the punishment, a loaf of bread was suspended just over his head and out of reach of his mouth to torment him even further."

Among the first leaders of the town, James Parker, John Lawrence, and William Martin were all related to the Tarbell family. For many years a Thomas Tarbell served as clerk of the town. The size of the original grant was large, including the towns of Groton, Ayer, Pepperell, Shirley, and part of Littleton, Dunstable, Harvard, Westford and also Nashua, NH. The first proprietors owned shares of the land, though not all with equal rights. Some owned 60 acres, some 20, and some 5 acres. There were 51 original proprietors who in 1713 were given 755 acre rights, and another 60 who were given titles to 445 acre lots, and a few who got 236 acre rights, making a total of 135 proprietors with titles by descent or purchase. Each proprietor was given 1 vote for each acre right he held.

Even back then the people were ecology minded. They took measures to provide trees for shade along the highways and there was a 10 shilling fine for cutting a tree without permission. By 1667 there was a mill to grind the settlers corn "every second and every 6th day of the week". Several of the inhabitants were designated to build a common "pound" (pond), for the use of the town in 1665.

Since this was a frontier town, the early threat was of Indian trouble, and Groton certainly had its share. The Indians were troublesome and unreliable neighbors. They had already acquired a taste for strong drink, and sometimes drunken brawls would break out between them and the settlers. By now, quite a few had firearms. Soon the town set up its own military organization with Captain James Parker as their leader, William (and later, John) Lakin as the Lt.'s, along with Nathaniel Lawrence. By the time of King Phillip's War, open hostilities were common on the frontier. Extra men were sent to Groton. The town was assessed over 11 pounds to pay for their upkeep. On March 2, 1675, the Indians began an attack upon Groton, with another on the 9th and a final assault on March 13, in which all the town burned to the ground except for 4 of the 5 garrison houses. These were specially fortified houses where all the citizens could flee and live during times of danger. Major Willard with 70 horse and 40 foot soldiers arrived, but just in time to see the ashes of Groton instead of catching the Indians who had done the job. Even the small meeting house was a heap of ashes.

This was not the only town that suffered this fate. Another was Mendon, where many suffered equal losses. The people were forced to find other lodgings in towns where they had family members. Thomas 1 Tarbell went to Charlestown where one of his married daughters lived. He did not return to Groton, but died of smallpox with one of his sons, in that town. But before long, a number of his family returned to the new settlement which rose out of the ashes. It took about two years before the old town could be rebuilt. The former pastor, Samuel Willard, who had stayed with the settlers for 13 years, never returned. He stayed at Old South church in Boston, and later was chosen as Vice President of Harvard College.

A curious note in the town records of March 28, 1682 showed that the citizens were beginning to realize that Indians and liquor did not mix: " two Indian squaws being apprehended In drinke and with drinke brought to ye select men. One squaw, Nehatchekin's squaw, being drunke was sentenced to receive and did receive to stripes. The other, John Nasquan's Squaw, was sentanced to pay 3 shillings plus cause and loose her two quart bottle and the Liquor in it awarded to Sarg. Laken who seized them."

It was a suspicious kind of peace that the Indians and the settlers had. The military company was still kept up and drilled to show its strength at times. Groton was one of 4 towns chosen to have special troops to serve the surrounding frontier areas, with Casco, Berwick (called Newichewanick), and Haverhill, the others.

The 11 troopers sent to Groton brought with them these supplies: " one thousand weight of bread, one barrell of salt, one barrell of powder, 300 wight of shott, and 300 flints, and 6 quires of paper". It wasn't long until it would be needed. In the summer of 1694 another attack was made on the town. They began the attack at the house of Lt. Lakin in the outskirts of town. Eventually more than 20 were killed and a dozen carried away. Another account says that it was 60 people killed or captured and the town ravaged and pillaged of everything they found so the townspeople fled to the country to seek refuge.

This attack was considerably worse, as far as loss of life, etc. than the one which deserted the town in 1676. The official record was 22 killed and 13 captured. As will be seen, this attack hit the members of our family hard. The Longleys and the Tarbells, both had many family members killed or captured. The next attacks were not until 1704 when the frontier towns were again targets. Even the years before were not without isolated instances of attack and capture which kept the settlers on constant alert.

Groton soldiers continued to be leaders of the military skirmishes, especially in Queen Anne's War and The French and Indian War. In the Revolutionary war, even the women of the town took arms. One account reads:

" After the departure of the minutemen, Mrs. Job Shattuck of Groton, and Mrs. David Wright of Pepperell, and other women of the neighborhood assembled at the bridge over the Nashua, clothed in their husband's apparel and armed with muskets, pitchforks, and any weapon they could find. They were determined that no foe would pass over the bridge. They captured Colonel Whiting of Hollis, a noted Tory, and found treasonable correspondence in his boots."

The record of Groton was a brave one during this war. They furnished 537 men to the battle and paid over 2800 pounds toward the upkeep of the soldiers. Groton was situated on one of the main roads leading from Boston to NH and VT. In one day it was common to see 30 wagons of supplies going through the town. It was also a town where the stagecoach stopped to change horses and drivers in the early 1800's.

The first grant for the plantation of Groton was for 64 square miles, or over 40,000 acres. By 1714, new towns were starting to emerge and cut the size of Groton territory down. First came Littleton, then Townsend and Dunstable were set off in an area called the Groton Gore. By 1741, the line between MA., and NH. took a large piece of the original territory into the state of NH. Other towns followed as late as 1871, cutting the town area down to a much smaller size than the original grant. After the 6th generation of Tarbells were born in Groton, the family began to scatter. One to Pepperell, one to Shirley, several to Cavendish and Chester, VT., and several to Mason, NH, including Thomas 5 Tarbell and his wife, Esther (Smith) Tarbell.

Thomas 1 Tarbell, the ancestor of all early Tarbell families of New England, came from Wales or England, to Watertown, MA. bef. 1647. He and his wife, Mary, sold their land in Watertown, March 30, 1662, and moved their family to Groton, MA. with a group planting a new town there. Mary Tarbell, (maiden name unknown), died at Groton April 29, 1674, age 54 years. Soon after her death, the family left Groton for Charlestown, MA. after Groton was totally destroyed by fire in an Indian attack. There on Aug. 15, 1676, Thomas 1 married Susanna Lawrence, widow of John 3 Lawrence. The marriage was brief, as he died 2 years later of smallpox. Admission of his estate was granted to his son, John, as Thomas 2 Tarbell, oldest son, died of smallpox before his father.

The following children were born to Thomas 1 and Mary Tarbell:

1. THOMAS 2 TARBELL of whom later: b. 1642, d. 1678
2. MARY 2 TARBELL: b. 1644, d. 1676; M. JONATHAN SAWTELL
3. SARAH 2 TARBELL: b. 1648, d. 1715; M. CORNELIUS CHURCH or FRANCES NURSE JR.
4. ABIGAIL 2 TARBELL: b. 1652, d. 1719+; M. JOSHUA WHITNEY
5. JOHN 2 TARBELL: b. 1654, d. 1715; M. MARY NURSE
6. ELIZABETH 2 TARBELL: b. 1656, d. 1684; M. JAMES BENNETT
7. WILLIAM 2 TARBELL: b. 1659, d. 1681+ probably d. in early 20's soldier in King Phillip's War
8. MARTHA 2 TARBELL: b. 1661, d. ; M. THOMAS MITCHELL

Some records add:
9. SUSANNA 2 TARBELL: b. (by 2nd wife); M. ABRAHAM HOLMAN
10. HANNAH 2 TARBELL: b. M. NATHANIEL LAWRENCE

In researching this family, all sources do not agree on the number of children in this family or on the husband of Sarah 2, said by Butler to be Cornelius Church, and by Nurse family Gen. and other sources, to be Frances Nurse Jr. Even the spelling of the Tarbell name is in dispute. Bond's History of Watertown states that the 3 houses and the land which Thomas 1 Tarbell sold at Watertown by 1665 were signed with the name, Thomas Tarbole, so perhaps that is the original spelling. It is not uncommon to find "Tarble" on the old records, too.

An interesting sidelight of this family is the story of John 2 Tarbell, who married Mary 2 Nurse, daughter of Frances 1 Nurse of Salem. This family was involved in the Salem witchcraft trials and are mentioned with frequency in the excellent 2 part volume of "Salem Witchcraft" by Charles W. Upham. John 2 Tarbell did not take kindly to the doings at Salem. For one thing, his mother-in-law, Rebecca 1 Nurse was one of the victims of the whole affair. The Nurse family was an industrious and prosperous bunch and seemed to make some enemies among the less fortunate of the town. They were also a small community in themselves, with the sons and son-in-laws all prospering and farming together.

Rebecca Nurse was one of the women accused by the young girls who star- ted the whole witchcraft idea under the guidance, apparently, of a West Indian servant who told them stories of voodoo and witchcraft and encouraged their imaginations. As a result of the persecutions, in which Rebecca Nurse, with several others, was hung as a witch in 1692, John 2 Tarbell and a number of others, including his family, withdrew from the Salem Village church. This began a crusade of the people against the pastor, Rev. Samuel Parris, which resulted in his being dismissed from the church. Here are a few extracts from the church records:

"4 Nov. 1694: After sermon in the afternoon, it was propounded to the brethren, whether the church ought to inquire again of the brethren about their reason for dissent, and voted on that Brother John Tarbell give his reasons in public the next Lord's Day. 11 Nov.: Before the evening blessing was pronounced, Brother Tarbell was openly called again and again, but he not appearing; it was found that he would be willing to talk to the church some weekday, but was asked to appear the following Sunday. 18 Nov. John Tarbell appeared in church and when asked his offense in not attending the services, replied `the pastor', when asked if there were any other reason, he said no, that the problem was between him and the pastor." 26 Nov. Brother Tarbell, along with several other men, Samuel Nurse, and Thomas Wilkins, gave their reasons for withdrawing from the church:

" The reason why we withdraw from communion with the church of Salem Village, both as to hearing the word preached, and from partaking with them at the Lord's table are as followeth: 1. Whye we attend not on public prayer and preaching the work, these are:1. The distracting and disturbing tumults and noises made by the persons under diabolical power and delusions, preventing sometimes our hearing and understanding and profiting of the word preached; we having, after many trials and experiences found no redress in this case, accounted ourselves under a necessity to go where we might hear the word in quiet. 2. The apprehensions of danger of ourselves being accused as the Devil's instruments to molest and afflict the persons complaining, we seeing those whom we had reason to esteem better than ourselves,thus accused, blemished, and of their lives bereaved, forseeing this evil, thought it our prudence to withdraw."

"3. We found so frequent and positive preaching up some principles and practices by Mr. Parris, referring to the dark and dismal mysteries of iniquity working amongst us, as was not profitable, but offensive. 4. Neither could we, in conscience, join with Mr. Parris in many of the requests which he made in prayer, referring to the trouble then among us and upon us; therefore thought it our most safe and peaceable way to withdraw."

" The reasons why we hold not communion with them at the Lord's table are, first we esteem ourselves justly aggrieved and offended with the officer who doth administer, for the reasons following: 1. From his declared and published principles, referring to our molestations from this invisible work, differing from the opinion of the generality of the Orthodox ministers of the whole country. 2. His easy and strong faith and belief of the affirmations and accusations made by those they call the afflicted. 3. His laying aside that grace which, above all, we are required to put on; namely charity toward his neighbors, and especially towards those of his church, when there is no apparent reason for the contrary. 4. His approving and practising unwarrantable and ungrounded methods for discovering what he was desirous to know referring to the bewitched or possessed persons, as in bringing some to others, and by and from them pretending to inform himself and others who were the Devil's instruments to afflict the sick and pained."

"5. His unsafe and unaccountable oath, given by him against sundry of the accused 6. His not rendering to the world so far, if true, and account of what he wrote on examination of the afflicted. 7. Sundry unsafe, if sound, points of doctrine delivered in his preaching, which we esteem not warrantable if Christian. 8. His persisting in these principles, and justifying his practises, not rendering any satisfaction to us when regularly desired, but rather further offending and dissatisfying ourselves." Signed John Tarbell, Tho. Wilkins, and Sam. Nurse.

For a full account of the Witch events at Salem Village (now Danvers), the Upham book is really unmatched. It provides a good account, with thousands of documents and details, maps of who lived where, articles about each of the people involved, etc.
It is interesting to me that one of my relatives was defending those who were hung against an unjust pastor, and that one of my husband's family was also involved on the other side: John Thorndike's daughter was married to John Proctor, who was hung as a witch at the same time as Rebecca Nurse. My husband is a descendant of John Thorndike, and many others at Salem and Beverly, MA.

Thomas 2 Tarbell and his brother John 2 were the only ones to carry on the Tarbell name, since the others in the family were girls, except for William 2, a soldier in King Phillip's War, who disappears from records soon after that. Thomas 2 Tarbell, was an original proprietor of Groton. He married on June 30, 1666, Hannah or 2 Anna Longley, daughter of William 1 Longley and Joanna 1 Goffe. After the destruction of the town by King Phillip's War, he and his family went to Charlestown, where they lived with the family of Samuel Leman (Lemant), whose wife was a sister of Hannah 2 Longley, Thomas 2's wife. Hannah was admitted to the church in Charlestown. It was there that Thomas 2 died of small pox on Apr. 27, 1678. His father died about 6 weeks later of the same disease.

Hannah did not long survive him, dying at Groton on Dec. 29, 1680, a month after her father. Perhaps it was of a broken heart, losing her father, husband, and father-in-law in just 2 years. There were 4 children born to this young couple:

1. THOMAS 3 TARBELL: b. 1667, d. 1715; of whom further
2. ANNA 3 TARBELL: b. 1670, d. 1732; M. JOHN LAWRENCE
3. WILLIAM 3 TARBELL: b. 1672, d. 1693
4. MARY 3 TARBELL: b. 1675, d. 17--; M. JAMES SMITH in Salem

The third Thomas Tarbell, was born at Groton on July 6, 1667. He married Dec. 1, 1686, Elizabeth 2 Wood, daughter of Samuel and Alice (Rushton) Woods. Bond's History of Watertown has him marrying

Elizabeth Blood, who was born about the same time as Elizabeth Wood. The Blood Memorial (in Shattuck Memorial, 1855, by Lemuel Shattuck) also says Elizabeth 2 Blood was the wife of Thomas 2 Tarbell. But the Gen. of the Woods family of Groton, MA. and the Tarbell history in the Gen. Register both say she was Elizabeth Wood as do town records.

Thomas 3 Tarbell was town clerk in 1704-1705. He was chosen Deacon of the Church in 1715, but died at Lexington, Oct. 8, 1715, at the home of his sister, Anna, and is buried in that town. His widow, Elizabeth, died before March 11, 1717, shown by papers of the estate. There were 10 children in this family. They shared a rather unique experience, since 3 of them were captured in the first raid on Groton.

The story is this: Three children of Thomas 3 Tarbell, who lived on what is now know as Farmer's Row, a short distance south of the Lawrence farm, were carried off by the Indians on June 20, 1707. Their names were Sarah, John, and Zachariah. They were picking cherries early one evening, so tradition relates, and were taken before they had time to get down from the tree. They were carried to Canada, where it would seem they were treated kindly, as no inducement was strong enough afterwards to make them return. The girl was sold to the French and placed in a convent near Montreal. The boys remained with their captors at Caughnawaga, an Indian village near Montreal, married Indian women and became chiefs of their tribes.

One of them visited his relatives in Groton, dressed in his Indian dress, and showed no inclination to stay. They later moved with their families up the St. Lawrence River and established the little village of St. Regis. The descendants of these two boys were among the prominent members of the town in the late 1800's. People of the tribe still bear the name of Tarbell. Sarah was baptized July 23, 1708, as Sister Marguerite of the sisters of the congregation of Notre Dame, established at Lachine.

Another source for the story is in the Town Records of Groton, MA. by Samuel Green (written in 1879). He puts it this way: "Another spot well deserving to be marked with a memorial stone, is the place from which Sarah, John, and Zechariah Tarbell were carried off by the Indians, on June 20, 1707. They were the children of Thomas and Elizabeth (Woods), Tarbell, who had a large family, and lived on Farmer's Row, near Mr. James Lawrence's house. Sarah was a girl thirteen years of age, John a lad of eleven, and Zechariah only seven at the time when they were taken by the savages. (He then goes on to repeat the same story given above, but continues), " Thomas Tarbell, the father of these children, made his will Sept. 26, 1715, which was admitted to probate 6 weeks later. After making certain bequests to different members of the family he says all the rest and residue of my Reall Estate I give to be Equally divided between my three children, John, Zachery, and Sarah Tarbell, upon their return from Captivity, or In Proportion unto any of them that shall return and the rest, or the parts belonging to them that do not return, shall be equally divided among the rest of my children'".

In 1739 the fate of the Tarbell children was brought before the Council and the House of Representatives in Boston, MA. At this time Governor Belcher made a speech in which he said: " There are lately come from Canada some Persons that were taken by the Indians from Groton above 30 years ago, who it is believed may be induced to return into this Province, on your giving them some proper encouragement: If this matter might be effected, I should think it would be not only an Act of Compassion in order to release them from the Errors and Delusions of this Romish Faith; but their living among us, might in Time to come, be of great Advantage to the Province."

Nothing was resolved at this time, but about 40 years after their capture, Gov. Hutchinson met them in the State of New York and in his "History of the Province of Mass. Bay" , refers to them thus: " I saw at Albany two or three men, in the year 1744, who came in with the Indians to trade, and who had been taken at Groton in this, that is called Queen Ann's war. One of them, a Tarbell, was said to be one of the wealthier of the Cagnawaga tribe. He made a visit in his Indian dress and with his Indian complexion (for by means of grease and paints, but little difference could be discerned), to his relations in Groton, but had no inclination to remain there."

Many interesting facts about these Tarbell brothers are found in Dr. Franklin B. Hough's History of St. Lawrence and Franklin Co. New York. St. Regis is pleasantly situated on the right bank of the St. Lawrence River, the boundary line of New York and Canada. In former years the St. Regis Indians had certain rights in a land reservation in the State of New York, and more than once treaties were made among the tribes with the state of New York. A treaty signed on Feb. 20, 1818, in behalf of the Indians, by Loran and Thomas Tarbell, and two other chiefs, and trustees of the tribe, including Peter Tarbell, Thomas Tarbell, Mitchell Tarbell, Louis Tarbell, and Battice Tarbell. Dr. Hough writes:" A half-breed Indian, who usually was known as Peter the Big Speak, was the son of Lesor Tarbell, one of the lads who had been stolen away from Groton by the Indians, and who subsequently became one of the first settlers who preceded the founding of St. Regis. He was a man of much address and ability as a speaker, and was selected as mouthpiece of the tribe on the more important occasions that presented themselves."

A number of trips were made to Canada to try to induce the Tarbells to come home. Once in 1772, some of the descendants were brought back and sent to school at Hanover, New Hampshire, including a Tarbell boy. A Frenchman, of the name of Fovel, went to Canada in 1826 and induced one of the Tarbells, whose Indian name was Joseph Torakaron, to go to Europe with him. They traveled through Europe with Fovel acting as interpreter and agent and Joseph as big chief and even got an audience with King Charles X, and the Pope, who gave them some books and a plate for the church.

In the summer of 1877, Samuel Green went to St. Regis and met a grandson of the Tarbell boys. He was over 80 and could speak only with an interpreter. He was aware that his grandfather had been captured from a town near Boston when he was a boy, and that he had relatives living there. He was a man of ordinary size, with sunburnt face and grey hair, with little appearance of Indian blood. He lived with one of his sons in a clapboard house, the best in the village. The Tarbells were among the most prominent men of the village in that time and about 40 bore that name. The inhabitants keep the English name of their forbearers, and had Indian names as well.

The children of Thomas 3 and Elizabeth Woods were:

1. THOMAS 4 TARBELL of whom further: b. 1687, d. 1757
2. WILLIAM 4 TARBELL: b. 1689, d. 1757; M. MARY FARNSWORTH
3. ELIZABETH 4 TARBELL: b. 1691, d. 1763; M. JOSEPH WILLARD

7. ZACHARIAH 4 TARBELL: b. 1699, d. in Canada; left family
8. ANNA 4 TARBELL: b. 1702, d. 1753; M. ELEAZER GREEN Jr.
9. JAMES 4 TARBELL: b. 1704, d. 1729; NM
10. ELEAZER 4 TARBELL: b. 1707, d. 1756; M. ELIZABETH BOWERS

Thomas 4 Tarbell was born Sept. 15, 1687, at Groton, MA. He married Abigail 3 Parker, daughter of Samuel and Abigail (Lakin) Parker, on Jan. 1, 1716. He served a number of years as town clerk, and was also a Capt. of the militia. For some reason, Caleb Butler, historian of Groton, MA., gives him a first wife called Hannah, by whom he is supposed to have had 3 girls. These children were supposedly born 1702, 1704, and 1707. This would have meant that Thomas 4 Tarbell was a father for the first time at age 15. This is discredited by Wight, the author of the "Descendants of Thomas Tarbell" in the NEHGR, who point out that neither this wife or these children are mentioned in the wills of either father or grandfather. This show that sometimes common sense is important in sifting out the facts presented, especially when they contradict themselves.

Thomas 4 Tarbell and Abigail had the following children:

1. THOMAS 5 TARBELL of whom further: b. 1719, d. 1796
2. ABIGAIL 5 TARBELL: b. 1722, d. 1798; M. as sec. wife, JOSEPH FAIRBANKS of Harvard
3. SARAH 5 TARBELL: b. 1726, d. 17--; M. OLIVER FARNSWORTH
4. JONATHAN 5 TARBELL: b. 1727, d. 1788: M. LYDIA FARNSWORTH
5. EUNICE 5 TARBELL: b. 1730, d. 1751
6. DAVID 5 TARBELL: b. 1732, d. 1826; M. (1) BATHSHEBA WOODS (2)

ESTHER KEMP
7. EMMA 5 TARBELL: b. 1734, d. 1751
8. SOLOMON 5 TARBELL: b. 1737, d. 1790+; NM.
9. ESTHER 5 TARBELL: b. 1739, d. ; M. JOHN HOUGHTON of Harvard

Thomas 4 Tarbell died at Groton, May 30, 1757, leaving a will dated May 4th of that year. His wife was still living then, and the date of her death is not known.

Thomas 5 Tarbell was born Feb. 2, 1717 at Groton, MA. He was the 5th Thomas in a row in my family tree, which would be a bit unusual today, but was fairly common then. He married Esther 4 Smith, daughter of Nathaniel Smith, on Jan. 19, 1741. About 1754 they removed to Mason, NH which was taken from the original area of Groton when the state boundaries of New Hampshire were set, annexing part of the Groton Gore.

Thomas 5 Tarbell is mentioned in Hill's history of Mason, NH., as being there as early as 1749 when he was on the committee to set the lots for the new township. Mason, NH came about out of the settlement of the boundary dispute involving the grant of land given first by the Plymouth colony to Capt. John Mason in 1621. There was a settlement begun in the area very early, which failed after a disastrous fire and some bad management of the estate of John Mason who died about 1635. Over 100 years later, the heirs of the estate were still in dispute about the land, which caused the State of MA and NH to reassess where the boundary line belonged. The area in question was part of the "Groton Gore".

The original grant of the Township of Groton in 1655 was "equal to 8 miles square." Part of this was annexed to Nashobah and given the name of Littleton in 1715. In 1734 people at Groton petitioned the General Court for some of the unappropriated land of the Province in return for the annexed farms and land taken away by the Littleton settlement. A grant of 10,800 acres was given in a gore between Townsend and Dunstable. In 1741 when the Province line between MA. and NH. was run, a large part of this territory was in the part given NH. This included part of the Townsend, MA. area, which now became Mason, NH.

A copy of the grant is as follows: " Pursuant to the power and authority, granted and vested in me by the Proprietors of lands purchased of John Tufton Mason, Esq. in the Province of New Hampshire, by their vote passed at the meeting held at Portsmouth, in said Province, the 16th day of June, 1749, I do by these presents, give and grant, all the title and interest, property and possession of the proprietors aforesaid, unto William Lawrence, Esq., Peter Powers, Eleazar Blanchard, John Goffe, Esq., David Adams, Paul March, Philip Olerick, Eleazer Farwell, John Stevens, Nathaniel Meserve, Jr., Peter Powers Jr., Joseph Blodgett, John Butterfield, Jonathan Powers, Jr., Zacceus Lovewell, Jonathan Hubbard, John Varnum, Josiah Brown, John Jennison, Joseph Blanchard Jr., Elnathan Blood, Mr. Thomas Packard, Jonathan Hubbard, Amasa Parker, Jacob

Gould, Benjamin Parker, David Stearns, THOMAS TARBELL, SAMUEL TARBELL, Shadrack Whitney, Edward Jewett, all of their heirs of in and to all that part of a township or tract of land in the Province of New Hampshire aforesaid, containing about the contents of 77 square miles, bounded as follows:" Beginning at a stake and stones the SE corner of the Premises, and runs from thence, N. 80 degrees W., 5 miles and 20 rods by the Province line to New Ipswich corner, from thence N. by the needle, 5 miles to a hemlock tree marked, from thence S. by the needle, to the first bounds mentioned, which said township is laid out, drawn for, and lots ascertained for each grantee respectively, with 2 lots for encouraging of building of mills, etc. and 3 shares for public uses, Viz. one for the first settled minister, one for the ministry, and one for the schools, there forever, which said shares and lots to be the same as already drawn and entered in the schedule and plan here unto annexed, unto them respectively and their heirs and assigns."

The grant continues to set out the terms for the founding of the new area, including the fact that each land owner would have "3 acres cleared, enclosed, and fitted for mowing or tillage, so far as is profitable, at or before the last day of Nov. 1751, and each of the said lots to be cleared as aforesaid, to be settled with having a house of 16 feet square, at least, and 7 feet stud or more, with a chimney and cellar, finished and fitted for a dwelling house, thereon at or before the last day of May, 1752, and some person or family inhabiting and resident in said house,...by the last day of May, 1755."

The first child born in Mason seems to be Joseph Herrick, born Sept. 30, 1751. Some of the new settlers had the births recorded at near by towns, such as Enosh Lawrence, whose 9 children are recorded at Pepperell. Not all the original proprietors lived in the town. Capt. Samuel Tarbell and Capt. Thomas 5 Tarbell seem to have been active in the direction of the town from 1749 on, when they both held offices on town committees. When there was a vote in 1751 to build a meeting house, Capt. Thomas Tarbell was on the committee. The new meeting house was to be "30 feet in length, 24 or 26 feet in width, as the committee chosen for the service shall think fit, and 16 feet between the joints."

Record of the deaths in the new towns show the following dates to be of interest: " Thomas 7, son of Thomas 6 and Sarah Barrett Tarbell, died at 3 years and 5 months of age on Feb. 8, 1785; Esther, w. of Capt. Thomas 5 Tarbell, died Jan. 26, 1796; Nathaniel Smith, age 81 years, died on Dec. 18, 1802, Jonathan Smith, near Townsend, Mass. died Jan. 26, 1816, age 90 years." In the list of Soldiers from Mason, is Thomas 6 Tarbell, who served in Capt. Mann's Company at Bunker Hill. Nathaniel Smith, Esther's brother, is mentioned as serving in 1777 with Col. Nichol's Regiment.

Captain Thomas 5 Tarbell is listed as the town clerk of Mason for the years 1762-1773. He served as Moderator in 1769, selectman in 1769 and again in 1779. For other activities see the History of Mason, NH by John B. Hill, published 1858. This was the final Thomas Tarbell in this line to live in Groton, because the address of Thomas 6 Tarbell, born Oct. 8, 1751, died Jan. 10, 1827, was Mason, NH. He married Sarah Barrett and raised a family there.

The children of Thomas 5 Tarbell and Esther Smith Tarbell were:

1. SARAH 6 TARBELL: b. 1742, d. 1789; M. LEMUEL SPAULDING
2. NATHANIEL 6 TARBELL: b. 1744, d. 1831; M. RUTH ELLIOT.
3. EDMUND 6 TARBELL: b. 1747, d. 1800; M. MARY HILDRETH and maybe, BEULAH HILDRETH.
4. JOHN 6 TARBELL: b. 1749, d. 1797; M. SARAH ELLIOT
5. THOMAS 6 TARBELL: b. 1751, d. 1827; M. SARAH BARRETT
6. JERUSHA 6 TARBELL * of whom further; b. 1753, d. 1834
7. WHITCOMB 6 TARBELL: b. 1758, d. ; M. RUTH DODGE
8. SAMUEL 6 TARBELL: b. 1759, d. 1824: M. (1) ANNA ( ). (2) RHODA HEALD ATHERTON
9. EDWARD 6 TARBELL: b. 1762, d. 18--; M. RACHEL HILDRETH

Of the sons of this family, Edmund, Thomas, and Edward were all in the Rev. War, as well as some of the son-in-laws. It is probable that this is how Jerusha 6 met James 1 Gordon, as it seems likely one of the brothers was a friend of his during the war.

Jerusha 6 Tarbell was born Sept. 25, 1753 at Groton, MA. She married James 1 Gordon, Sr., a Scotsman, at Mason, NH in 1778. They lived at Mason, NH., Cavendish, VT, and Rushford, NY, where she died March 8, 1834. She was the mother of 8 children, 7 sons and one daughter, of whom 6 grew to adulthood and left descendants. She had a strong religious faith and helped to found the Baptist church in Rushford. One of her descendants still lives on the Gordon farm at Rushford today, as the Gordons have for the past 180 years. See the Gordon history for more about this family.

TARBELL:* Susanna Lawrence, second wife of Thomas 1 Tarbell

Thomas 1 Tarbell married as his second wife, Susanna Lawrence, widow of John 3 Lawrence. But which John Lawrence? There were 3 John Lawrences in the same period of time at Watertown, Charleston and Groton. To complicate the matter, two John Lawrences were about the same age, and two John Lawrences supposedly had wives named Susanna while the other had a wife, named Sarah. By conflicting accounts, two had daughters Abigail and Susanna.

To unscramble the John Lawrences is a researcher's nightmare, less complicated perhaps by the fact that this is not a bloodline family in our family tree. It presents a good example of the conflicting materials one has to wade through and make judgements by. To sort out the material, we begin with the first John Lawrence in Bond's history of Watertown, whom we will call John 1. His son is called John 2A, and the third John will be John 2B.

The pedigree of Lawrence as given in Bond's History of Watertown, MA. states that Henry Lawrence of Wisset was 17th generation from Sir Robert Lawrence, born 1150, Knight of Ashton Hall. This has been discredited (see Moriarity in TAG, Oct. 1933, TAG, July 1942). There are other discrepancies in Lawrence material pointed out in the preceding articles, especially on the family of Nathaniel Lawrence.

John 1 Lawrence of Watertown, MA. married Elizabeth Kettleborough in Falkenham Magna, Suffolk, England on Oct. 12, 1630. John 2A Lawrence, born March 14, 1635/6 at Watertown, MA was John 1's oldest child. Wyman's History of Charlestown and also Cutter's material say that this John 2 married Sept. 30, 1657, Sarah 2 Buckmaster, daughter of Thomas and Joanna Buckmaster, and lived at Muddy River (Brookline), then Wrentham where he died March 25, 1684.

John 1 Lawrence's wife, Elizabeth, died at Groton Aug. 29, 1663, mother of 12. He then supposedly married Susanna 2 Bachelder at Charlestown on Nov. 2, 1664. They apparently had two children, Abigail and Susanna, the last being born a week after her father died. This widow Susanna Lawrence died July 8, 1668 leaving a will, proved Dec. 16, 1668, (according to Savage's Gen. Dict.), mentioning her father and mother and two daughters she had by John Lawrence. John 1 Lawrence's will does not mention these girls, but then he does not mention John 2 or his brother Peleg 2.

The issue is further confounded in Butler's HISTORY OF GROTON, when on page 274, John Lawrence Sr. is said to have married "a widow, Mary Batchelder of Boston." Yet in the appendix where the family of John Sr. is listed, Butler calls her "Susanna Batcheler", married Nov. 2, 1664 at Charlestown. It seems likely this is where the confusion comes from, as the records in Bond are mainly taken from Butler.

If he did indeed marry Susanna 2 Batchellor which many sources state, he was 33 years older than her, and father of children who were her age. She was only 22 when she married a John Lawrence. They are said to have had two children, Abigail, born Jan. 9, 1665/6 at Groton, and Susanna, born July 3, 1667, eight days after

John 1 Lawrence died.

Now we come to John 2B. Wyman in his CHARLESTOWN GENEALOGIES AND ESTATES, says this about John 2B Lawrence: He was a son of Henry 1 and his wife, Christian Lawrence, a mariner, age 35 in 1655 (b. 1620), and he married Susanna before 1642, who married next, Thomas Tarbell. He lists the children as: Susanna (married Robert Wallis), Mary (b. 1642, married Inego Potter), Sarah, Hannah (married James Capen in 1682), Abigail (married (1) Edward Wyer (2) Nathaniel Lawrence Jr.,(3) Edward Clifford), David, William (?), and John 3, b. 1668.

John 2B Lawrence, according to Bond in his book on Watertown families, married Susanna ( ) about 1657 and lived in Charlestown where several children are recorded, including: Hannah (married James Capen), Abigail (married Edward Wyer and next, Nathaniel Lawrence Jr.), Sarah, David (married Sarah Whittemore), and John 3 Lawrence (died unmarried). He is said to have died before 1670, when his estate was inventoried by John Pentecost and John Burrage. His widow, Susanna, married at Charlestown Aug. 15, 1676, Thomas 1 Tarbell, whose wife, Mary had died in 1674. Susanna Lawrence Tarbell died Jan. 5, 1691, at Charlestown, MA.

Bond also gives a wife Susanna, to John 1 of Groton, whose first wife was Elizabeth Kettleborough, and calls her the daughter of William Batchellor or Batchelder and the mother of Abigail and Susanna, born 1666 and 1667. This is true also of the Lawrence family history, who gives John 2 a wife Susanna and children Hannah, Abigail, Sarah, David and John (making him the John who was a mariner, and saying he died without family. The family history says nothing about the John 2 who married Sarah Buckmaster.

By now, maybe you are as confused as I am about all this material. It gets repeated enough in family genealogies, other histories, and even Savage, in his GENEALOGICAL DIRECTORY OF THE FIRST SETTLERS OF NEW ENGLAND, that it seems to become a sure thing. But I am more confused than ever. It would seem more logical to me that Susanna, wife of John Lawrence, was probably the wife of John 2B who had daughters Abigail and Susanna, and perhaps the daughter, Susanna, of William Batcheler, born 1642, who married a John Lawrence in 1664 at Charlestown, MA.

Without seeing the original material each of these men used to come to their conclusions, however, it is not possible to make a definitive resolution of this problem or to reconcile the differing versions. Anything more would be a guess. So you figure out which Susanna married John Lawrence then Thomas Tarbell as his second wife. Good luck!

TARBELL:THE LONGLEY FAMILY

I. JOHN LONGLEY of Firsby, (Lincoln), England (died 1639)
1. WILLIAM 1 LONGLEY (1614-1680) of England, Lynn, and Groton, Mass. M. JOANNA 1 GOFFE who M. next, BENJAMIN CRISPE
2. HANNAH 2 LONGLEY (1642 -1680) of Groton, Mass. M. THOMAS 2 TARBELL

John Longley of Firsby, England, clerk of Lincoln county was the father of William 1 Longley, proved by the estate he left when he died in England in 1639. In 1639 William 1 Longley sent a letter to Thomas Meeke, of Waynflete, St. Mary, to act as his agent to sell lands he had inherited from his father, John Longley of Firsby. Other sons listed were Richard Longley, and Jonathan Longley, both of Lynn, MA. William 1 Longley, was born about 1614 at Firsby, England, and died at Groton, MA. in 1680. He was at Lynn, MA. by 1638, then Groton, MA by 1663 where he bought land, a house and orchards. William 1 Longley, married Joanna Goffe, b. about 1619, who d. at Charlestown, MA, Apr. 18, 1698.

According to the Longley Genealogy, the Village of Firsby is about 4 miles northwest of Wainfleet St. Mary in Lincolnshire, England. Not far away is Somersby, where the poet Tennyson was born, and by Firsby runs the little river Steeping, the original brook of the poem "Brook". Upon its grassy banks the first William 1 Longley, probably played 300 years ago, says the writer of Longley family history, Robert Dalton Longley of Lynn, MA.

William 1 was one of the grantees of Lynn, where he was a proprietor by 1638, and was admitted freeman (under name of Langley) on March 14, 1639. He held various offices at Lynn, including selectman, clerk of writs, magistrate, etc. He appears to have been interested in law suits, and in the court of Lynn are found a number of claims for land against various neighbors of William 1 Longley.

In 1662, he prosecuted the town of Lynn for not laying out to him 40 acres of land, accorded him in the division of lands in 1638, because the clerk had written his name as Richard instead of William. Eventually he was given 40 pounds or 40 acres (his choice). When in 1663, John Hathorne (Hawthorne) complained to the church at Lynn that Andrew Mansfield and William Longley had given false testimony in a recent land case, he took them to court and Hathorne was found guilty of slander and sentenced to pay 10 pounds fine, and make a public apology, or pay 20 pounds and costs.

In 1663, William 1 prosecuted Thomas Newhall for committing assault and battery on his wife when she assisted in running a land line with her husband. Maybe this is one reason the family moved to Groton in 1663. He bought the house, orchard, and lands of Thomas Browne at Groton for 80 pounds sterling, and sold to the same person, for 125 pounds sterling, the house and lands in Lynn which William 1 and his wife had owned.

Thus William 1 Longley, along with Richard Blood and Capt. James Parker, became the largest original proprietors of Groton and the surrounding lands. Large tracts of the native forests were eventually divided into farms and held by his descendants. Some of his land was in the portion of the Groton land which became Shirley, MA. John 2 Longley was also an original proprietor of Groton.

The children of William and Joanna Longley were:

1. JOHN 2 LONGLEY: b. , d. 1689+ ; M. HANNAH ( ).
2. HANNAH or ANNA 2: b. 1642, d. 1680; of whom later
3. MARY 2 LONGLEY, b. 1647, d. 1710+; M. SAMUEL LEMAN (LEMANT)
4. ELIZABETH 2 LONGLEY: b. 1649, d. 1678; M. JAMES BLOOD who next M. ABIGAIL KEMP
5. WILLIAM 2 LONGLEY JR.: b. d. 1694; M. (1) LYDIA ( ) (2) DELIVERANCE CRISPE
6. LYDIA 2 LONGLEY: b. 16 d. 1710+; M. JAMES NUTTING.
7. SARAH 2 LONGLEY: b. 1660, d. 1695; M. (1) THOMAS RAND and after he drowned, (2) BENJAMIN WATTS

William 1 Longley first appears in the town records of Groton in June 1663, when he with Capt. James Parker, and others voted not to let Rev. Samuel Willard have use of the house and lands devoted by the town to the purposes of the ministry. Many incidents in the history of Groton show that William 1 was not in agreement with the customs of the clergy in that day. Ministers in that day were given hefty salaries to induce them to come to the frontier towns. It was the custom to have a pastor and a meeting house as soon as possible after the new town was formed.

Though they were sometimes paid in produce, and like kinds of goods, some of them had written into their contracts of employment, that if the pay was for goods instead of silver, they would get twice as much as was due them. They were, however, taxed along with the townspeople on the salaries they made.
William 1 Longley was a selectman of Groton in 1665 and town clerk in the next two years. When Groton was destroyed by Indians in the spring of 1676 and the townspeople were forced out, he and his family went to Charlestown for a year or two where they had a grant of land. He returned to Groton and rebuilt his house there, however. He died Nov. 29, 1680. His widow married about 1683, Benjamin Crispe, and survived him to die at Charlestown, probably at the home of one of her children, April 18, 1698, age 79. A number of her family, as well as she, are buried in the old Phipps Burial ground at Charlestown. In her will she remembers the three grandchildren who had been carried off by Indians in 1694.

"Item: I give and bequeath unto my 3 children ye are in captivity, if they return, Vizdt, three books, one of em a bible, another a sermon book, treating of faith, and the other a psalm book".

William 2 Longley, the older brother of Hannah 2 Longley, who married Thomas 2 Tarbell, married first Lydia, and then Deliverance Crispe, the daughter of Benjamin 1 Crispe, his stepfather. He had 8 children, whose fate was not so different from the family of Thomas 3 Tarbell's. William 2 was the town clerk of Groton, when on July 27, 1694, the Indians came to Groton and killed him, his wife and 5 of their children. The other 3, Betty, Lydia, and John were taken captive by the Indians. Betty died of starvation, Lydia was sold to the French in Canada and taken to the same convent that the Tarbell girl was taken to later. She also became a nun.

Samuel Green put it this way: "On Tuesday, April 24, 1696, the ceremony of baptism was performed on the English girl named Lydia Longley, who was born April 14, 1674 at Groton, a few miles from Boston in New England. She was the daughter of William 2 Longley and Deliverance 2 Crispe, both Protestants. She was captured in the month of July, 1694, by the Abenzqui Indians, and has lived for the past month in the house of the Sisters of the Congregation de Notre Dame. The godfather was M. Jacques Leber, merchant; the godmother was Madame Marie Madeleine Dupont, wife of M. de Maricort, Ecuyer, Captain of a company of Marines; she names this English girl Lydia Madeleine."

Sister Madelaine died at the house of the Sisters of the Congregation de Notre Dame, July 20, 1758 at the age of 84 years. Her remains and those of Sister Marguerite (who was her relative, Sarah Tarbell, of Groton) lie buried in the little cemetery connected with the convent.

From the "History of Shirley, Mass" by Chandler, this story is told: "The Indians, having lurked about the premises undiscovered the day previous to the slaughter, watching a favorable opportunity to effect their purpose, early in the morning of the fatal day turned the cattle out of the barnyard into a cornfield, and lay in ambush. This trick had the desired effect to draw out some of the family, probably Mr. Longley and his sons, unarmed, to drive the cattle from the corn. The Indians then rose upon them and killed or captured the whole family. It is said, however, that Jemima, a daughter of Mr. Longley, whom they had tomahawked and scalped was found alive, sitting upon a rock, and that she survived many years, married and had children."

"A milder fate awaited the third captive, John, who was about 12 years of age when his family was massacred and himself made prisoner by the Indians. It is said that after proceeding some way with his captors from the scene of their devastation, when the company came to a halt, he told them that his father's sheep were shut up in the barn and would starve unless they would permit him to go back and let them out, and that having done this he would return at once to them. They consented, and he fulfilled his promise. Instead of lamenting his change of condition the lad entered into the pursuits of his new state with a relish, and during the 5 years of his wild life that followed hoped that he might never be removed from his savage to his former civilized position. Accordingly, when he was ransomed by the government, he was so reluctant to leave his new and cherished pursuits,that force had to be added to persuasion to bring the young captive from barbarism to civilization."

Accordingly, when he

Apparently John remained with them for over 4 years and was known as John Augary. He nearly starved, but found it hard to return to civilization when he was ransomed in 1700, about 5 years after the capture. He later become a deacon of the church and leading citizen of Groton. He married Sarah Prescott then Deborah Houghton, and had 12 children by these two wives and died May 25, 1750. A memorial at Groton has the names of about 25 killed by the Indians from 1675 to 1724, as well as two wounded, and about 20 who were taken prisoner. A memorial to the Longley family is on East Pepperell Road.

Hannah 2, or Anna Longley, sister of the above, was born about 1642 at Lynn, MA. She married Thomas 2 Tarbell on June 30, 1666 and had 4 children before her husband died of smallpox about 10 years later. She died at Groton on Dec. 29, 1680, at about 38 years of age.

LONGLEY: THE GOFFE CONNECTION

Joanna Goffe Longley was a sister of Thomas Goffe, a merchant and ship owner of London and a member of the group which "floated" the Pilgrims in the Mayflower on the 1620 voyage and on her later trips in 1629 and 1630. Thomas 1 Goffe was also the first Deputy-Governor of the Massachusetts company. He died on a voyage to New England, leaving only a daughter who died soon after. He lost heavily on his investments with the Pilgrims.

The government of MA. granted land of 1,000 acres as a settlement for the services of Thomas Goffe to Robert Rand, whose father married a daughter of William 1 and Joanna Goffe. The reason for this settlement was yet another lawsuit, this time by the heirs of Joanna Goffe Longley. Thomas Goffe, left only a daughter, Sarah, who died shortly after her father and with no family. It was then that the estate of Thomas 1, which had gone to Sarah 2, was to be given to her next of kin, her aunt, Joanna Goffe Longley Crispe. In 1739, one of the heirs of this family brought suit for a 1/26 share of the estate (by then there were 26 people of the Longley family claiming heirship). It was finally settled when the 4th generation got the settlement in later years.

The venture of the Mayflower as a commercial deal by Thomas Goffe and his company, was the usual way that the first voyages came about. English merchants sought to establish settlements for profit in New England. To do this, the Pilgrims who thought they were headed for the new settlements already set up in Virginia, were not told until just about arrival, that their ship was actually headed for totally desolate New England. The religious aspect of the ventures came into play later, when the Puritans tried to set up a purely religious state of ecclesiastical despotism in New England.

Perhaps Joanna Goffe's family could be traced in England through a better knowledge of Thomas 1 Goffe. There were others by that name who came early to New England, including Samuel Goffe of Woburn, but no direct connection has been made to Joanna Goffe.

LONGLEY: Benjamin Crispe, second husband of Joanna Goffe Longley*

Benjamin 1 Crispe was born about 1606-1611, probably in England. He was a mason, listed at Watertown as a proprietor from 1636. He was later at Groton. His first wife's name was Bridget. His children were: Elizabeth 2 Crispe, (married George Lawrence), Mary 2 Crispe, (married William Green), Jonathan 2 (some say Deliverance was his wife, not his sister, but there is no evidence for that), Eleazer 2 Crispe, (had a wife, Elizabeth), Mehitable 2 Crispe, Zachariah 2 Crispe, Mercy 2 Crispe, (married Robert Parish or Parris), and Deliverence 2 Crispe, (she married William Longley, Jr. and was killed with her husband by the Indians.)

Savage says that Benjamin Crispe came as early as 1629, as a servant of Major Gibbens in 1630. He married (1) Bridget ( ) about 1635 and had 5 children born at Watertown, the rest at Groton. His first wife died about the time of the Indian attack, March 13, 1675/6, and some think she was killed in that attack. Benjamin 1 Crispe then married widow Joanna Goffe Longley after Nov. 29, 1680. TARBELL:THE WOODS FAMILY

1. SAMUEL 1 WOODS (1636-1717) of Watertown, and Groton, Mass.
   M. ALICE 1 RUSHTON
2. ELIZABETH 2 WOODS (1665-1717) of Groton, Mass.
   M. THOMAS 3 TARBELL

The immigrant ancestor of this Woods family will have to be Samuel 1 Woods, though it is probable that he may have had other family here. He and his wife were both born about 1636, perhaps in this country. He appears in Watertown, MA. as a member of the train-band in 1653. He later lived in Cambridge, MA. where he married, Sept. 28, 1659, Alice Rushton, whose parents are also unknown. In 1662 he and his family moved to Groton, MA. He was an original proprietor, owning an 11 acre right, and lived there until the destruction of the town in King Phillip's War in 1676, when he took his family back to Watertown. In 1677 he signed the agreement at Concord, MA. to resettle Groton, and went back the following year. He died there about Jan. 1717 His wife died April 17, 1712.

The children in this family were:

1. SAMUEL 2 WOODS JR.: b. 1660 d. 1712); M. HANNAH FARWELL
2. THOMAS 2 WOODS: b. 1663 d. aft. 1723; M. (1) ELIZABETH ( )(2) HANNAH WHITNEY, (3) HANNAH ( )(4) ABIGAIL (NUTTING) CHAMBERLAIN
3. ELIZABETH 2 WOODS: of whom later, b. 1774, d. 1717;
4. NATHANIEL 2 WOODS: b. 1667, d. 1738; M. (1) ELEANOR ( )? (2) ALICE 3 WHITNEY (3) SARAH BROWN (4) MARY (BLANCHARD) DERBYSHIRE
5. MARY 2 WOODS: b. 1670, d. ; M. (1) ELEAZER PARKER, (2) JOHN NUTTING JR.
6. ABIGAIL 2 WOODS: b. 1672, d. ; M. (1) DANIEL PIERCE (2) SAM UEL BARRON
7. HANNAH 2 WOODS: b. 1674, d. 1703. NM
8. JOHN 2 WOODS: b. 1676, d. young

The history of this family is one of lots of marriages (one over 74 years in length), long life, and military service which sometimes cut short a life. Several of the family married into the Tarbell family and their kin in later generations. Several of them had distinguished careers in the military, including many who served in the Revolutionary War: Nathaniel 4, John 4, Capt. Isaac 4, Nehemiah 4, Caleb 4, Capt. Solomon 4, Sgt. Moses 4, Joseph 4, Sgt. Timothy 4, Daniel 4, Jonathan 4, Levi 4, Oliver 4, Reuben 4, James 4, Jotham 4, Amos 4, William 4, William 5, Samuel 5, Elisha 5, Ensign Jonas 5 and Oliver 5 Woods. A number of the son in laws also served in this war.

Perhaps this all began with Samuel 1 Wood's service in the train-band at Watertown before his marriage. Several of the next generation served in the military also, and one of Thomas 2 Woods sons, Thomas 3, as well as one of Nathaniel 2's sons, Daniel 3, were killed in Lovewell's Fight at Pigwacket (Fryeburg, ME) in 1725. Silas 5 was killed in the Battle of York (Toronto), Canada in the War of 1812. Also in the 5th generation were others who served in the War of 1812: Col. Ziba 5, Col. Imri 5, Colonel Samson 5, and Capt. Henry 5 who served in both the Rev. War and died in battle near Sackett's Harbor, NY in the war of 1812. His son, Merari 6 Woods, was captured in the War of 1812, sent to prison in England, but later returned home, which for him was Readfield, ME. One family member, Brigadier-General Henry 4 Woods, served in the Revolutionary War, and also represented Pepperell in the MA. Gen. Court, and held other positions of honor and service. Col. Imri 5

Woods was also a member of the legislature of New Hampshire.

Later the family scattered, with many going to NH, PA, VT, NY, Nova Scotia, and the towns which surround Groton, both in MA and NH. Through Mary 2 Tarbell Sawtell, many of them were descendants of Thomas 1 Tarbell, as well as Thomas 3. Some of the Woods even settled at Rushford, NY. where Jerusha 6 (Tarbell) Gordon lived with her family, and married into many of the same families the Gordons did. The Woods family as well as the Tarbells played an important part in the settling of early Rushford, NY in Allegany county, part of the Holland Purchase settlements.

Samuel 1 died at Groton Jan. 1717/18 and his wife died there April 17, 1712. Of their 8 children, 6 lived and left many descendants. Samuel Jr. left 10 children, Thomas had three wives and 8 children, Nathaniel had 4 marriages and 12 children. Of the daughters, Elizabeth was the mother of 10, Mary had 8 by her first husband, Abigail had 2 by her first husband and probably others by her second, and Elizabeth had 10 children, which for that time was about the average.

This is probably the most married family in our family history, as well as one of the more prolific. The family history, THE WOODS FAMILY OF GROTON MASS. by Henry E. Woods, A. M., published 1910, does a very good job of documenting this family's history, however. His father was Henry Thayer Woods, and his mother, Ellen, was also a Thayer. Henry Thayer Woods was the son of Col. Samson 5 Woods (a 6th generation descendant from Thomas 1 Tarbell), and his wife, Alice Tarbell, daughter of John and Hannah (Farnsworth) Tarbell of Groton.

Elizabeth 2 Woods, born at Groton on Sept. 17, 1665, married Dec. 1, 1686, Thomas 3 Tarbell. She died Jan. 24, 1717. She was the mother of 10, 3 of whom were carried off to Canada, and she probably never saw them again.

TARBELL: THE PARKER FAMILY

1. CAPT. JAMES 1 PARKER (1617-1701) of England, Charlestown, Groton Mass. M. (1) ELIZABETH 2 LONG (2) EUNICE (BROOKS) CARTER
2. SAMUEL 2 PARKER (1657-1702+) of Chelmsford and Groton, Mass. M. ABIGAIL 3 LAKIN who M. (2) ROBERT DICKSON
3. ABIGAIL 3 PARKER (1696-1757) of Groton, Mass. M. THOMAS 4 TARBELL

The immigrant ancestor of this branch of the Parker family, was said to be one of the most distinguished men of his time, occupying a commanding position in every place he resided, and on the boards of several towns where he owned land, though he did not live there. He is said to have been revered for his "sterling excellencies of character and leadership". His name holds a place in the records of Dunstable, Chelmsford, Billerica, and Woburn, as well as Groton, MA. He had at least two brothers, Joseph, and Abraham Parker at Groton and Chelmsford, who were leading citizens also.

Captain James 1 Parker was an early settler of Groton, and was elected to the first board of selectmen in Dec. 1662, and nearly every year until 1690. He was moderator of the town meetings, and appointed to many committees to conduct town business. In addition, he was chosen a selectman to the town of Dunstable, even when he never lived there. He was a deacon of the church, which meant he was held in high esteem. He was also an early Capt. of the Militia, and was a very skillful and brave officer in the Indian Wars. His name appears on many early records of the settlements of the Indian disputes. He was also the seventh town clerk of Groton, and was chosen as Gen. Rep. to the General Court.

His residence in Groton was on the principal street near the center of the town, on the south side of a little steam which bore his name. He became one of the most extensive holders of land in the area. There appears to have been more persons by the name of Parker born in Groton than any other (according to Butler, the early historian).

James 1 Parker married at Charlestown, or Woburn, MA, Elizabeth 2 Long on May 23, 1643. She was the daughter of Robert 1 and Sarah (Taylor) Long. They had eleven children. Late in life, after his first wife died, he married Eunice Brooks Carter, widow of Rev. Samuel Carter of Groton. They had one daughter, Sarah, whom he fathered when he was in his 80's.

The children of James 1 and Elizabeth Parker were:

1. ELIZABETH 2 PARKER: b. 1645, d. 1712+; M. WILLIAM GARY
2. HANNAH 2 PARKER: b. 1647, d. 1728); M. NATHANIEL BLOOD
3. JOHN 2 PARKER: b. 1749, d. 1692); M. ALICE 2 COREY
4. SARAH 2 PARKER: b. 1650, d. 1651
5. JOSEPH 2 PARKER: b. 1651, d. bef. 1701.
6. JAMES 2 PARKER: b. 1652, d. 1694; M. his cousin, MARY 2 PARKER, dau. of Abraham 1 Parker of Chelmsford
7. JOSIAH 2 PARKER: b. 1655, d. 1731+; M. ELIZABETH SAXTON
8. SAMUEL 2 PARKER: b. 1657, d. 1702+ of whom later
9. JOSHUA 2 PARKER: b. 1658, d. 1694; M. ABIGAIL (SHATTUCK) MORSE
10. ZACHARIAH 2 PARKER: b. 1659, d. bef. 1701; M. ELIZABETH ( )
11. ELEAZER 2 PARKER: b. 1660, d. bef. 1706 M. MARY WOODS

By sec. wife:

12. SARAH 2 PARKER: b. 1698 d. 17 ; M. CAPT. JEREMIAH SHATTUCK

The 6 oldest children of this family were born at Woburn. Several others were born at Chelmsford, where the family also lived before going to Groton. Two sons, John and Joseph, died before their father and little is known about their families. They are not mentioned in their father's will. James 2 was killed by the Indians before his father died, leaving 5 children. Zachariah 2 died about the same time as his father. Hannah Parker Blood died at age 81, in 1728, the oldest surviving member besides her half sister, Sarah, who was born when Hannah was 50 years old.

James 1 Parker's house at Groton was one of 5 garrison houses used by the town in case of attack. In the assault on the town in July 26, 1694, his son James 2, and wife, Mary Parker, were both killed and several of their children taken away as captives by the Indians. Another son, Josiah 2, was a Capt. and served in the war against the Indians. He was in command at Groton, July 11, 1706, when several of his company were waylaid and slain by the Indians on their way to church.

The history of Charlestown, states that James was one of the original purchasers of the "Dudley Farm" grant and the only one who settled in the town. He soon removed to Chelmsford, in 1658, selling his right there to Golden More, but in 1660 he joined the Groton Settlement and was a first selectman and leading citizen, dying at age 83. While in Billerica he was an agent for the heirs of the "Winthrop Farm", and a letter written by him in 1654, in relation to it, is found in the Winthrop papers and quoted elsewhere.

The name Parker is derived from the Latin "parcius", meaning park keeper or shepherd. William de Parker, of Wiztwistel, Lancashire (before 1400) is most likely the ancestor of the American Parker Line, according to one source, but no research has been found as to the early roots of Capt. James Parker. We know he came before 1640, and was a tax payer at Woburn in 1645, Billerica in 1654, Chelmsford in 1658, and Groton in 1660. He owned rights in and around Groton, and increased his holdings by purchase until he was the largest owner, and probably the richest proprietor in the town.

His will is published in Butler's History of Groton, as follows:"In the name of God, Amen. I James Parker, of Groton, in the county of Middlesex, province of Massachusetts Bay, in New England, 25th of May , 1700, being weak of body, but of good and perfect memory and understanding, thanks be to God for it, having arrived at the age of fourscore and 3 years, or thereabouts, calling to remembrance the uncertainty of this life, and that all men must die when it shall please God, I make, constitute, ordain, and declare this my last will and testament, in manner and form following, revoking and annulling by these presents, all testaments, will and wills heretofore by me made, either by word or writing, and this to be taken only for my last will and testament and no other."

"First of all, I give and commit my soul to Almighty God, my Saviour, in whom I trust I shall be saved, and that my soul with my body shall rise again with joy, through the merits of Christ; and my body to be decently and Christianly buried, at the discretion of my executor hereinafter named and appointed. And Nextly, for the settling of my estate and good, it hath pleased God to bestow upon me, I do order, give and dispose of the same in manner and form following, that is to say: First, I will that all the debts and liabilities to any person whatsoever, shall be well and truly contented and paid, within convenient time after my decease, by my executor hereinafter named, and all funeral charges."

"I give and bequeath to my well-beloved wife, Eunice Parker, 40 pounds in current money of New England, or equivalent to money, within the space of 12 months after my decrease, or when she shall call for it; also to live in my house during my widow (while she remains my widow), in the west end of the house, and all the household things now in that room, during my widow, except the bed and furniture belonging to it continue there; and not to be made use of except it be upon special occasions; and also her own things, of her former husband's estate, to continue without interruption; also two acres of land and the orchard at the well-gate, to make use of upon as reasonable terms as any person, during my widow."

"I bequeath and give the improvement of all my house and land on the west side of the highway, for the bringing up of my daughter, Sarah, till she is 18 years of age, or till marriage, and also half my deer-hedge lot for a wood lot for the above named house and land; and also the west end of Gibbett Hill, from the 10 acres of land which I bought of the widow Lawrence."

" I will and bequeath to my daughter, Elizabeth Gary, 20 pounds in money or in money equivalent, to be paid within the space of 12 months from my decease. " I give and bequeath to my daughter, Hannah Blood, 5 pounds in money to be paid in 5 months after my decease. I given and bequeath to Elizabeth Parker, the daughter of my son Zachariah Parker, deceased, one 10 acre right of the land in the town of Groton, in all divisions or 30 Pounds of money,which I promised in a writing to give, all to be at the discretion of my executor. I give and bequeath unto Abiel Parker, the daughter of my son, Joshua, deceased, 10 pounds in money, or equivalent thereto, to be paid her at 18 years old, or at marriage day. Also a grandchild's portion."

"I give and bequeath to my daughter Sarah, 40 pounds in or as money, to be paid her at 18 years of age,or at marriage to be paid here out of my houses and lands on the west side of the highway by Broad Meadow, if she desire it, and the meadow, that belongs to a 10 acre right of my meadow undisposed of. Also I give unto my daughter half my deer-hedge lot on that side next James Nutting's land. I give and bequeath to my grandchildren all the rest of my land and estate, in houses, moveables, and whatever else, equally, according to the discretion of my executor, the former debts and legacies being paid.""And also, whereas I have given to several of my sons, James, Josiah, Samuel, Zachariah, and Eleazer Parker, my natural son (meaning not son-in-laws),three several proportions in land and otherwise, I do ordain and will, that the 10 acre right, which I have given to the, be reckoned as their full portions, neither one of them to make any further demand or charge for any part of my estate."

" I give and bequeath to my daughter Sarah Parker, my best feather bed, and the end curtains and green rug and all tackling to it. Finally, I do by these presents, entreat and request, authorize and appoint my son Josiah Parker of Cambridge, in the county of Middlesex, in New England, in the province of Massachusetts, my sole executor, hoping and trusting he will honestly and equally see to it, that it be done according to my true intent and meaning, without partiality, and in special manner to have the oversight of my daughter Sarah Parker." Signed by James Parker

The Sarah, so often mentioned in the will, married Capt. Jeremiah Shattuck of Pepperell, July 7, 1724. His mother was Elizabeth, daughter of Nathaniel Blood and his wife, Hannah Parker, so this same Sarah married her own father's great grandson. Sarah's mother was Eunice Brooks Carter, James Parker's second wife.

Samuel 2 Parker was born at Chelmsford, MA. on May 5, 1657. He married at Groton in 1684 to Abigail 3 Lakin, who married next Robert Dickson on Feb. 7, 1721. He was alive at the time of his father's death, so died between 1702 and 1721.

Children of this family:

1. JAMES 3 PARKER: b. 1686, d. 1727+; M. ABIGAIL PRESCOTT
2. ROBERT 3 PARKER: b. 1688, d. 17 ; M. DEBORAH ( )
3. SAMUEL 3 PARKER: b. 1690, d. 1735+; M. DEBORAH PRESCOTT, and next, SARAH HOUGHTON
4. JOHN 3 PARKER: b. bef. 1700, d. ; M. JOANNA AMES
5. JONATHAN 3 PARKER: b. bef. 1700, d. 1723; M. SARAH PIERCE
6. ABIGAIL 3 PARKER: b. 1696, d. 1757+; of whom next:

PARKER: *Eunice Brooks Carter, second wife of Capt. James 1 Parker

Eunice 2 Brooks was born at Woburn on Oct. 10, 1655, daughter of John 1 Brooks and his wife, Eunice (Mousall) Brooks. She married in 1672, Rev. Samuel 2 Carter, son of Rev. Thomas 1 Carter of Woburn, MA. and his wife, Mary 2 Parkhurst, daughter of George 1 Parkhurst. Samuel and Eunice Carter had 8 children. Rev. Samuel 2 Carter was a 1660 graduate of Harvard, and served as the pastor of Groton where he died in 1693. His father, Rev. Thomas 1 Carter was a graduate of St. John's college in Cambridge, England in 1629. He lived at Dedham, Watertown, and Woburn, where he became pastor in 1642.

Rev. Samuel died in 1693, and Eunice married James 1 Parker, by whom she had a daughter, Sarah, born in 1697. She married as her third husband, John Kendall and was living in 1706.

PARKER: THE LONG FAMILY

The English ancestry of the Long family begins with Gyles Longe of St. Albans, England, then John Longe, a sidesman of St. Albans parish near London, England, who was probably the father of Robert 1 Long.

1. ROBERT 1 LONG(E) of St. Albans, Dunstable, England and Charlestown, Mass. (1590-1663) M. (1) SARAH TAYLOR, daughter of John and Margaret (Willmote) Taylor and (2) ELIZABETH ( )
2. ELIZABETH 2 LONG (1623-bef.1690) of England and Charlestown, Mass. M. JAMES 1 PARKER who M. (2) EUNICE (BROOKS) CARTER

The immigrant ancestor of this branch of the Longe family came in the "Defense" from London with his second wife, Elizabeth, and 10 children, aged 20 to 9 months of age. Robert 1 Long, or Longe, was born about 1590 at Dunstable (Bedfordshire), England and married Sarah Taylor, Oct. 5, 1613. She died in 1631, age 36. He was apparently recently widowed, then remarried just before he came to New England with his family. He had been an innkeeper at Dunstable, and was well known to the pastor, Rev. Zechariah Symmes, pastor at Charlestown.

He was an area commander in 1639, a selectman, and innkeeper. He started an inn in 1636 called the "Three Cranes", or the "Grand Ordinary", which remained in the family for nearly a century. The building had been built in 1629, and was at the foot of town hill. It was occupied by the First Church of Charlestown, and later was called the "Great House", and used as the Town Hall. It burned down on June 17, 1777, when Charlestown was set afire by British Troops evacuating the city.

The children of this family were:

1. MICHAEL 2 LONG: b. abt. 1615, d. 1689; M. JOAN ( )
2. SARAH 2 LONG: b. abt. 1617, d. ; M. ABRAHAM HILL
3. ROBERT 2 LONG: b. 1619, d. 1650; M. ELIZABETH HAWKINS. She M. (2) JACOB GREEN.
4. ELIZABETH 2 LONG: b. 1621, d. bef. 1696; of whom further,
5. ANNE 2 LONG: b. 1625, d. M. JAMES CONVERSE
6. MARY 2 LONG: b. 1626, d. M. SIMON KEMPTHORNE
7. REBECCA 2 LONG: b. 1627, d. M. ELIAS ROWE
8. JOHN 2 LONG: b. 1627, (twin to Rebecca), d. M. (1) ABIGAIL NORTON (2) MARY NOWELL
9. ZACHARY 2 LONG: b. 1630, d. 1688. M. (1) SARAH TIDD (2) MARY BURR (3) SARAH (FOSTER) MOORE

By second wife:

10. JOSHUA 2 LONG: b. 1635, d. aft. 1659
10. HANNAH 2 LONG: b. 1637, d. M. (1) HENRY COOKERY (2) LUKE PERKINS
11. RUTH 2 LONG: b. 1639, d. M. WILLIAM WHALEN
12. DEBORAH 2 LONG: b. 1642, d. NM

Elizabeth 2 Long, born at Dunstable, England in about 1624, married May 23, 1643, Charlestown, MA., James 1 Parker of Groton. She was the mother of 11 children. She died at Groton, sometime before 1690.

PARKER: THE LAKIN FAMILY

1. WILLIAM 1 LAKIN of England and Groton, Mass. (1581-1672)
2. WILLIAM LAKIN JR. (died in England bef. 1635)
   M. MARY 2 ( ) who M. (2) WILLIAM 1 MARTIN
3. JOHN 3 LAKIN (1627-1697) of Reading, and Groton, Mass.
   M. MARY 3 BACON
4. ABIGAIL 4 LAKIN (1666-1702+) of Groton, Mass.
   M. (1) SAMUEL 2 PARKER (2) ROBERT DICKSON

The immigrant ancestor of the Lakin (sometimes written Laukin) family was William 1 Lakin, who came to New England with his daughter-in-law and her two sons, William 3 and John 3, after his son, their father and husband, had died in England. He died at Groton on Dec. 10, 1672, at the age of 91 years. Mary 2 Lakin (maiden name not known), married William 1 Martin of Reading and Groton, MA. and died there Aug. 14, 1669. She and her family were on the same boat to New England with William 1 Martin.

A clue to the English ancestor of this family may come in information that shows that the Blood family, several of whom came to Groton, came from Ruddington, Nottinghamshire, England. Butler in his History of Groton thinks that this family came from Redington, but there is no such place, and changes that to Riddlington. Ruddington is probably a good place to begin to look for English ancestry of William Lakin. Richard Blood, Robert Blood, and John Blood were all original petitioners for Groton, as were William Lakin Sr., John Lakin, and William Martin and it is conceivable that they knew each other in England.

John 3 Lakin, was first at Reading, MA., (probably about 1645), with his family, then went to Groton after his marriage. His brother, William 3, married Lydia Browne, daughter of Abraham 1 Browne of Reading. The two brothers were among the original petitioners for the land at Groton, each having a 20 acre right. Their names appear frequently on the town records, where both are called Lt. and Ensign, and were active in community and church affairs. From these two military officers are descended the numerous families of Lakin in Groton and the surrounding areas.

The petition for Groton, signed by William Martin, Richard Blood, John Witt, William Lakin, Richard Haven, Timothy Cooper, John Lakin, John Blood, Matthew Farrington, and Robert Blood is in the possession of the NEGHR. It reads:

" The the honored Generall Courte asembled at Boston the humble petion of us whose names ar here under written humbly shoeth: That where as youre petioners by a providence of God have beene brought over in to this wildernes and lived longe here in: and being sumthing straightned for that where by subsistance in an ordinarie waie of god's providence is to be had, and considdering the alowance that god gives to the sunes of men for such an ende: youre petioners request there fore is that you would be pleased to grant us a place for a plantation upon the River that runes from Nashaway in to Merimake at a place or a boute a place Caled Petaupaukett and Wabansconcett and youre petioners shall pray for youre happy prosedings:"

John 3 Lakin married at Reading, about 1658, Mary 3 Bacon. She was the grand daughter of Michael 1 Bacon of Dedham, MA. and daughter of Michael 2 and Alice Bacon of Woburn, though some records call her the daughter of Michael 3. They moved to Groton about 1661, where all but the oldest of their children were born. John 3 Lakin died March 21, 1697. He was probably born about 1624 as he was 67 in 1971. His wife, Mary Bacon Lakin, died after Oct. 22, 1701.

The children of this family were:

1. JOHN 4 LAKIN: b. 1658? d. bef. 1696; M. SARAH ( )
2. MARY 4 LAKIN: b. 1660?, d. bef. 1688; M. HENRY WILLLARD
3. SARAH 4 LAKIN: b. 1662, d. ; M. BENJAMIN WILLARD
4. WILLIAM 4 LAKIN: b. 1664, d. 1672

5. ABIGAIL 4 LAKIN: b. 1666, d. aft. 1702; of whom further
6. JOSEPH 4 LAKIN: b. 1670, d. 1747; M. ABIGAIL LAKIN, his cousin
7. BENJAMIN 4 LAKIN: b. 1672, d. 1753; M. ELIZABETH LAKIN, his cousin
8. JOSIAH 4 LAKIN: b. 1675, d. 1747; M. LUCY ( ) who M. (2) ZACHARIAH LAWRENCE
9. LYDIA 4 LAKIN: b. , d. ; M. (1) JOHN SHEPLEY (2) JONATHAN BOYDEN

The Shattuck Family Genealogy as well as Lakin Gen. gives a daughter, Lydia, who married John Shepley, then Jonathan Boyden, but no dates of birth or marriage. A son, William, who died age 9 at Groton, might belong to John or William Lakin. The family history contains a number of marriages between William and John Lakin's descendants; cousins marrying cousins, as well as spouses of their cousins.

Abigail 4 Lakin was born at Groton, March 13, 1666. She married Samuel 2 Parker in about 1684 at Groton, MA. She was the mother of 9 children. She died after 1702.

Lakin in Shattuck Genealogy, Published 1855, by Lemuel Shattuck (Shattuck thinks the list of Lt. William's family in Butler is probably wrong and gives some other information about the family). NEGHR, Vol. 63, page 318-326 gives Gen. of the Lakin family also.

LAKIN:* William 1 Martin, second husband of Mary 2 Lakin

Mary 2 Lakin, mother of John and William, came with her father in-law, William Lakin Sr. She probably met William Martin on the trip to MA. He was first at Reading in 1641, where he served as a selectman. He took the oath of freeman in 1653. He and Mary Lakin were probably married at Reading, though no date has been found. Later they moved to Groton. He died there in 1673. Mary Lakin Martin died at Groton on 14 Aug. 1669. In William Martin's will were bequests to his step sons, a notice to release 3 neighbors from debts, and 10 pounds to the town for purchase of a bell for the meeting house.

LAKIN: THE BACON FAMILY

The English Ancestry of Michael Bacon of Dedham, Mass. is as follows: " Bacon is a Seignority in Normandy according to a well authenticated genealogy of the great Suffolk Family of Bacon from which sprung many branches" (Kimber's Baronetage).

Grimbaldus, a Norman Gentleman, related to Wm. De Warrene, Earl of Surrey came into England at the time of the Conquest and had grants of land at Letheringsets, near Holt (Norfolk), England in the 11th century. Had three sons: Randulph, Ranulf, and Edmund.

Ranulf or Reynolds, resided at Thorpe, Norfolk, England, called Baconsthorpe by distinction. Authorities differ as to who first assumed the name Bacon, Ranulf or his grandson, Robert, Son of Roger. He was the father of Gilbert, Agnes, George, and Roger.

Roger Bacon was the father of Robert and William.
Robert Bacon was father of John and William.
John I had John II Bacon; John II had John III Bacon; John III Bacon; John IV M. Helena Tillots (d. Sir George Tillots)
John V Bacon M. Margery Thorpe (d. of John Thorpe)
Sir Edmund Bacon (1410-14) of Drinkston, Suffolk, England
M. Elizabeth Crofts
John Bacon (1440-15)
M. Agnes Cockfield, daughter of Sir Thomas Cockfield, had Robert, John, Thomas, Henry, and William.
IIITHOMAS BACON (1475-1535) of Helmingham, Suffolk, England
M. JOANE or JOHAN ( ), who died in 1540.
II.JOHN BACON (1505-1557)
M. MARGARET ( )
I. MICHAEL BACON (1535-1615) of Winston, Suffolk, England
M. (1) ELIZABETH WYLIE (2) GRACE BLOOMOSALE (BLOWERSES), widow
1. MICHAEL 1 BACON (1579-1648) of Winston, Suffolk, England and Dedham, Mass. M. ALICE ( )
2. MICHAEL 2 BACON (1608-1688) of England and Woburn, Mass.
M. (1) MARIE JOBO (2) MARY (BALDWIN) RICHARDSON (3) MARY (HAINES) NOYES
3. MARY 3 BACON (1638-1701+) of Woburn and Groton, Mass.
M. JOHN 3 LAKIN of Groton

The English ancestry of the Bacon family is known for 3 generations in England, and said to be known for many more generations in Norfolk and Suffolk, England. The Bacon family history by Thomas W. Baldwin (1915), and "Bacon and Allied Families" by J. Dean Bacon, quotes Burke's Landed Gentry, 1939 edition, p. 2544, on the early history of the Bacon family in England at least back to the 1300's and gives extensive data on the families here along with their related families. "The Cleveland Genealogy" by Edmund James Cleveland and Horace Gillette Cleveland also is a source of material on this family.

Other sources, such as Colonial Families of the United States, have conflicting material about this family's earlier history. Perhaps the best material is in the more recent Bacon and Allied Families which is quite impressive in it's treatment of this family, including wills from England of the Bacon family. Through John Bacon who married Agnes Cockfield, there is said to be Magna Carta surety to Henry I, King of France and Anne of Russia.

Those who did the detective work on Michael 1 Bacon, the immigrant ancestor, had a unique clue to work with: mentioned in the will of Michael I Bacon of Winston, Suffolk, dated 23 Oct. 1614, proved in 1616, is a significant item: "Item, I geve unto my said sonne, Michaell, my best ffetherbed, bowlster and my best coveringe, a pott tipped with silver, 6 sliver spoons marked with M and B." Michael Bacon of Dedham, Mass. bequeathed to his son, Michael, the same pot and spoons that were passed on in the will of Michael Bacon of Woburn, Mass. There is also a similarity of names in the English ancestry and those of the family in New England.

The names of John, Thomas, William and Michael appear over and over in the Bacon family of Helmingham and Winston, Suffolk, England. Thomas III Bacon was at Helmingham, Suffolk, England, born about 1475, and died there in 1535. His wife, Joane, died in 1540. This family had four known children: Anne (married a Dow), John, Elizabeth, and Thomas. John II Bacon of Helmingham, born about 1505, died in 1557. He had a wife, Margaret and 7 children, including Michael, born about 1535: William, Michael, Barbara, Rose, Thomas (married Mary Ebinger), Richard, and William.

Michael I Bacon was born about 1535 at Winston, Suffolk, England, and died there before March 25, 1615. He married Elizabeth Wylie on Aug. 16, 1565 at Helmingham. He married as his second wife, a widow, Grace Bloomasale (written Grace Blowerses in some records) on Sept. 20, 1607 in Suffolk, England. He had 6 children by his first wife: John, William (married Rebecca Potter), Thomas, Michael of whom further, Elizabeth, Katherine, and Sarah (married Daniel Yorke).

The immigrant ancestor of the Bacon family, (this branch), is Michael 1 Bacon, a yeoman of Winston, Suffolk, England who was baptized Dec. 6, 1579, and died April 18, 1648 at Dedham, MA. He came to Dedham in 1633, where he signed the Dedham agreement, returned to England, then came back with his family in 1640. He married a wife named Alice, whose last name in not known. She died in 1647, and he died April 14, 1648. His will is published in the NEHGR, July 1853, and mentions his children and his holdings at Dedham.

Children in this family:

1. MICHAEL 3 BACON: b. 1608, d. 1688; of whom later
2. DANIEL 3 BACON: b. abt. 1615, d. 1691; M. MARY READ
3. JOHN 3 BACON: b. bef. 1620, d. 1683; M. REBECCA HALL
4. SARAH 3 BACON: b. abt. 1622, d. 1652; M. ANTHONY HUBBARD
5. ALICE 3 BACON: b. abt. 1628, d. 1648; M. THOMAS 1 BANCROFT who married (2) ELIZABETH 2 METCALF

The record says that Michael Bacon lived in Ireland before coming to New England. That was apparently about 1633. He then returned to England and brought his family to Dedham in 1640. The town records show that it was "agreed upon that the town of Dedham shall entertain Mr. Saml. Cooke, together with his estate, and also Mr.

Smith and Mr. Bacon, all from Ireland, and afford to them such accommodation of upland and meadow as their estates shall require".

Michael 2 Bacon, was born about 1608 in England, and married at Winston, Aug. 31, 1624, Marie Jobo, who came with him and settled in Woburn, MA. (He was about 16 at the time of marriage). Marie died Aug. 16, 1655 at Woburn. Michael 2 Bacon died July 4, 1688. In Woburn he was surveyor of Highways in 1644. His sawmill on the Shawshee River was burned by the Indians at the time of King Phillip's War. He was a selectman a number of times. His second wife was Mary Baldwin Richardson, widow of Thomas 1 Richardson whom he married on Oct. 26, 1655 (two months after his wife's death). She died May 19, 1670.

His third wife was Mary 2 Haines Noyes, whom he married Nov. 28, 1670, (6 months after this wife's death). She was the widow of Thomas Noyes of Sudbury, and daughter of Walter 1 and Elizabeth Haines of Sudbury.

Michael 2 Bacon removed to Billerica (now Bedford), MA. in 1675. He had purchased 200 acres of land in "that part of Cambridge that is now Bedford" along with William Simms. He served under Timothy Brooks in garrison number 10 in King Phillip's War. He died on July 4, 1688. The date of his last wife's death is not given.

Children of Michael and Marie Bacon:

1. MICHAEL 3 BACON: b. 1639, d. bef. 1688; M. SARAH 2 RICHARDSON
2. MARY 3 BACON: b. 1640, d. aft. 1702; of whom further
3. ELIZABETH 3 BACON: b. 1642, d. bef. 1673; M. LT. JOHN RICHARD SON who M. (2) MARY PERSON (3) MARGARET WILLIG
4. SARAH 3 BACON: b. 1644, d. M. CALEB SIMMONS or SIMMONDS

Mary 3 Bacon was born about 1638-1640, probably in England. (According to the Bacon Genealogy she was baptized at Winston on Feb. 18, 1640). She married about 1658, Lt. John 4 Lakin of Groton, MA. Their first child is recorded there in 1661, though a son, John might have been born at Reading. Here again we have a problem. The Bacon Family Genealogy says that Mary 3 Bacon who married John Lakin was the daughter (born 1 March 1661) of Michael 3 who married Sarah Richardson, daughter of his stepmother, Mary Richardson Bacon. However, the dates cannot be correct. Mary 3 Bacon, daughter of Michael 2, is said to have married Bartholomew Gale of Salem, as his second wife, in March 1662.

It is possible that there were two Mary Bacons in the same family. This was the case in an earlier Bacon family, that of John II, father of Michael who married Elizabeth Wylie. This family had two sons named William, the youngest and the eldest. This custom was not unique. Other families in New England did this. After all, Michael 2 Bacon had 3 wives, and the first two were named Mary. Perhaps a daughter was named for each. John 3 Lakin is the only John Lakin who could have married Mary Bacon. At least he is the only one recorded in Groton at that time.

Mary 3 Bacon, born in 1640, probably married John 3 Lakin in 1658. This is apparently proved by the deed (Vol. 18,p. 58, NEGHR) in which Michael Bacon of Woburn witnesses the following:

" Know all men by this presant Writing that I Gorg Polle (George Polley), do acknowledg the whol sale with the Consent of my wife of all The land and buldding I have belonging to me liiing in the boundes of Woborne with all the Rightes and previlidgs that now doth or shall for ever here after be long to the saide land and Buldding with all the pertickiliers that here after as expressed Namely the Dwelling hous with the Barne and three accors of brokup land a Joynning to the dwelling hous with all the un brokup land all the fensing be longin to the house lott and nintene accors of land, liing in the new Bridg feeld, six accors liing be twixt a parsall of land of sargin tides and a parsall of land of moses cleaveland and three accors of brokeup land liing be twixt a parsall of land of John Couttlers (Cutlers), and parsall of land of Henneri Jeftes (Henry Jeftes),"...

"Witness in the presanc of VS Michaell bacon Edward Winn, signed by Gorg polle, (his mark), and John Lakin."

A copy of the deed is in Jan. 1891 NEGHR. The Genealogy of the family is in NEGHR, Oct. 1909, with further explanations of Mary Bacon, wife of John 3 Lakin, who conveyed the property to some of her family after his death in 1697.

Mary 3 Bacon, born about 1640, married John Lakin in 1658. She was the mother of 9 children. She was still alive on Oct. 22, 1701 when she acknowledged a deed. No date for her death has been found.

BACON:* Mary Baldwin Richardson, second wife of Michael 2 Bacon

Mary Baldwin was the wife of Thomas 1 Richardson, baptized July 3, 1608 at Westmill, Herts, England, son of Thomas who married Catherine Duxford, daughter of Thomas and Catherine Duxford. Thomas 1 Richard was one of three brothers, the others being Samuel 1, and Ezekiel 1 Richardson, who came to Charleston, then Woburn, MA. Mary was married about 1630 to Thomas, and after his death, Aug. 28, 1651, she married on Oct. 2, 1655, Michael 2 Bacon as his second wife. By her first husband, she had 7 children, including a daughter, Sarah Richardson, who married Michael 3 Bacon, son of Michael 2 Bacon.

Sources: Richardson Genealogy, Bacon Genealogy, etc.* Not a bloodline family

BACON* Mary Haines Noyes, third wife of Michael 2 Bacon

Mary Haines was the daughter of Walter 1 Haines and his wife, Elizabeth (Eliza), and widow of Thomas Noyes. Walter 1 Haines was the son of John Haines and Alice Lambert Haines of Sherborne, Dorset, England, born there in 1583. He came with his family on the "Confidence", except for the oldest daughter, Elizabeth who came with her husband, Roger Gourd at a later time. The family was first at Watertown, then at Sudbury. Mary 2 Haines was born in England, about 1620, and died March 1, 1697 at Woburn. Her first marriage was to Thomas 2 Noyes, by whom she had a family. She married Michael 2 Bacon on Nov. 28, 1670, as his third wife.

This completes the history of the wives of Thomas 1, 2, 3, and 4 Tarbell: Mary, whose last name is not known, Susanna Lawrence, sec. wife of Thomas 1, Hannah Longley, wife of Thomas 2, Elizabeth Woods, wife of Thomas 3, Abigail Parker, wife of Thomas 4 Tarbell, and all related families with the best research I have been able to do so far.

Now we are about to journey into unexplored territory and try to uncover the family of Esther Smith, wife of Thomas 5 Tarbell. This is research and speculation, and should be examined as such and knowledge added if possible. Like putting together a puzzle, some of the pieces are still missing, but the evidence bears looking into anyway.

THE POSSIBLE GENEALOGY OF ESTHER SMITH, WIFE OF THOMAS 5 TARBELL

1.? JOSEPH 1 SMITH (1630-1689) of England and Hartford, Conn.

M. LYDIA 2 HUIT; dau. of Rev. Ephraim Huit

2.? NATHANIEL 2 SMITH (1664-1711) of Hartford, Conn. and Hadley, Mass. M. ESTHER 3 DICKINSON

3. NATHANIEL 3 SMITH JR. (1697-1773) of Hartford, Conn.; Hadley, Groton, and Townsend, Mass. M. ESTHER ( ) (2) SUSANNA ( )

4. ESTHER 4 SMITH (1719-1796) of Groton, Mass. and Mason, NH M. THOMAS 5 TARBELL

Caleb Butler's early history of Groton, MA. is woefully lacking in Smith History. Mentioned are Thomas Smith and ( ), who had Anna and James, born 1672, 1674, Nathaniel Smith of whom further, Thomas and Lydia Smith, parents of Lydia, Thomas, William, John, and Samuel, born from 1736 to 1745, and Nathaniel Smith who married Priscilla Harris of Watertown, who had Susanna, b. 1753. The later Nathaniel Smith went to Mason, NH. and was probably the son of Nathaniel Sr.

Nathaniel Smith of Groton and ( ), joined the Groton church, Nov. 1721, according to town records. By 1724/5, Nathaniel and Susanna Smith had John, then Edward, Jonathan, Jerusha, and Joseph, born 1736. Of this family, Jerusha Smith married June 17, 1756 at Pepperell, MA., (1) John 4 Woods of Groton who died at Pepperell, Aug. 7, 1756. She married (2) John Stone, Jr., Jan. 11, 1759. By him she had Anna, Nathaniel, Molly, and Susanna Stone. This family moved to Chester, VT. Nathaniel Smith Jr., Esther's brother, seems to have been at Mason, NH by 1769, as well. He had a son, Nathaniel III, who married Mary Barrett in 1781. The other Smiths mentioned in the History of Mason are Jonathan, son of Nathaniel, listed as near the Townsend line (married Sarah Barrett). He owned land by at Mason by 1787. A John Smith also owned land there in 1787, also called son of Nathaniel.

A Joshua Smith owned land there in 1776. Samuel Smith, is mentioned at Mason, born about 1741. It is possible that he may be from this family also, though his birth is not recorded at Groton. He held land with Nathaniel 4 in 1769. John Smith, son of Nathaniel, had land there in 1787, but he is perhaps the son of Nathaniel 4, Esther's brother. For such a common name, there is surprisingly little said about Smiths in the town histories.

Nathaniel Smith and his family disappear in the records of Groton after these births are mentioned. Esther and Jerusha's marriages are the only ones recorded there. A Nathaniel, married Priscilla Harris at Watertown, MA. on Dec. 17, 1751 turns out to be the son of Nathaniel Smith of Watertown, who married in Lexington, Feb. 5, 1722, Lydia Church of Watertown. This Nathaniel was born Oct. 22, 1723. From then on, there are several mentions of "Nathan" Smith and "Nathan Smith, Jr." in Groton, but they don't seem to be of our family.

In researching Smiths in neighboring towns, I ran across the " History of the Town of Townsend, MA. from 1676-1878" by Ithamar B. Sawtelle (published 1878). An interesting book, for many reasons, because the author tells a lot about the times, the government, the ecclesiastical history, etc. From this book I discovered that Groton, MA. had "given birth" to a number of other towns, some of which were soon to be swallowed up by New Hampshire, including Mason, on the border of NH and MA. Thomas 5 Tarbell and Esther Smith, parents of Jerusha 6 Tarbell, "removed" to Mason, NH., a town bordered by Townsend and Ashby, MA.

The House of Representatives of MA. passed the following on Monday, Dec. 7, 1719: "In the house of Rep. the vote for granting two new towns was brought down from the board, with Amendments, which were read and agreed to and the said vote is as follows:

" Voted that two new Towns, each containing a Quantity of land not exceeding 6 miles square, be laid out in as regular forms as the Land will allow; to be settled in a defensible manner, on the Westerly side of GROTON West line, and that William Taylor, Samuel Thaxter, Francis Fulham, Esq. , Capt. John Shipley, and Mr. Benjamin Whittamore, be a committee fully empowered to allot and grant out the land contained in each of the said towns (a lot not to exceed 250 acres) to such persons, and only such as will effectually settle the same within the space of 3 yrs. next ensuing the laying out and granting such lots by the comm. who are instructed and directed to admit 80 families or persons in each town at least, who shall pay to the said committee for the use of the province, the sum of 5 pds. for each allotment, which shall be granted and allotted as aforesaid; and that each person to whom such lot or lots shall be granted or laid out, shall be obliged to build a good dwelling house thereon and inhabit it; and also to break up and fence in 3 acres of land at the least within the term of 3 years; and that there be laid out and reserved for the first settled Minister, a good convenient lot; also a lot for the school and a ministerial lot, and a lot for Harvard College of 250 acres each, and that the settlers be obliged to build a good, convenient House for the Worship of God in each of the said towns, within the time of 4 years; and to pay the charge of necessary surveys, and the committee for their service in and about the premises, and that the committee give public notice of the time and place when and where they will meet to grant allotments."

The towns were at first called North town and South town. The list of the proprietors of North town (later called Townsend, MA) is most interesting because it says that NATHANIEL SMITH (who paid 2 pounds 10 shillings for his land) is of "Hadley", MA. He is the only person from Hadley on the list. (100 shillings bought a 1/80 part of the town).

At the time the new town was chartered, 1728, there were 50 householders (or 250 people) in Townsend, and 15 (or 75 people) in the smaller of the two towns, Lunenberg. Later records were destroyed by fire, which makes further research very difficult.

Nathaniel Smith is number 41 on the charter of Townsend. He is probably Nathaniel Smith, father of Esther 4 Smith. Several of his sons, brothers of Esther Smith Tarbell, show up in the new town at Mason, NH. They are Nathaniel 4, who died there age 81, Dec. 18, 1802, Jonathan 4, who died there Jan. 26, 1816, age 90, (said to live near the Townsend side, son of Nathaniel), and John Smith, listed as a settler in 1787 (son of Nathaniel Smith, removed and did not stay there).

The trail leads next to Hadley, MA. After researching the history of the town, it becomes apparent that the original settlers were from Hartford, Connecticut, and founded Hadley to get away from a religious witch hunt which was taking place in the late 1600's, as well as dissention between two rival pastors at Hartford.

It is there that Nathaniel 3 may have been born, the son of Nathaniel 2 Smith and Esther 3 Dickinson. Nathaniel 2 Smith was born Oct. 1664 at Hartford, CN. to Joseph 1 and Lydia 2 (Huit) Smith. He married late, or may have had an earlier unrecorded wife. If Esther was his first wife, he was 32, and she was 22. They had 8 children: Nathaniel 3 Smith, b. Susanna 3, Jerusha 3 Smith, Abigail 3 Smith, Gideon 3 Smith, b. 1709, Joseph 3 Smith, Esther 3 Smith, and Mercy 3 Smith who died at age 9.

This takes us back to the Smith who is probably the immigrant ancestor of the Smith family we are concerned with, Joseph Smith of Hartford, Connecticut. Joseph 1 Smith appears there with several other members of his family. His sister, Mary 1 Smith, married William 1 Partridge. His brother, William 1 Smith, of Weathersfield, and Farmington, CN. married Elizabeth 2 Stanley (daughter of Timothy). Another brother, Simon 1 Smith, is of Haddam CN. and has a son Simon 2 Smith who lived at Hadley. His brother Christopher 1 Smith is at Northhampton, marries a Sarah, but dies at Hartford in 1692, leaving no family, according to the records.

Joseph 1 Smith has 15 children by his wife, Lydia 2 Huit, the daughter of one of the more controversial pastors of that era, Rev. Ephraim 1 Huit who left only female offspring, his son, Nathaniel having died.

The children of Joseph 1 Smith are:

1. JOSEPH 2 SMITH: b. 1657, d. 1733/1735; M. REBECCA DICKINSON moved to Hadley, Mass
2. SAMUEL 2 SMITH: b. 1658, d. young
3. EPHRAIM 2 SMITH: b. 1659, d. 1751; M. RACHEL COLE and moved to Farmington, Conn.
4. LYDIA 2 SMITH: d. young
5. SIMON 2 SMITH: b. 1662, d. aft. 1715; M. HANNAH BLISS HALEY , moved to Hadley, Mass. then Hartford, Conn.
6. NATHANIEL 2 SMITH: b. 1664, d. 1711; of whom later
7. LYDIA 2 SMITH: b. 1666, d. ; M. LANERICK FLOWERS
8. SUSANNA 2 SMITH: b. 1667, d. abt. 1694; M. JOHN 3 DICKINSON, moved to Hadley

9. MARY 2 SMITH: b. 1668, d. 1715. NM.
10. MARTHA 2 SMITH: b. 1670, d. M. BARNABAS HINSDALE JR., lived at Hadley, MA.
11. BENJAMIN 2 SMITH: b. 1671, d.
12. ELIZABETH 2 SMITH: b. 1672, d. M. JOSEPH GILBERT
13. SARAH 2 SMITH: b. 1674, d. M. JOHN SPENCER
14. EDWARD 2 SMITH: b. 1677, d. bef. 1715
15. MERCY 2 SMITH: b. 1679, d. bef. 1715

Look again at Nathaniel 2 Smith's children: Nathaniel 3, Susanna 3, Jerusha 3, Mercy 3, Abigail 3, Gideon 3, Joseph 3 and Esther 3 Smith. There are 5 names repeated and 3 new names in this generation.

Nathaniel 2 Smith's Children:

1. NATHANIEL 3 SMITH: b. 1697, d. 17-- ; of whom later
2. SUSANNA 3 SMITH: b. 1699, d.aft. 1764. M. THOMAS 3 HALE of Glastonbury, Conn. as his second wife.
3. JERUSHA 3 SMITH: b. 1702, liv. 1721;
4. ABIGAIL 3 SMITH: b. 1704, liv. 1721;
5. MERCY 3 SMITH: b. 1706, d. 1715
6. GIDEON 3 SMITH: b. 1708, d. M. SARAH PORTER, SARAH BENEDICT
7. JOSEPH 3 SMITH: b. 1709, d. aft. 1721;
8. ESTHER 3 SMITH: b. 1711/1712, d. M. HEZEKIAH PORTER JR.

Look now at the family of Joseph 2 Smith of Hadley, MA., the oldest son of Joseph 1 Smith of Hartford. He married Rebecca Dickinson and had this family: Joseph, John, Rebecca, Jonathan, Lydia, Benjamin, and Elizabeth. Here we have 3 new names (actually only 1, Jonathan, if one takes away the names of Rebecca and John, Rebecca's father's name), and 4 matches, plus 2 matches from Rebecca's family.

The family of Nathaniel 3 Smith of Groton and Townsend, Mass.:

1. ESTHER 4 SMITH: b. May 20, 1719, d. 1796; M. Thomas 5 Tarbell
2. NATHANIEL 4 SMITH: b. Dec. 28, 1721, d. 1802; M. PRISCILLA HARRIS, Liv. Groton, Mason, NH

By Susanna:

3. JOHN 4 SMITH: b. Jan. 22, 1724, d. aft. 1760 M.
4. EDWARD 4 SMITH: b. Mar. 4, 1726, d.
5. JONATHAN 4 SMITH: b. Sept. 24, 1729, d. 1816; M. SARAH BARRETT, lived Mason, NH
6. JERUSHA 4 SMITH: b. June 21, 1732, d. ; M. (1) JOHN WOODS (2) JOHN STONE JR. Liv. Groton, Chester, VT.
7. JOSEPH 4 SMITH: b. Mar. 4, 1736, d.

Nathaniel 3 Smith of Groton, and probably Townsend, MA. had children named Esther (his mother's name, his sister's name?), Nathaniel (his name, his father's name?), Joseph (his grandfather's name, his brother's name?), Jerusha (his sister's name ?), and Edward Smith (his uncle's name?). That is 5 out of 7 names matched.

The names of Nathaniel and Esther are both widely used in the Smith and the Dickinson families as well.

That still leaves John and Jonathan, also sons of Nathaniel of Groton. If Nathaniel lived at Hadley with his Uncle, Joseph 2 Smith, after his father died in 1711 and his mother remarried, these would be the names of two of his cousins and every name would be accounted for in his family. That would be quite a coincidence if not the right person. There is a tendency for families to use the names of their favorite brothers and sisters, aunts and uncles, grandmother, grandfather, etc. It often helps to solve the mystery of which families go together. Using this criteria it seems possible to show that our Nathaniel came from the family of Joseph 1 Smith of Hartford.

One other problem looms on the research. According to the History of Hartford, which included genealogies of many Smiths, including this family, Nathaniel 3, the son of Nathaniel 2 (born 1697) is said to have married "Mary" in 1727, though no date is given, but they are supposed to have children named : Justes, Nathaniel, Elizabeth, and Hannah. And the widow might have married Francis Flowers (NFR).

Only one match out of 4 here, whereas, the Nathaniel Smith who might be the son of Nathaniel 2 of Hartford, whom we are discussing, matched 5 out of 7 of the family names with the possibility of all 7 being family names. It would seem this Nathaniel is not Nathaniel Jr. after all.

Some books give a Nathaniel to Simon 3, son of Simon 2 (son of Joseph 1 Smith), but they assign the date of his birth as 1731 (though his other children were born from 1690-1710). Simon's children were: Hannah, Lydia, Simon, Elizabeth, Margaret, Ebenezer, Martha, Elisha, Jemima, and Nathaniel (?). If this Nathaniel were born in 1701 (son of Simon) instead of the 1731, he could also have been the Nathaniel who married Mary and had 4 children.

When Nathaniel 2 Smith died at Hartford, Conn. before Jan. 7, 1711 (exact day not known), the administration of his estate was granted to his widow, Esther, and her brother Thomas 3 Dickinson, but her brother Thomas neglecting to give bonds, the sole administration of the will was granted to the widow. She married, Hezekiah 3 Porter on June 24, 1714 as his third wife. On Nov. 7, 1721, Esther Smith, alias Porter, exhibited her account and distribution was ordered to the widow, and to children, Nathaniel, Gideon, Joseph, Susannah, Jerusha, and Abigail Smith. There is no mention made of Esther, the youngest child, born 10 Mar. 1711, as she was apparently born after her father had died.

At this time, Hezekiah Porter was appointed guardian to Abigail, Gideon, and Joseph (the younger children). Often a guardian who may or may not be a family member, is chosen by the child himself, or by the parent before death, to be raised to maturity. No guardian would have been needed by the time of the distribution of the estate for Nathaniel, because he would have been of age.

When Esther Dickinson Smith joined her family with Hezekiah Porter's, there were 22 children in the two families. Some of these were grown and gone, the oldest born in 1687. That's enough to drive any young man to get out of the house and seek his fortunes. If Nathaniel 3 went to Hadley, it is probable that he stayed with his Uncle, Joseph 2, who had married a younger cousin of Esther Dickinson Smith, his mother. Rebecca 3 Dickinson was the daughter of John 2, Nathaniel 1 while Esther 3 was daughter of Thomas 2, Nathaniel 1 Dickinson. Besides this connection, her brother John 3 Dickinson married Susanna 2 Smith, the daughter of Joseph of Hartford, Conn. (I'd like to know if they had a Susannna!)

I have researched every family of Smiths in Hadley. One prominent family was Samuel 1 Smith who married Elizabeth Smith (often called Elizabeth Chileab) in England and came to Hadley with the group of first settlers. There are several Nathaniels in that family, all accounted for. Of the other family there, the sons of Rev. Henry Smith of Weatherfield, Conn. the only one who had a Nathaniel of the right age was Ebenezer, whose son Nathaniel was at Suffield, Conn. and is also accounted for. If there are any other Nathaniel Smiths, I haven't seen research, and Judd's History of Hadley seems to have a pretty good genealogy of all Smiths, including Joseph 2, Joseph 1 of Hartford, and Simon 2, Joseph 1 who was also there for a time.

More proof is needed, but for now, I present my case on Joseph 1, Nathaniel 2, Nathaniel 3, Esther 4 Smith as being the correct line for our family. It still remains to find out his wife's family, Easter (Esther), Susanna, or both. Our only source of information on that subject is Butler's History of Groton, which so far has not been infallible in it's information.

The only other thing which may put any of this in perspective is a word about why the Hartford, Conn. and Hadley, Mass. people are connected and seemed to move back and forth from Hartford to Hadley, to Hartford again.

The problem arose after the death of Thomas Hooker. He was the minister mentioned earlier who dissented from the views of the Puritan purists, and went from Watertown, Mass. to found Hartford, Conn. along with a band of his loyal followers. After his death, there was again controversy about the church among many of the people of Hartford, and in Weathersfield, Conn. and a number of the people banded together to dissent and in 1659, moved to start a new town at Hadley, Mass.

Nathaniel 1 Dickinson was one of the men chosen to go into the new wilderness plantation and lay out the home lots for the 59 settlers who had decided to go. The company who met at Goodman Ward's house in Hartford, April 18, 1659 were the following: John Webster

Of those that went, William 1 Goodwin returned in his old age and died at Farmington, and Elizabeth, the widow of Andrew Bacon returned to Conn. and died there. These were the original settlers of Hadley, Mass. They all signed the following agreement:

"The company here met engaged themselves under their own hands, or by their deputies (whom they had chosen), to remove themselves and their families out of the jurisdiction of Conn. into the jurisdiction of Mass. as may appear in a paper dated the day and year said above."

See the account of William 1 Goodwin for many more details on the founding of Hadley and the removal from Hartford, Conn.

To recap the Smith history as presented above:

1. JOSEPH 1 SMITH: b. (1620/30-1689) of England and Hartford, Conn. M. LYDIA 2 HUIT of Hartford (15 children). One was:
2. NATHANIEL 2 SMITH: (1664-1711) of Hartford, Conn. M. ESTHER 3 DICKINSON at Hartford. (8 children). One may have been:
3. NATHANIEL 3 SMITH: (1697-17) of Hartford, Conn., Hadley and Townsend, Mass. M. ESTHER ( ) about 1718, then SUSANNA ( ) died after 1741 at Townsend, Mass. He was the father of:
4. ESTHER 4 SMITH: (1719-1796) of Groton, Mass. and Mason, NH M. THOMAS 5 TARBELL

Nathaniel Smith was the father of Esther 4 Smith, born at Groton, on May 20, 1719 [as Ester, d. Nathaniel and Easter, Groton Vital Rec., died at Mason, NH on Jan 26 1796, who married Thomas 5 Tarbell on Jan. 19, 1741, Groton Vital Rec. and Tarbell Gen.]; and Nathaniel 4 Smith, born at Groton on Dec. 28, 1721 [as Nathanill, s. Nathanill and Easter, Groton Vital Rec. died at Mason, NH on Dec. 18, 1802, 81 yr. History of Mason, NH].

He was also the father of John 4 Smith, born at Groton on Jan. 22, 1724-25, [as John, s. Nathanill and Susanna], Edward 4 Smith, born at Groton on March 4, 1726-27 [as s. Nathanill and Susanna], Jonathan 4 Smith, born at Groton on Sept. 14, 1729 [as Jonathan, s. Nathanill and Susanna]; and Joseph 4 Smith, born at Groton on March 4, 1736 [as Joseph, s. Nathaniell and Susanna, Groton Vital Rec.].

He may also be the father of Samuel Smith, born in 1741, who died at Mason, NH on Dec. 18, 1802, age 74 yrs. Of the children of Nathaniel 3 and Esther/Susanna, only the marriages of Esther to Thomas Tarbell and Jerusha who married John Woods at Pepperell on June 17, 1756, are recorded in Groton. There are no marriages for any of the sons in this family at Groton.

The History of Mason, NH records that Jonathan Smith, son of Nathaniel, married Susanna, daughter of William Barrett, and lived near the Townsend Line (see p. 220). A John Smith, son of Nathaniel, had land at Mason in 1787, also, but removed later to another town.

Esther 4 Smith married Thomas 5 Tarbell at Groton on Jan. 19, 1741. She was the mother of 9 children: Sarah, Nathaniel, Edmund, John, Thomas 6, Jerusha, Whitcomb, Samuel, and Edward Tarbell. She died at Mason, NH. on Jan. 26, 1796, a week before her husband's death. They had been married for 55 years.

CHAPTER TWO

Introduction to the Gordon Family

The Gordons first appeared by that name in 12th Century Scotland, when surnames were first adopted. The Gordon lands were in Berwickshire, probably meaning "great fort hill". Close neighbors were the Swintons. For years there was feuding among the two families, until 1407, when Sir John Swinton knighted his fellow baron, Sir Adam Gordon on the battlefield at Homildon Hill where both fell fighting the English invasion. Adam was a particularly favored name of the Gordons of Huntly, beginning with Adam of Gordon in 1189. There was also a family in Hampshire called de Gurdon or "of Gurdon" who favored the Adam name as well. One of them, Sir Adam de Gurdon, was wounded in a chivalrous personal combat with the future King Edward I in 1266.

The Scottish War of Independence brought the Gordons to the Highlands. Sir Adam of Gordon, the chief at the time, had been a close supporter of the Lord of Badenoch who was fatally stabbed by Robert Bruce. At first Adam Gordon tried to avenge his friend, but was imprisoned, so instead he joined Robert Bruce in 1313. In 1320 he was the Scottish ambassador to the Pope. King Robert Bruce rewarded Sir Adam of Gordon with large tracts in the north of the former Clan Mcduff territory. Usually he gave lands as rewards to someone related to the clan, and it may be that Sir Adam's wife, Amabelle, was a McDuff, or that his mother, Marjorie, was related to the McDuff clan.

Later the Gordons of Huntly greatly increased their land holdings through the marriage of Sir Adam Gordon to a daughter of the Marischal of Scotland by the Fraser heiress of Aboyne on Seaside, Margaret Fraser. Margaret Fraser's own grandmother had been kept in a cage by the English as she was the sister of King Robert Bruce. He afterwards gave Aboyne to her husband for his gallantry in the war of independence. When this Sir Adam was killed, his legitimate line of the old Gordon name was carried on by the Gordons of Lochinvar in Galloway, later Viscounts of Kenmure.

The title of chief passed through Sir Adam Gordon's daughter who married Sir Alexander Seton, and became Lord Gordon in 1429 in the first known list of Lords of Parliament in 1428. The Gordon Clan was more recently headed by the Marquess of Huntly. Several times the fortunes of the Gordons were increased by the women they married, who brought new blood lines and new holdings to the family.

The history of the Gordons is one of many feuds and fights, as is true of the whole history of Scotland, apparently. Clan revenge killed many a good man and probably a few not so good. About 1636, when many of our ancestors were coming to New England to escape from Religious oppression, a similar situation was happening in Scotland. Charles I wished to impose Anglican bishops and a new Prayer book on Scotland, so the Presbyterian leaders in the north made a covenant among themselves to resist. Huntly, the current leader of the Gordons had been trained in France (as were many of the young men of the Clans) to be commander of the Scots militia. Huntly was not in sympathy with the King, but decided to obey his command.

Mistreatment by the hands of the Covenants, (they kidnapped him), and the sack of Aberdeen in 1664 by the loyalists alienated Gordon. The Gordon cavalry fought hard, but Lord Gordon was killed. The Gordon lands were confiscated, though later returned in 1660. The family and the clan were still mainly Roman Catholic. The battles in the next century are too numerous to mention. Times were changing, and William, Duke of Gordon was not allowed to hold a political position or serve in the army because this was now forbidden by law to Roman Catholics.

Because of these restrictions, many Gordon soldiers offered their services abroad. Many of them served with the Scots Brigade in Holland from 1672-1682. Colonel John Gordon in the 1600's gained prominence in Europe as the murderer of Wallenstein, the famous Austrian general who was suspected of plotting the overthrow of the Emperor. Thomas Gordon went to Russian, as did General Patrick Gordon and his son-in-law, Alexander Gordon of Auchintoul. Thomas Gordon eventually became an agent at the Court of Peter the great. Gordon soldiers could be found in Poland, Greece, Khartoum, and other exotic places. If anything has emerged from history, it is that the Gordons loved and excelled in fighting.

In 1759 the 89th Highland Regiment, the Duke of Gordon's Own Highlanders fought in the 7 Year's War. During the American Revolution, the 4th Duke raised a regiment of Gordon Fencibles for home defense, and the Aberdeen Highland Regiment, as well as the Fraser Highlanders, also were pressed into service. In 1794 a special Gordon regiment was formed, later called the 92nd, then the Gordon Highlanders. They wear the Gordon tartan and follow the clan traditions as well. They fought at Waterloo, in Holland, in Afghanistan in 1879, and maintain a military stance today, if only to enjoy the Scottish Games and serve in the still active Scottish Highlanders.

It is from this background that James 1 Gordon, born March, 1752, died Dec. 9, 1844, is said to have come. By oral and written tradition, he came as a young man of 20 with Scottish and English soldiers fighting under Burgoyne and stayed to become the first known Gordon in our "Clan" today.

The Holland Purchase to which the Gordon family came encompassed all of Western New York from the Canadian border to Pennsylvania. The first land sales were recorded after Jan. 1, 1807. By that time there were several hundred settlers, mostly men, scattered from Batavia Village all through the land which was called the Holland Purchase. The first library was set up in 1804, the first mill built in 1808, the first religious meeting was held in 1804. Churches were begun in 1811, and the area had a form of government and a sheriff by 1808. Settlement was slowed somewhat by the War of 1812, but in 1801 there were 40 land sales, which went to 602 in 1807 and 1160 by 1811.

Allegany county was formed in 1806 from Genessee county. It contained about 276,500 acres, of which 74,457 were being cultivated in 1845 when the first census was taken. By that time there were about 20,000 people living in the area, producing wheat, barley, corn, oats, beans, peas, potatoes, flax and other crops. There were nearly as many head of cattle and 8,111 milch cows producing 584,204 pounds of butter, and over 310,000 pounds of cheese. There were also 118 saw mills, 15 grist mills, 22 churches and 113 common schools in the area, as well as 45 clergy, 15 attorneys, and 32 physicians.

William 2 Gordon, Mathew Cady, James McCall, Sampson Hardy, Eneas Gary, Joshua Wilson, Charles Swift, Othniel Perry, William Vaughan, Andre Bennet, and Joshua Wilson are given as the earliest settlers of Rushford, Allegany county, New York, also known as T.5, R.2 of the Holland Purchase. Matthew Cady built the first saw mill in 1816. James McCall was the first merchant; he built his store in 1816 also. David Board built the first blacksmith shop, and Levi Benjamin was the first Postmaster in 1816. James McCall who acted as the first judge, became a state senator, and served many public offices, while raising a family of 13 children.

Many of these men were related to the Gordon and Tarbell families by marriage either before or after they came to the town. One of the Woods boys later made the comment that he had 144 cousins in the town of Rushford, which included Gordons and Tarbells and their relation. He was a descendant of Samuel 1 Woods of Groton, and also Thomas 1 Tarbell, as was Jerusha 6 Tarbell, wife of James 1 Gordon.

Several excellent books document the history of this area and of the families who founded it. One is "Pioneer History of the Holland Purchase" by O. Turner, published 1849, in a time so soon after the settling as to contain all the history by someone who lived it. The second is "History of Allegany County, New York", by F. W. Beers and Co., published in 1879. It contains sketches of many of the settlers and drawings of the houses and people, including some of the Gordons and the families they married into. There are also sections on Rushford and Cuba, NY. The town History of Rushford, published in 1909 is another source of information about the Gordons and their kin.

The book on the Holland purchase contains many early accounts of what it was like to live in the densely forested wilderness and face the hardships all the pioneer families had to face. It contains many sketches of the earliest settlers and gives valuable history about the Indians and about the people who lived there even before the land sales began in 1807.

Each period of American was unique and each of the settlers had great courage and faced many hardships to found this great country. How fortunate for us that they did, and how proud we are to have come from such noble stock. Our children today face new frontiers of space and the ever increasing problems of an overpopulated world. But we can still learn a lot from the past.

So we begin the chronicle of the Gordons and the Tarbells with James 1 and Jerusha 6 (Tarbell) Gordon of Rushford, Allegany county, New York....

James 1 Gordon, is the first known of our branch of the Gordon family in the United States. It is oral history that he was born in Leeds, Perth, Scotland in March of 1752. One family member states that he was the son of James Gordon and Annie Kastorn, or Kastorn Davis (yet to be proved), and his pension record calls him James Jr. Much of the early information has been taken from the history of the Gordon family written for the Rushford, New York Centennial Book (published in 1908), and can be classified as both oral tradition, and historic fact.

The place of his birth has not yet been found as there is no such place as Leeds, Perth, Scotland. There is a town called "Leithe" in Perth county which would have a similar sound to Leeds and may be a place to start looking for Scottish records.

The story that I heard as a child was that James Gordon came to America as a British soldier under General Burgoyne in May of 1775, at the age of 20. He is said to have been a smallish man (5 feet 2), and young looking for his age, so was sent on a mission as a spy. But he defected to the Continental army, serving at one time as an aide de campe of General George Washington. He was also said to have been expert with sewing needles and with knitting needles, and made George Washington's socks! That was the family tradition and oral history.

As a small child, I thought this a fascinating story and never doubted a word, but as an adult, this story has some holes in it. A number of Scots settlers came before 1770 to New England, including the family of Alexander Gordon who came to NH by 1660, settling around Epping, the town where James Gordon began his military service. The number of early Scots settlers was small, however, in comparison to English, Irish, and even German immigrants. In 1729, at the Port of Philadelphia, PA, there were 5,655, Irish, 267 English, 43 Scotch, and 343 German immigrants. The largest number of Scots settlers came from 1771 to 1775, with many going to North Carolina, others to NY, apparently fleeing the high farm rents and oppressive landlords for the "fertile and cheap lands" of the young continent.

In James Gordon's pension papers, it states that he enlisted in Poor's Regiment, Captain Morris's company, on June 15, 1775, from Epping (Rockingham Co.), NH. Then he joined Prince Long's Regiment, Capt. Mark Wiggin's Company, Continental Army, at Portsmouth, NH on August 27, 1776. He was discharged Dec. 1, 1776 but joined the Continental Army again, under Capt. Zebulon Gilman, Sept. 8, 1777. He re-enlisted under Colonel Nathan Gilman, Aug. 3, 1779 for one year, from Poplin, NH.

He enlisted again, under Capt. Rowell's, 2nd NH, 3rd Company, in Aug. 3, 1779, for one year, said to be from Poplin, NH. Next he enlisted under Capt. Rowell's 2nd NH, 3rd Co. Feb. 1781. He was placed on the pension roll July 24, 1820, and commenced to draw pension from May 8th, 1818. According to records, Col. Enoch Poor's Regiment served at Winter Hill, MA. in 1775 and was involved in the Bemis Heights Battle. These terms of service are a matter of record, since he received for many years (1818-1844), a pension, at the magnificent sum of $96 per year. He drew $1,471.15, all told.

The list of Aides to Washington does not contain his name, so that part of oral history is probably false. In reading about the service of other men from his area, a number of them had the same claim, and also claimed to have served as a spy and defected from the other side, so I suspect that part is probably not true also.

Yet, in the Rushford history, (p. 414, 425), a section on the Gary family states this: "How he (Eneas Gary), became acquainted with the Gordons is not now known. Mr. James Gordon, a Scotch-man, came to this country as a British soldier, but afterwards joined the Revolutionary army. In one of his genial banters with his friend, Mr. Gordon, Mr. Gary alluding to Gordon, said to those about, `This is the man I took prisoner'. `Well', Mr. Gordon replied,` my son captured two of Mr. Gary's daughters, so I guess we are about even.'" This was a referral to his son, William 2 Gordon, who married a Gary daughter, and after her death, married her sister.

James Gordon also states about his pension: "I came over to fight you Yankees, and now you are paying me for it." Eneas Gary was the first settler at Rushford, NY. He was born at Taunton, MA., but came from Lebanon, CN. His wife, Esther, was the daughter of Jedediah P. Buckingham of Lebanon. He served 3 terms in the Rev. War, enlisting at age 21. It is probably through this family that the Gordons moved to Rushford in 1811, as Eneas Gary was William 2 Gordon's father in law.

An even more outrageous claim is made later about James Gordon, and appeared in an article about my great grandfather, Fordyce Foster Gordon in "The Patriot", the newspaper of Cuba, New York, on Thursday, June 26, 1902. To quote, "Lord John Gordon of Leeds, Scotland, was a brother of James Sr., and left no children, so he (James 1 Gordon), would have heired the estate which has been estimated to have amounted to the sum of $7,000,000. For some reason or other, no claim was ever made to the estate, and in due process of time it was forfeited to the crown, during the early years of the reign of Queen Victoria in 1844."

James married Jerusha 6 Tarbell (Thomas 5,4,3,2,1), in 1778 at Mason, NH, supposedly in the midst of all of this, and must have still been a soldier when their first son, Thomas was born on Aug. 23, 1780, probably at Reading, VT. This is also the area where Abigail 8 Bowen's family lived. She became the wife of James Gordon Jr.

The first town where we find James 1 Gordon is Mason, NH in 1782, where his names appears on the roles. Next to his name is "said to be a Hessian", in the History of Mason, NH (by Rev. Hill). "Hessian" usually referred to the German soldiers hired by the British to fight in the war. Many of them stayed in New England. The word also apparently meant "foreigner". He is not mentioned as being in the Revolutionary War veterans of the town, though Thomas 6 Tarbell is listed in Capt. Mann's Company at Bunker Hill in that town's list. He was Jerusha's brother, and James Gordon's brother in law. Nathaniel Smith's name appears in Col. Nichol's regiment, enlisted in 1777. This must have been Esther Smith's (his mother in law's) brother, Nathaniel, who also lived at Mason, NH.

An article from the National Genealogical Society Quarterly (Vol. 48, p. 11 and Vol. 49, p. 75-77) discusses the claims of families said to be descended from Hessian Soldiers. To quote a paragraph of that story might be interesting: "The files of the National Archives contain pension applications of a certain William Brown, whose death took place at Centerville, Allegany county, New York, 24 May 1839. In a deposition dated 18 September 1845, his widow, Miriam (Bryant) Brown, whom he had married in 1784 at Berlin, Worcester County, Massachusetts, stated that her late husband had come to the United States under General Burgoyne and `that he was a Hessian' who had deserted from the British Army and who in 1779 had taken service with the American forces."

This story has a familiar ring to it! In fact, Centerville is in Allegany County, very near Rushford, New York where James Gordon and his family settled. It would be interesting to know how this story could be nearly the same as the claim made by descendants of James Gordon when the Rushford History was written in 1908. The article tells of another claim by a well-meaning and sincere lady, that "the youth ran away from home, joined the Hessian forces, came to America, deserted to the Continental Army, and because of his remarkable military ability was appointed a captain on Washington's staff". Again, a claim similar to the story of James Gordon.

Mason, NH. is in Hillsborough County, upon the Southern border of the state, about midway between the eastern and western boundaries. On the south are the towns of Ashby and Townsend; on the west is New Ipswich, on the North is Temple and Wilton, while Milford and Brookline, Mass. are on the Southern border of the town. This is a grant of land originally given to Capt. John Mason by the council of Plymouth in 1621. He was a governor of early New Hampshire who died in 1638. After his death, his widow, Anne Mason, sent over Francis Norton to manage the estate, which included the land on the border. Between 1638 and 1644, loss of income from a settlement in the area, which was destroyed by fire, caused the loss of the estate and the territory reverted to the state of Massachusetts for the next 40 years.

Not until 1681 was the claim of Massachusetts, and the settlers who had settled on the land, disputed. It took many years after the first appeal to the courts before it was renewed in the interests of a Mason heir, John Tufton Mason, who came of age in 1738. Massachusetts claimed that the land lines should run one way, the agent for the Mason purchase claimed they should be in another spot. Finally a survey was done in March of 1741, which gave NH more land than they had ever claimed in the original dispute. Dunstable was divided by the new line with the meeting house on the NH. side. Pepperell was then a part of Groton, which lost a portion of its territory by the new line.
Townsend, which was incorporated in 1732, also lost land to New Hampshire by the new boundary lines. Title to the township of Mason, except for 2 gores North and South of the town, was finally granted on Nov. 1, 1749. No exact record shows when the settlers began to live in the limits of the new town, but the first town meeting shows Capt. Thomas 5 Tarbell on the committee to lay out the new lots as early as Dec. of 1749. By 1752 a town meeting reports that "Capt. Thomas Tarbell had about 3 acres cleared".

After the war, James 1 Gordon farmed at Mason, NH and Cavendish, VT., a place which he later sold to some of the relatives of the Eddy family who also moved to Rushford, NY. The family moved to Cavendish about 1788. The first five children of James and Jerusha were born at Mason, NH, the rest at Cavendish, VT.

The Children of James and Jerusha (Tarbell) Gordon were:

1. THOMAS 2 (7) GORDON: b. Aug. 23, 1778/80, d. 1813. M. OLIVE MORRIS or HARRIS of Reading, VT.
2. KASTORN 2 (7) GORDON (also written Kastern, Castorn): b. July 23,1781 (probably died at birth ?)
3. *JAMES 2 (7) GORDON JR.: b. Oct. 30, 1783; d. Oct. 24, 1868. M. Jan. 10, 1808 to ABIGAIL 8 BOWEN at Townsend, MA.
4. TARBELL 2 (7) GORDON: b. Jan. 21, 1785; d. Feb. 21, 1825. M. Nov. 10, 1805 to LUCY LAWRENCE at Chester, VT.
5. WILLIAM 2 (7) GORDON: b. Oct. 7, 1787; d. Apr. 2, 1870. M. Apr. 12, 1808 to (1) MIRA GARY (GEARY) (2) MARTHA GARY (3) LAURA (WILSON) WOODS
6. JOHN 2 (7) GORDON: b. Aug. 4, 1790; d. Feb. 21, 1842. M. Jan. 24, 1810 to HARMONY WOODWORTH
7. WILSON 2 (7) GORDON: b. June 4, 1794; d. Feb. 27, 1879. M. 1812 to (1) LYDIA PRATT (2) PAULINE (WALKER) BROWN (3) MRS. ELIZABETH WARD
8. SAMUEL 2 (7) GORDON: b. Sept. 6, 1797; d. March 16, 1809

The first Gordon to come to Rushford was probably William 2, who, with his father in law, Eneas Gary (Geary), was among the first buyers of land in the Holland Purchase. The next to come were Tarbell 2 Gordon, and John 2 Gordon, in 1811. They were followed soon by Wilson 2, then James 1 and James 2 Gordon Jr. According to the History of the Town of Rushford, NY, the first settlers to Rushford who came in 1808 to the land being developed by the Holland Land Company were from VT., NH, and Connecticut. Among the first were Ames, Tarbell, Woods, and Chamberlain, many from the original families of Groton, MA, and later from Mason, NH, and Chester, and Cavendish, VT.

The trip, about 400 miles, took James Gordon about 21 days by wagon. The Gordon family home place at Rushford, still has one of the rims from that wagon in the front yard. It is as tall as a man. Some of the settlers came on foot, like White and Woodworth, who came from Coventry, CN. Many were settlers whose families came early to MA, like the Metcalfs, Kendalls, Benjamins, Chases, and Greens.

Some came to Rushford, stayed awhile and moved on. The Gordons not only stayed, but so far have been on the same place since 1814. Rushford, NY in 1855 had nearly 2,000 people. Rushford today is a small village of about 500. At one time every village had a creamery to make cheese, and Rushford was no exception. Now there is delicious cheese still made at Cuba, about 12 miles away, the home of a later Gordon line. That town is a bit larger today. Both Cuba and Rushford are in Allegany county, which is located in the South west part of NY. It is a lovely rural area with winding roads and small towns where people still keep cows, raise apples, and still collect maple sugar in the spring.

Where ever our ancestors lived, they suffered the hardships of the first pioneers. The first few years of Rushford were no exception.

The crops failed in 1816 because of an unusually hard cold season, causing an almost total loss of small crops of the new settlers, many of whom were still clearing land for farms and had only meager sheds for houses. Thanks to one man who owned the mill and had a monopoly on the grain, they survived partly because he limited the amount of grain any one settler could buy. This rationing kept the new settlers from starving that winter. Scarcity of flour and meal continued though, as this was not the proper area for such crops. So other crops had to be grown and sometimes traded for grain.

Among the first officers of the town in 1816 was Tarbell 2 Gordon, commissioner of highways. A later list of officers finds Samuel 3 Gordon, James 2 Gordon Jr., and Jedediah 3 Gordon, all town supervisors. In 1842 the village had 90 dwelling houses, two churches, three taverns, 8 stores, 1 grist mill and two saw mills. By 1878 it contained 4 churches, 2 hotels, several stores and mechanic shops, a saw-mill, a cheese factory, a foundry, a tannery, and more than a hundred dwellings, as well as Rushford Academy. Education was important to the new settlers. In 1852 Rushford Academy was incorporated by the town. The building cost nearly $5,000, and was paid for by the people of Rushford. Many Gordons and Tarbells attended there and also served on the board in later years. The first Baptist church was organized in 1815. One of the original members was Jerusha Tarbell Gordon. Though some of the other family were Methodists, and James 2 and Abigail Gordon went to the Free Methodist church organized by 1861, the one rebel of the original 5 Gordon brothers was John 2 Gordon. Needless to say the family tried hard to get him into a church, but the history doesn't say it worked.

By 1815, the 5 living sons of Jerusha and James Gordon, as well as the parents and others of the family like the Gary's, Woods, and Tarbells, had all moved from VT to Rushford and settled on homesteads. The town was not officially organized until 1816. By 1818, some of the Tarbells also came, including 2 sons of Edward 6 and Rachel (Hildreth) Tarbell, (Jerusha's brother) of Townsend, MA, and Cavendish, VT. Many of the children of her brother Edmund 6 and Mary (Hildreth) Tarbell also came from Windsor, VT. Tarbell house, the local hotel was owned by some of the family. It was a 3 story building, first called Washington House, then later, Tarbell house. There is a picture of it on the 1908 Rushford centennial plate.

Early day living was hard work. An early day account of what the houses were like goes like this: The families arrived on foot or by sled or wagon with provisions, household goods, and supplies to last for months. The first thing was to get shelter. Trees were felled, logs made ready and a rude house or cabin was built. The roof was often branches or bark, with blankets hung over the holes for windows and doors. Sometimes oiled paper made the windows, or a white cloth if they had it. A hole in the ceiling was the chimney. Later chimneys were built on the outside of basswood slats filled with mud. Split logs made the floors, called puncheon floors. The bedsteads were poles on legs with boughs of trees for mattresses.

Cooking must have been real interesting! First one cut down trees and planted some wheat among the tree stumps. Then the crop was harvested, pounded into flour (before the mill got built, it might take a whole day to get flour for one loaf of bread). Next it was baked in an iron kettle on legs set on a pole over the open fire. Meat hung on low poles over the fire, with a pan to catch the drippings as it cooked. Eventually a fireplace got built, with a brick oven that was heated by coals until the bricks were hot. Then you swept out the coals and the ashes and baked your bread on the hot bricks. Sound like fun? And if you wanted to do the dishes, you hauled water from the creek, and oh yes, you had to make your own soap out of ashes and lye and fat rendered from animals.

Sugar making was difficult, but for the kids probably the most fun. The sap was caught in buckets hung on a peg, or in a wooden trough with a spigot. Sap troughs were used as cradles for babies in the off season, or smaller one as dishes on the table. Later the sap was collected and boiled for hours over hot fires, to make the maple sugar that is still a treat. The kids got to harden it sometimes in the snow, and that must have been a lot of fun. Sugar making today is a bit more sophisticated, with the collection done by running plastic tubing to the collection spot. A lot less work!

The settlers had deer, wild blackberries, pumpkins, milk from the cows, and other things they grew. The first apple seeds were brought from Vermont by Abigail 8 Bowen Gordon, wife of James 2 Gordon. Eventually the Gordon farm, Brookside Farm, had 54 varieties of apples and was a big attraction for people in the area who came for miles around each fall to get their apples.

Since every town in this part of the country had a cheese factory, something different had to be done to make it unique. Rushford had " pineapple cheese". It was patented in 1808 by the father of one of the settlers and was shaped like a pineapple. One man wrote that his father had the patent, and as he was growing up, one of these cheeses sat on his family's mantel and was varnished each week like the rest of the furniture. Twenty years later on his wedding day, he got to cut into it and apparently it tasted great. That is really aged cheddar!

In case you think pioneer life was all hard work, remember how the people entertained themselves: log rolling, husking bees, maple sugaring, spelling bees, hymn sings, barn raisings, country fairs, and quilting bees livened things up for the early settlers and kept them up on the town's news. The settlers were kind to each other and willing to midwife, or trade goods. One lady sewed a dress and got a bushel of wheat which provided the crop for the next year. The men helped each other with the harvests and if anyone had a fire, or got married, a new house was raised by the neighbors. One pastor told of a couple who wanted to get married and had no money, so they paid with a piglet about 4 months later!

Indians were still around in the early 1800's. Rushford was near the home of the Seneca and Allegany tribes. Hannah Walker Tarbell, the wife of one of the Tarbells, would feed them sometimes as they passed her door on the trail between the Genesee and Allegany rivers. Apparently word got around that a nice white woman lived there, and once in awhile she'd find a quarter of venison hanging near her door, according to the Rushford history.

In case of sickness or trouble it was customary to blow a horn for help. Nearest neighbors were sometimes several miles away. Once a couple got lost on the way to a wedding, but the blowing of the horns by all the wedding guests got them to their destination eventually. For the first few years, wolves, bears, and panthers, as well as snakes and other wild animals shared the woods with the settlers and could be heard at night for some distance. The lonely nights must have been difficult for many of the people who had come from long settled towns and were used to more populated areas.

Tarbell 2 Gordon was born in Mason, NH, on Jan. 21, 1785 and died at Rushford, NY in 1825 at age 40. He married Lucy Lawrence, Nov. 10, 1805 at Cavendish, VT. He came to Rushford in 1810, then returned for his family and the others came soon after. He and Lucy had 11 children, 3 of them born at Cavendish, the rest at Rushford.

The Children of Tarbell and Lucy (Lawrence) Gordon were:

1. LAURA 3 (8) GORDON: b. Feb. 7, 1806, d. ; M. DAVID FOY
2. LOUISA 3 (8) GORDON: b. 1808, d. ; M. CALVIN DAVENPORT
3. WILLIAM 3 (8) GORDON: b. 1809; d. Apr. 23, 1888. M. LOIS GARDNER
4. SIMON 3 (8) GORDON: b. May 11, 1811, d. ;M. LAURA GRIFFIN
5. ELY 3 (8) GORDON: b. 1813; d. Nov. 11, 1876. M. (1) MARTHA THING (2) EMILY THING
6. ADALINE 3 (8) GORDON: b. 1816, d. ; M. DAVID HUNTINGTON Lived Napoli, NY
7. MYRA 3 (8) GORDON: b. 1818; d. June 15, 1906. M. LYFORD LEAVENS
8. ELVIRA 3 (8) GORDON: b. 1821, d. ;M. HARRY HOWE
9. LUTHERA 3 (8) GORDON: b. 1823; M. as his sec. wife, PERRY CORSE
10. SALOMA 3 (8) GORDON: b. 1825; M. ELIJAH METCALF
11. CYRUS 3 (8) GORDON: b. 1826; M. ORRA MORRIS

The farm in Rushford stayed in this family until 1898, though a great granddaughter's family bought it back eventually. Tarbell 2 Gordon died at Rushford, NY on Feb. 21, 1825. He was only 40 years old and death came very suddenly, apparently in his sleep. He was a farmer by occupation. Lucy Lawrence Gordon was born in VT, April 12, 1783. She died after 1860, probably at Rushford. All of her children had died before the centennial in 1908. Many of them and their families had moved away from Rushford by 1860.

William 2 Gordon was born Oct. 7, 1787 at Mason, NH and died at Rushford, NY, Apr. 5, 1870, age 82. He married 3 times: (1) Apr. 12, 1808 to Mira Gary at Cavendish, VT. They had the first child born in Rushford, Samuel 3 Gordon. He was probably named after William's brother who had died at Cavendish several years before. She died after the birth of their second child in 1812. He married (2) Martha Gary, his wife's sister. She was the mother of 10 more children. After her death, he married late in life, (3) Laura (Wilson) Woods, widow of Daniel Woods.

Most of William Gordon's family chose to make their fortunes in other towns than Rushford, going to Minnesota, Illinois, and Kansas. But one son, Jedediah Buckingham 3 Gordon married Juliette Hovey, and became an important figure in the town, as did another son, Stoddard 3 Gordon, and one son in law, Avery Washburn, who later moved to Kansas also.

The children of William and Mira (Gary) Gordon were:

1. SAMUEL 3 (8) GORDON: b. June 12, 1810 ; d. Dec. 14, 1879 at Sauk Rapids, MN. M. NANCY GRIFFIN of Centerville, NY
2. JEDEDIAH BUCKINGHAM 3 (8): b. Sept. 7, 1812; d. May 24, 1809 at Rushford, NY. M. JULIETTE HOVEY

The children of William 2 and Martha (Gary) Gordon were:

3. KASTORN 3 (8) GORDON: b. 1819; d. after 1908 at Topeka, Kansas. M. AVERY WASHBURN
4. SALOMA 3 (8) GORDON: b.1821; d. aft. 1908. M. RUSSELL BELL. Lived in Sterling, Illinois
5. STANBURY 3 (8) GORDON: b. 1823; d. Feb. 15, 1875 at Rushford, NY. M. JULIA SHORT
6. JANETTA 3 (8) GORDON: b. Jan. 3, 1824; d. young
7. LORENZO DOW 3 (8) GORDON: b.1827 d. M. ORISSA RAWSON, moved to Illinois by 1851 and later, Sauk Rapids, Minn.
8. STODDARD 3 (8) GORDON: b. d.bef. 1908 M. HARRIET JACOBS, lived in Illinois
9. JOHN COPELAND 3 (8) GORDON: b. d. aft. 1908. M. MARY (NICHOLS) FELLOWS, lived at Topeka, Kansas
10. ASBURY BISHOP 3 (8) GORDON: b. d. aft. 1908. Never married. Lived in Topeka, Kansas
11. JOHN WESLEY 3 (8) GORDON: b. 1833; d. after 1908. M. LOUISE C. SPRINGER
12. TARBELL 3 (8) GORDON: b. 1837; d. aft. 1908. M. ELIZABETH MORROW. lived at Topeka, Kansas

William 2 Gordon brought to Rushford the first bake-oven and the first cook-stove ever seen in that town. He had a home in Gordonville, an area of the town which was named that because so many of the clan lived there. He had a carding-mill, and wove cloth. Many people brought wool in exchange for cloth. He also had a sawmill, and a grist mill. He was an abolitionist and a preacher in the Methodist-Episcopal church, as well as an ordained deacon. There is a good picture of this family in the Rushford Centennial book, taken in 1882.

One of those who stayed at Rushford was Jedediah 3 Gordon. When asked why he did not marry as a young man, he said "I am afraid if I married in Rushford, I would marry one of my relatives". He met a young lady at a Baptist church in another town, Miss Julia (Juliette) Hovey, and married her. One day he was asked by one of her family why his middle name was Buckingham, and it turned out that his wife's great grandmother was also his, so he married a "shirt tale" relative anyway.

John Copeland "Cope" 3 Gordon, one of the Gordons who went to Kansas in the mid 1800's, became an important figure in the founding and history of Topeka, Kansas. He married Mary Nichols Fellows, called "Mate", and had a daughter Marcia, and a son, Asbury 4 Gordon. Mate and Cope Gordon met when she came to Topeka with her invalid brother. She was taken sick with small pox during their engagement, and he nursed her back to health. Their wedding, Aug. 4, 1857, was the first public wedding in Topeka. It was attended by the whole town, and was talked about for years afterwards, because of the lively party that followed the event, complete with public dancing and refreshments. Cope Gordon was an early city councilman, owned quite a bit of land, and built several hotels, including the Throop, and the Copeland Hotel. The following was taken from a 1935 clipping in the "Topeka State" newspaper:

"One of the exciting fires of the town in the early days occurred in the Gordon House, now the Throop Hotel, in 1882. This house was owned and operated by J. C. Gordon. The fire dept. however, succeeded in controlling it, although considerable damage was done to the building. This hotel was built by J. C. Gordon in the late 70's but sold to J.J. Burtis about 1883. Later it was purchased by H. P. Throop and renamed the Throop hotel under which it remains today (1935). Mr. Gordon then retired and constructed a home, being the 3rd house n. of 4th st. on the west side of Topeka Ave. The call of the hotel business was too strong for him to remain idle and he then built what became the famous Copeland Hotel at the S. E. corner of Kansas Ave. and 9th St. He continued as the owner and manager of this hotel with the exception of about 2 years, when it was leased to another party, until it was destroyed by fire in 1909. Only 1 person, Isaac E. Lambert of Emporia lost his life--although the hotel was full of guests and the fire was at night."

John C. 2 Gordon, was born at Cavendish, VT. on Aug. 4, 1789/90. He married Harmony Woodworth, daughter of Luther L. Woodworth, on Jan. 24, 1810. They came to Rushford in 1811. He was a farmer, a brick maker, and a lumberman. He died on Feb. 12, 1842. Several of his sons continued to be business men in the area around Rushford. One son, Luther 3, invented the "Genesee" plow. John 2 Gordon was the family rebel, never attending church while the others all did. Yet he had a son who became a minister, probably through his mother's influence.

Children of John and Harmony (Woodworth) Gordon:

1. MATILDA 3 (8) GORDON: b. bef. 1820, d. M. GEORGE GREEN. Lived Brockport, NY.
2. JAMES 3 (8) GORDON: b. 1820, d 1895; M. POLLY BRESLER, lived at Rushford and Brockport, NY
3. LUTHER 3 (8) GORDON: b. 1822, d. bef. 1908. M. 1848, FLORILLA COOLEY at Attica, NY. Merchant at Rushford, NY
4. WALTER 3 (8) GORDON: b. Jan. 25, 1824, d. Aug. 9, 1894. Methodist minister, never married
5. WILSON L. 3 (8) GORDON: b. 1828, d. aft. 1908. M. (1) MARCIA REMINGTON (2) ( ) ( ) Liv. Rushford, NY and Topeka, KS

Wilson 3 Gordon of this family was another of the early settlers from Rushford to Topeka, Kansas. He married Marcia Remington as his first wife. She sadly died at the age of 24, in Dec. 1859. Her sister in law, Mary Jane Brooks Remington, wrote her reminiscences of "Early Days in Topeka", in a 39 page booklet I found on a recent trip in the Wichita, Kansas library. Mary Jane and Samuel Remington were married Nov. 3, 1858, in the town of Rushford, NY, and took their honeymoon trip to settle at Topeka. Part of this booklet is a diary she kept on the trip, which took them from New York to Madison, Wisconsin, then Iowa where her husband had lived for 3 years, and finally to Kansas. The last lap of the trip was 451 miles, which took them 3 weeks and 3 days.

This charming booklet, written when Mrs. Remington was 84 years old, (Dec. 1921), contains several references to the Gordons, and was apparently written for Marcia 4 Gordon Trout, (Marcia married James Trout), daughter of Cope and Mate Gordon. The author signs it, "Auntie Mate" Remington. The two families became close friends, and since the Remingtons apparently had no children of their own, Marcia Gordon must have had a special place in Mary Jane Remington's heart.

Wilson 2 Gordon, the 6th son of James 1 Gordon, was born at Cavendish, VT. on June 4, 1794 and died at Rushford, NY, Feb. 27, 1879. He came to Rushford Mar. 4, 1812. He married (1) Lydia Pratt in 1812/15. They had 4 children. When his first wife died in 1850, he married (2) Paulina Walker Brown, and after her, (3) Mrs. Elizabeth Ward. Of his children, only 2, Jerusha 3 McCall, and Thomas L. had families. He was a farmer, a lumberman, and had a sawmill on his farm. He and his brothers were all active in the Methodist church, except for John.

Children of Wilson 2 and Lydia (Pratt) Gordon:

1. SOPHIA 3 (8) GORDON: b. Sept. 23, 1818; M. WILLIAM MERRYFIELD
2. JERUSHA 3 (8) GORDON: b. abt. 1820, d. ;M. NEWELL MCCALL
3. THOMAS L. 3 (8) GORDON: b. Oct. 13, 1824, d. 1864; M. MARY LEWIS. Both died of fever in 1864 at Rushford. He was a teacher.
4. ORSON 3 (8) GORDON: b. Oct. 8, 1826, d. of fever in 1864. NM

Jerusha 6 Tarbell Gordon was born Sept. 25, 1752, and died at Rushford, NY., March 8, 1834. She and James 1 Gordon were married at Mason, NH, in 1778, a marriage of 56 years. James lived until Dec. 11, 1844, ten more years, and died at age 93. His last years were spent living in the home of James Jr. and Abigail 8 Bowen Gordon, with his other sons living nearby. Where ever he came from, it was a long full life that he had!

James 2 Gordon Jr. was born Oct. 30, 1783 at Mason, NH, the second son of the family. When his brother Thomas died, he assumed the position of the elder son among the 5 Gordon sons who were left. He married on Jan. 10, 1808, at Townsend, MA., Abigail 8 Bowen, who was all of 17 years old at the time. This marriage went on to produce 11 children, 3 of whom died young. When he came from VT. in 1810/11, he brought his family and goods with an ox team; he also brought one cow as a foundation for a dairy herd, and seeds for an apple orchard.

The family must have been at Rushford before the first child was born in 1811, so the young couple were probably "newly weds" making this journey. The timber on the site he chose was large, leading the young farmer to decide that it was a site with the richest soil. Later when one of the huge trees was cut down it was turned into a miniature "summer house" and is still visible at the Gordon farm today. One picture shows it vine covered, with an arched doorway, taller than a man, and a peaked roof which had been set on the top of the stump to form the tiny house. It was originally the elm tree that stood near the doorway of the log cabin which was built for the first settlers of Gordon Farm.

The farm grew slowly along with the area. Trips had to be made to Rochester, NY. each year with a team, taking along the butter and cheese which would provide cash for the supplies the family needed. Cheese brought 5 or 6 cents a pound, and butter about 12 cents a pound. James 2 Gordon and his brother, Tarbell, once set a record of chopping over 8 cords of wood in a day, which was sold at 20 cents per cord. That means that the two of them earned about 80 cents that day.

In the Rushford Centennial book are some reminiscences of one of James 2 Gordon's daughters, Maria, born Nov. 14, 1814 at Rushford. She tells the following events in her life: "In 1817 my mother and the hired girl and one little child besides myself were going through the woods to another farm when a fox crossed the path a little ways from us. That was the first fox that I ever saw. In August, 1817, I had a little brother die. He was the first dead person I had ever seen. I though he was asleep and wondered that mother did not put him on the bed." (This was Alonzo, born in 1813, so was actually her older brother, but was only four when he died and she was age 3 at the time).

She also tells this story: "Nov. 11, 1820, father went out to the barn in the morning and found two sheep the wolves had killed in the night. I think that was all he lost by them. In 1821 father sent me through the woods to one of the neighbors. I had gone part way through the woods when I heard a noise and turned my head to see what it was. Well, about 3 rods from the road there were 3 wolves looking at me. Then they went one way, and I went on my way where I had started. When I came back I did not see them. I was not afraid of them, as I had never heard of their hurting anyone. (She was about 7 at this time). Bears were not very plenty here in those days, but one day I was standing out doors a little ways from the house and I saw an old bear come out of the woods and walk across a little pasture to another piece of woods. That was the only wild bear that I ever saw."

"Deer were very plenty then. They would come into the pasture and eat grass with the cows. One day father went out to the edge of the woods and found an old deer dead and a little fawn standing by her. When it saw him, it lay down by its mother. He took it up and brought it to the house and taught it to drink milk. It grew to be a very large deer. Then father sold it; it was so full of mischief." (Apparently they could not bring themselves to kill and eat the family pet!)

"One little incident which occurred when I was 8 or 9 years old, which I had forgotten till 4 years ago. (Maria was a old woman when this was written). My father was coming down town to Thursday night prayer-meeting. I asked him if I could go with him. It was light when we went down. There was no moon, so it was dark when we came back; the wolves howling in different directions, but we were not afraid of their noise. When we were near a quarter of a mile from home we had to turn from the road and walk through the woods by a little footpath. Father said to me, "I don't know whether we can follow the path."I stepped in front of him and said ,"I can". I had been through there several times. I had learned the shape of the openings in the tree tops; one place one half of one tree was broken off. There was no moon to give light; all the light came through these little openings. If I had looked down I could not have followed the path. As long as I looked up I was alright. I thought then that father meant what he said. I think now he did it to see what I would do or say. When Noah was in the Ark he had no light, only when he looked up. That is the way to get the true light."

In 1837 a terrible storm hit the town of Rushford. Rain fell in torrents, trees were uprooted, fences leveled, and one house completely destroyed. The father of this family had been to town. When he returned, he found his house blown to pieces. One child, age 2, was buried under the ruins of the great fireplace chimney. One neighbor tore the mantle piece off her with a huge show of strength and the next day could not move the huge piece an inch. The mother with a 6 month old baby was at the door and was saved by that, though injured enough to shorten her life by some years. A large grindstone was tossed many feet away, the flour barrel was blown to pieces, the staves found miles away. The effects of this storm were seen for many years as it mowed trees down making a path through the heavy timber.

In 1859 the town had a bad flood. One home floated downstream with the current and eventually came to rest on the Wilson Gordon farm. The family was still in the house at the time. The father wanted to throw the children ashore, but before he could overcome the wife's objections, the house moved on down stream and eventually broke apart and the mother and one child were never seen again. The body of the other child was found later and the only one saved was the father who eventually caught a tree limb and pulled himself out of the water, his whole family gone. Another bad flood in 1864 took one mans barn and hay, the wing of his blacksmith shop with all his books and records, etc. In East Rushford 6 houses were lost. One of the Gordons who owned a woolen mill lost 3,000 pounds of wool, washed away.

Another hazard of pioneer homes was the number of fires that occurred. The town of Rushford had 68 fires of consequence, including the one that burned the Methodist Church, several stores, including the Tarbell's grocery, and the post office and a bakery and candy store in 1864. The old time stoves with their faulty chimneys and the wooden cabins of the early settlers were much prone to fires. Eventually each town developed a fire department of volunteers who responded to such events.

The family of James 2 Gordon and Abigail 8 (Bowen) Gordon:

1. NANCY 3 (8) GORDON: b. Sept. 19,1811: d.July 11, 1848; M. ISAAC ROWLEY
2. ALONZO 3 (8) GORDON: b. April 27, 1813, d. on Aug. 23, 1817.
3. MARIA 3 (8) GORDON: b. Nov.14, 1814, d. aft. 1898; M. ELIAB BENJAMIN.
4. RILEY 3 (8) GORDON: b. May 4, 1817, d. April 21, 1840
5. FORDYCE FOSTER 3 (8) GORDON: b. Feb. 24, 1819; of whom later
6. JOHN DELEY FLETCHER 3 (8) GORDON: b. Nov. 11, 1820, d. Feb. 20, 1860. M. SOPHRONIA ADAMS
7. MARY ANN 3 (8) GORDON: b. Aug. 30, 1822, d. bef. 1908 at Dexter, Iowa. M. BAXTER GEORGE. No fam.
8. JULIA ANN 3 (8) GORDON: b. April 13, 1824, d. Jan. 6, 1833
9. LAURA 3 (8) GORDON: b. Jan. 27 1827, d. June 21, 1867. M. REV. JOHN C. NOBLES
10. ISAAC BOWEN 3 (8) GORDON: b. July 5, 1832, d.May 22, 1921. M. MELINDA RICE.

Isaac 3 Bowen took over the management of Gordon farm when his older brother, Fordyce moved to Cuba, NY. It is one of his descendants that lives at "Brookside" today, only the 5th generation to do so in nearly 180 years. The farm was honored by the state of New York in 1954 as a "centennial farm", along with its owners, Dean 4 Gordon and his family.

11. JULIA 3 (8) GORDON: b. May 23, 1834, d. aft 1908. M. J. TOWNSEND FLETCHER. No family.

James 2 Gordon, called "Uncle Jim" by many, was 85 years old when he died Oct. 24, 1868, having seen 50 years of the growth of Rushford, New York. His wife, Abigail 8 Bowen Gordon died at age 76 on May 17, 1868. This couple shared 60 years of married life together and died just a few months apart. Their children settled in Rushford and Cuba, New York, Iowa, and Montana. This family is listed in Daniel Bowen's THE FAMILY OF GRIFFITH BOWEN, ESPECIALLY THE BRANCH OF ESQUIRE SILAS BOWEN, along with many of their descendants.

Fordyce Foster 3 Gordon was the fifth child, and oldest living son of James Gordon Jr., born Feb. 24, 1819 at Rushford, New York. His mother was Abigail 8 Bowen, whose parents, Capt. Isaac 7 Bowen, and Anna "Nancy" 6 Wight, were both from distinguished New England families. Her mother was a descendant of Mary Chilton of Mayflower heritage, the daughter of Dr. Simeon Wight and Margaret Smith of Bellingham, MA. Her father, Isaac Bowen (1777-1845), was 7th generation from Griffith 1 Bowen of Wales and Boston, MA, whose heritage is traced back over 60 generations, and whose descendants can claim Magna Carta Surety through King Henry I, as well as to one of the 5 Royal tribes of Wales, back to Rhodri Mawr.

When Fordyce was 19 he set out on foot for Vermont where his mother's people, the Bowens, lived. Making his way to Rochester, New York, he worked on the Erie Canal, and when it opened in the spring, paid $9.00 for a ticket on a boat to Albany, New York, working his way for the rest of the passage. Then he took the stage to Hartford, Conn. and made his way to Woodstock, Conn. where his mother was born. His grandfather Isaac 7 Bowen was keeping a public house there. It was nearly bedtime, so he asked for a bed and something to eat, but did not tell them who he was at that time.

After retiring, he was in a room over the living room of the family below, and could hear his grandmother say, "for all the world, that young man's eyes were just like James Gordon's", and she believed he was his and Abigail's son. In the morning Fordyce went to the barn and asked the man if he was "Captain Isaac Bowen". He told the man that was his mother's father's name. The old gentleman was delighted to meet this grandson and took his to the kitchen to meet his grandmother, Anna, "Nancy" 6 Wight Bowen. He stayed there some time, visiting Boston, and getting acquainted with the family.

Next he went to Providence, and then Stonington, and took a boat for New York. He thought it looked like a cedar swamp from the many masts of the boats in the New York harbor in that day. He visited family there for 6 weeks and then started for his Allegany county home. He took the stage to Albany, then from there to Utica, nearly a whole day on the train, from Utica to Rochester he had to take a sleigh and a stage coach (partly because the area was in the midst of a thaw and the roads were hardly passable). He left his baggage at Rochester and went to Livonia where his oldest brother lived (this must have been Riley, who died in 1840, just after this trip. He took him to Rushford. This was not the end of his travels, though.

In the spring of 1839 he went to Iowa with an aunt, (Nancy Bowen, his mother's youngest sister) who married a man by the name of Foster, of Ipswich, NH where he was engaged in trade. The trip was made by wagon to Buffalo, steamer to Cleveland, canoe to Portsmouth, steamer to the Mississippi, up the river to St. Louis, then up to New Boston, and up some more rivers to find Iowa city. He stayed a year there with the Fosters, working in the store, and traveling with the Indians. He bought buffalo robes for 8 yds. of calico each. He came back to Rushford in the summer of 1840. He voted for Gen. Wm. Harrison for president, and never missed an election in nearly 90 years of life.

On August 11, 1840, he married Sarah Ann 3 Smith who was brought up in Cazenovia, and Rushford, New York. They set up housekeeping at "Brookside", the Gordon farm at Rushford, New York. In 1853 the family moved to Cuba, New York about 12 miles away, with 6 children, and had 4 more who were born there. The picture of Fordyce Foster Gordon shows a man with flowing white beard and mustache, twinkling eyes, and white curly hair, thinning on the top.

This was taken when he was 84 years old, for an article done in the "Cuba Patriot" in 1902. Sarah Ann Smith Gordon, whose picture shows her in a black dress with white collar and cuffs, hair parted in the middle, must have been about 50 when her picture was taken. She was just slightly over that when she died in 1870. She was born on May 22, 1819 at Cazenovia, New York, but moved, with her mother to Rushford after her father died. Her brother, Abraham Lyon also lived at Rushford.

The town of Cuba, New York lies on the western border of the county, a little north of the center of Alleghany County. The main stream of the town is Oil Creek, which was it's name in 1822. The first land was sold in 1806 by the Holland Land company, but no settlement was recorded for the first few years. Dairying is the leading industry with a good cheese factory still a part of the town. In 1879 there were 5 cheese factories in the town which used of the milk of approximately 2,150 cows!. (So it says in a town history!)

Many of the town members of both Cuba and Rushford came from New England. Some were just passing through. Cuba became a part of the direct route to Ohio where land opened up for sale after the War of 1812. The number of emigrants to Ohio was immense from 1813 to 1817. Families would move into Cuba in the fall, or latter part of winter, and wait for the first flood which could carry them down the Alleghany to their destination in the spring. The building of boats was an extensive business in early day Cuba, NY. They were from 16-24ft. long, make of wood planks, and found a ready market among the pioneers, who went 2 or 3 families per boat. The usual price was $2 per foot in length. Oars were for steering and keeping the boat away from shore, but the current of the flood carried the families down stream.

Roads were interesting in those days. "Corduroy" roads were common. These were made by laying logs 16 feet in width across the swampy parts of the trails. They would be carried there by horse teams, of which 3 horses could carry a load of 800 pounds of logs. Timber was cheap and plentiful, so made the roads passable. Many of the settlers passing through found the roads so bad, that they traded their horse teams for the boats and continued the journey that way, so a few of the citizens got rich "Horse trading".

Another problem of the first settlers was the wolves. It made it hard to keep sheep which they needed for wool to make blankets and clothing. So in Cuba a bounty was put on Wolves and one man, William Bennett, killed or at least got paid for killing 100 of the creatures, making himself $4,000 as the bounty was $40 per wolf. He about bankrupted the town, and they soon quit paying this, but by that time the wolves were gone anyway.

Sawmills abounded in the area because of the dense white pine that was available. Lumber was rafted out on Oil creek into the Allegany River on rafts which were 12 ft. wide and 65 feet long. Often they were loaded with 10 to 15,000 shingles. Near the town of Cuba was another interesting place, the Seneca Indian reservation's Oil Springs. Here the first oil in the new world was found by a Jesuit priest in 1721. The Indians regarded it as of great value, for medicinal qualities and a resort even sprung up around it. The Indians spread their blankets on the waters and wrung them out in large kettles. When the oil was skimmed off the creek the waters were clear and cold for an hour until the oily scum again oozed to the top.

Speaking of medicine, some of the things they did in those days were pretty weird. If one got a burn, creosote water was the best, but in case you did not have that, the next best, according to "An American Woman's Home", a book of the time, was to coat the burn with flour. If someone you knew got struck by lightning (as my husband's father and grandfather were hit in a field in Minnesota), "you throw pailful of cold water on the head and body of the person and apply mustard poultices on the stomach". The best thing for sprains and swellings was to mix turpentine (Half a Pt.), beat well 3 eggs, and saturate clothes on the limb that was sprained with the mixture. "Good for animals or persons".

To cure a tooth ache you dissolve a piece of opium, the size of a small pea, in spirits of turpentine and put on cotton in the hollow of the tooth. Keep doing this until the pain stops. Actually some of these methods may have worked, but if not, the offending tooth could be pulled by a dentist for 35 to 50 cents, and a new set of false teeth only cost about 5 dollars. So much for medicine and dentistry.

Cuba, New York actually began to be settled into a town by 1841.

Until then it had only about 300 inhabitants. But the Genessee Valley Canal and the Erie Railroad projects added to the population as well as providing work for the inhabitants. Canal engineers and contractors set up headquarters here and things began to hum. The first newspaper was started in 1839. There was a shoe and leather business, several physicians (all of the "allopathic persuasion", what ever that was), and new buildings started to go up. Several hotels added to the places for the railroad people to stay.

The first corporate election of the town was in 1850. They set the laws and kept the village running. "Each occupant of any building in which there is a Fire kept shall furnish himself with one leathern bucket and a ladder of sufficient length to reach the roof." This was one of the first laws passed. The town held its first fair in 1868 and eventually horse and trotting races became the order of the day and a large and elegant horse barn was built which still stands on the outskirts of town. It is a wonderful place called McKinney Stable, or the "block barn" and William Simpson of New York City, owner of Empire City Farms, had the $200,000 fire proof structure (it was built of brick), built to house his famous trotters. The Emperor of Russia once sent a mare here to add the McKinney strain to his line of horses.

By 1869 there was a union graded school established in Cuba, a circulating library in 1873; the Cuba bank organized in 1866, a number of chur- ches opened, stores and business expanded and the town was on its way. This is the town where Fordyce Foster brought his family in 1853, and where some of his descendants still live. Meanwhile the Gordon farm at Rushford, passed into the hands of Isaac Bowen Gordon, the younger son of the family.

Fordyce Foster 3 Gordon had been in 17 states when he died on Feb. 7, 1908. He was first in Chicago when it was a small village. He visited Montana where some of his children, and one sister settled, and seemed to enjoy his journeys. He was a member of the Methodist-Episcopal church, and a Whig or Republican in his political choices, was never a teetotaler, but not a drinker either, having only an occasional drink during his whole life. None of his children ever drank or smoked according to his recollection.

The children of Fordyce 3 (8) Foster Gordon were an interesting lot, 5 boys and 5 girls. The oldest was Ellen "Nelly" Louise 4 (9) Gordon, born Sept. 1, 1841. She married William Asbury Fletcher on March 20, 1866 at Cuba, NY and set out to the new territory of Montana. She was a school teacher, trained at Rushford academy and taught for several years. Her picture shows an oval faced young woman with long braids wound around her head, or her hair in a snood, as was the fashion of the day. She began her honeymoon trip by train from Buffalo, then steamboat to Omaha,Neb. Then by prairie schooner to the Gallatin Valley of Montana.

Bozeman was a few log buildings at the time of their arrival, and another generation of pioneers began in this family. The mining camp at Alder Gulch was their destination. She kept a diary and her letters which she wrote and received have been preserved in a book for all to read. She had 11 children, of whom only one died young. She died at Meadow Creek, Montana on Nov. 15, 1919. Her children lived in Montana, and Torrance, California, the last dying in 1970.

The children of Ellen 4 (9) Gordon Fletcher were: Lucy Ella 5 (10) Fletcher (married Hugh Albert Dimmock), Blanche Montana 5 (10) Fletcher (married John Theodoris Rand, then Thomas Evanson Thompson, lived at Alberton, Montana); Samuel 5 (10) Fletcher (married Mary Leota Brock, lived at Livingston, Montana); Mary Emma 5 (10) Fletcher (married William Jasper Vincent, lived at McAllister, Montana); Margaret 5 (10) Virginia Fletcher (married Archibald McDonald, lived at Bozeman, Montana); Florence 5 (10) Fletcher (married Alex McKinnon, lived in Montana); Winnifred 5 (10) Fletcher (married Fred Lee Gibson, lived in Livingston, Montana); Ruth 5 (10) Fletcher (married Eugene McCallum), Nelly 5 (10) "Ellen" Fletcher (died in infancy); William 5 (10) Asbury Fletcher Jr. (married Edith Evans, died at Torrance, Calif, in 1970, age 87); and Carl 5 (10) Fordyce Fletcher (married Lela Maude Meeker, lived at Livington, Montana).

Ellen "Nellie" Gordon Fletcher kept a diary and wrote many letters on her bridal trip to Montana, which have been set forth in a book called "A Bride on the Bozeman Trail", published in limited edition for a historical Society. It was edited by Francis D. Haines, Jr. in 1970, and published by Gandee Press, Medford, Oregon. It has pictures of Ellen Gordon as a young woman, and as a mature lady. It makes most interesting reading and gives a good picture of pioneer life in 1866, the year the young couple made the trip by wagon from Ft. Laramie to Virginia City, Montana. One of the entries in the diary reads:

"Saturday, June 9th, 1866. Townie took our letters to the office, and he and another man went on ahead of the train, and crossed to the post office. Had a very good view of the place as we passed. (Fort Laramie) It looked only a little way though it was two miles. It is a small place consisting of several houses built of a kind of dried brick, believe it is called adobe. The houses looked white, and over them floated the stars and stripes. As we neared the place, a soldier came out to meet us and inquired for the captain of the train. On being told that there was none, he informed us that we would be obliged to organize before proceeding further, as they were not allowed to pass with less than 30 men. The country around Fort Laramie is sandy and barren looking, with ranges of sandy hills which are covered with pebbles and stones."

"There are a great many Indian lodges, or tepees, as they call them, all around near Laramie. We saw a good many Indians, some of them herding their stock and some around their lodges. They have a great many ponies. We saw some of the squaws riding horseback, sitting on the horse man fashion, with their blankets around them."

"You ought to see their ornaments. Some wore large bracelets of brass, and some had beads of tin around their arms. They were dressed in style, I tell you. As for `rats',(hair pieces), you would see the fashion carried to an extremity. I saw both Indians and squaws with them on, one young Indian with his face all painted up and ornaments around his neck and in his ears. He had on rats. They were made of strips of flannel wound up into a roll and fastened into his hair, one red and the other blue. They were nearly a foot in length. One thing attracted my attention more than anything else, and that was to see the squaws build their teepees. They had long poles, three of which fastened together at the top and then set up. They then set the rest of the poles around them, same as they set up hop poles. They then take the tent material which is stretched up on the poles, the wind helping them some. It is soon spread all around the poles. They fasten it down, drawing it tight, and their house is complete. They were made of elk skins nicely pieced together, and looked very novel and pretty to me, with the poles sticking out of the top."

"Government is about making a treaty with the Indians which was the reason of there being so many about the post. The treaty is to come off this month. They have chiefs of nearly all of the tribes at the fort now, and it is costing the government considerable to feed them as they furnish oxen as their meat."

The diary and the letters provide a wonderful story of the trip, made more interesting by the fact that they were written by a family member. It is a good thing that the Gordons liked to write so well.

The next child of Fordyce and Sarah's was a son, named William Riley 4 (9) Gordon, born Nov. 23, 1842 at Rushford. He spent his life in Rushford and Cuba and married twice, very late in life, the first time in 1874, so he had no children. His first wife was Ann Scisum, and his next, Mrs. Sarah L. Scott who survived him when he died on Jan. 30, 1910. He owned a dairy farm and delivered milk for over 30 years. He lived most of his life at Cuba, except for a year away at Newark, NJ, and a year in Chicago. The cause of his death was listed as "angina pectoris". He was 67 when he died.

The second daughter of the family was Blanche Eugene 4 (9) Gordon, born in Rushford on March 14, 1845. She married Oscar Devillo Hammond on Feb. 2, 1869, and lived in Cuba, New York, where she died on Jan. 16, 1922. There were 7 children in that family: Nellie 5 (10) Hammond, Rose Virginia 5 (10) Hammond, Walter Howard 5 (10) Hammond, Leon Herbert 5 (10) Hammond, John Gordon 5 (10) Hammond, Fordyce Foster 5 (10) Hammond, and William Ruskin 5 (10) Hammond. Blanche Hammond was 76 when she died, frail and white haired.

The next child, born Nov. 17, 1846, was Mary Emily 4 (9) Gordon. She was crippled (probably by polio) as a child. She never married, but helped to raise my Mother and my aunts, coming to Montana to teach school for them for a number of years, then returning to care for her unmarried brother, Charlie, later in life. She was quite small in size, and apparently well read and educated as a teacher. Later in her life she was so crippled she used crutches, or rather, a crutch. She died at Cuba, NY on Sept. 3, 1928. My mother's section of this book deals much more with her recollections of Mary 4 Gordon.

Catherine Virginia 4 (9) "Jeanie" Gordon was born at Rushford, Nov. 6, 1848, the 5th in the family. She had one child, Grace 5 (10) Virginia Jackson, born in 1892, whom my mother corresponded with all her life. She was a teacher, married twice, to Thomas Jackson (her late sister's husband) in 1891, and then to Preston McVey. She and her family lived at Harrison, Madison county, Montana. Virginia McVey died at Livingston, Montana on Nov. 13, 1923, at the age of 75. From her picture she was a tiny woman, very thin with high cheek bones.

Emma Smith 4 (9) Gordon, born in Rushford, on Jan. 16, 1851, married Thomas Jackson on Feb. 24, 1880 in Meadow Creek, Montana. She died at Harrison, Montana on July 4, 1889. She had 6 children, including a son, Joel Charles 5 (10) Jackson, who kept touch with my mother and came to see our family several times. The other children were: Faith Leona 5 (10) Jackson (married Elbert Allen), Edith 5 (10) Hope Jackson, (married Dr. William Bole), Rollin Henry 5 (10) Jackson, George Gordon 5 (10) Jackson (died after 3 days), and Ernest Walter 5 (10) Jackson (married Beulah Churchill). All lived in Montana.

Emma Gordon Jackson died in Harrison, Montana on July 4, 1889. Thomas Jackson married her sister, Virginia, who raised these children and had one daughter, by Thomas, Grace Virginia Jackson (married Harry Gillham, lived California), where some of her family still reside.

Charles Bowen 4 (9) Gordon was the unmarried brother who lived at Cuba and the brother that Aunt Mary 4 Gordon took care of late in life after they both returned from Montana. He was born Jan. 5, 1853, and spent time in Cuba, New York and Montana where he owned a farm with his brothers, Leon and George, before returning to Cuba. He died July 4, 1930 at age 77. My mother, Irene Gordon, went to Cuba to help settle his estate, which he apparently left to her and her sisters, including the house he and Mary Gordon lived in at Cuba. One section of Mother's diary deals with this trip, including an itemized account of her expenses, as she must have been named executrix of the estate.

George Smith 4 (9) Gordon, born at Cuba on July 3, 1858, never married either. He lived his last days in California, and then Central Point, Oregon, where he died, apparently totally out of touch with his family. He spent his early days in Cuba, and then in Montana with his brothers, Leon and Charlie with whom he owned the Montana ranch. He disliked women and children, apparently, and made life miserable for my grandmother who felt his wrath when he came to meals. He used to persecute my mother and her sisters when he lived on their farm in Montana, doing strange things and causing problems. One cousin reported his house was full of books, and seemed to be extremely intelligent, but he definitely was a loner. Of all the family, he is the only one who lost touch.

If he was the odd one, Rollin 4 (9) James Gordon, the youngest of the family was the smart one. He was born in Cuba, NY on Feb. 14, 1861. He married twice, had 4 children, 2 of them twins, and lived in Boston, Massachusetts. He was college educated and also had a photographic memory, according to my aunts, which helped him in his work for Houghton, Mifflin publishing firm. He lived until age 90, dying at Boston on Aug. 29, 1951, the last of the family. He was a good looking man, quite distinguished, from his pictures. Uncle Rollin married Elizabeth Meyer on April 25, 1893, and later in life Mary Satchel.

My Aunt, Joy 5 Gordon Miller, wrote me the following letter about Uncle Rollin, since she lived in Cuba for some time, and knew him better than the rest of the family. "He lived in Boston most of his life and worked for a medical book publishing company. He was often taken for a Dr. because he had a photographic memory and could repeat anything he had ever read, so knew all the contents of their medical books. When we were kids, he used to send us books for Christmas with every available space filled with quotations -everything from Euripides to Emerson. He could quote hundreds. I'm afraid we didn't appreciate them then, but I wish I had some of them now."

"He and Aunt Elizabeth had 4 children: Beth (librarian at the Boston library), who never married, but stayed home and took care of her mother who died of T.B., Virginia and Josephine, (twins), and Ernest who was quite a bit younger. At the time he was one of the youngest to be graduated from Mass. Institute of Technology, and then went to Mexico as a mining engineer, and married a Mexican girl named Aurora. Later he was superintendent of one of the largest gold mines in Africa, and after that I don't know what became of him."

"When I was in Cuba, Uncle Rollin came often to see Aunt Mary and Uncle Charlie, and after their death, he became interested in his high school sweetheart, a wealthy spinster in Cuba who had traveled a great deal. His children were greatly opposed to his re-marriage, but Margaret (my aunt, Joy's sister) and I encouraged him for which we were invited to his wedding! It was in her family home which was beautiful and luxurious. Everything was properly solemn till the minister asked for the ring. Silence. Then she turned to her sister and gasped, `It's upstairs in the bureau drawer. I wouldn't let him have it because I knew he would forget it.'"

"Everyone roared, because he was the original absent minded professor. The wedding was an hour late because they had been arguing about Egyptian archeology and forgot to get dressed." They had 15 happy years together, then she died. He lived to be over 90, still spouting quotations to the last. He really was a darling."

Rollin 4 Gordon's daughters married and had families. Virginia 5 Gordon had 2 children, a boy and a girl, (lived at Chicago, Illinois where her husband was a sanitary engineer). Both died of the measles the same week, ages 4 and 6. She later had another boy and girl. Josephine 5 Gordon was mother of two boys and two girls and lived with her family in St. Louis, Missouri where her husband was a Physical Education teacher.

This was the family of Fordyce and Sarah Smith Gordon, except for Leon, of whom next. Fordyce Foster 3 Gordon died at Cuba on Feb. 7, 1908, a few days before his 89th birthday, probably of pneumonia. His second wife, whom he married June, 1872 in Boston, after Sarah Smith Gordon died in 1870 at age 51, was Mrs. Elizabeth Walker, a widow. She survived him. Nine of his children also survived.

His obituary says the following: "Mr. Gordon was a great reader of judiciously selected books and papers. He began his subscription for the New York Tribune with Vol. 1, No. 1. He was a Whig, and later a Republican in policies, and was for many years a member of the M. E. (Methodist-Episcopal) church. He was a good neighbor, an upright citizen, honest in his dealings; and his habits were conducive to the remarkable good health which he enjoyed...he combined the qualities which go to make the true American citizen."

He left 24 grandchildren and 27 great grandchildren at his death. He is buried in the cemetery at Cuba, New York, along with others of his family, including his wife, Sarah Ann Smith.

Leon Luther 4 (9) Gordon, my grandfather, was born Jan. 10, 1857 at Cuba, NY. He was the 8th child in the family of Fordyce 3 and Sarah Gordon. He attended school at Cuba, then graduated from Poughkeepsie, NY Business College, with training as a teacher.

Of his early days in Cuba, NY, I know little. He was only 13 when his mother died, which must have been a difficult time. His brothers George and Rollin, were even younger than he, (12 and 9). His father remarried several years later. He was 16 years younger than his oldest sister, Ellen, who left for Montana when he was about 9. Family life centered around the Methodist church, school, and hard work, all traditional old fashioned values, though.

Leon Gordon left Cuba, NY in 1881 for Montana at the age of 24. His sister, Ellen Gordon Fletcher, had lived there for about 15 years by this time. His two unmarried brothers, Charles Bowen Gordon, and George Smith Gordon also went to Montana, and the Madison Valley ranch seemed to belong partly to them. It was another 16 years before he married. Charles and George never did. It must have been a shock to them when the bachelor trio broke up.

He seems to have been a loving, but strict father, and Victorian in his ideas. Mother told of the time he went to a basketball game and had a fit over the shorts the team wore, as he felt they were not modest enough. He preferred to have his daughters educated at home, rather than attend the nearby country school. But he also had strong religious values and was a strict but loving father. He worked hard but seemed to have health problems later in life.

He was 40 years old when he married, Feb. 24, 1897 at Meadow Creek, Montana. His bride, Margaret 2 Jane Oliver Gordon, was 30 at the time of the wedding. I have no idea how he met my grandmother, Margaret, the daughter of an Irish immigrant to Goderich, Ontario, Canada in the middle 1800's. Apparently their families were neighbors in the tiny town of Meadow Creek, MT. I don't know how the Oliver family came to be in Montana, though it may have had to do with the oldest son's teaching profession. Sarah Oliver, Margaret Oliver Gordon's sister, my mother's Aunt who lived with us some years, never became a US citizen and still had Canadian citizenship when she died 2 months before her 100th birthday in 1964.

The children of Leon and Margaret (Oliver) Gordon were:

1.* SARAH IRENE 5 (10) GORDON: b. Mar. 26, 1898, d. Jan. 9, 1978. M. 1934 to FREDRICK LOUIS 3 ULRICH
2. MARGARET EMMA 5 (10) GORDON: b. Feb. 28, 1899, d. Jan. 16, 1949. M. 1939 to EWING A. ROBINSON
3. LILLIAN JOY 5 (10) GORDON: b. July 17, 1902, liv. Feb., 1990. M. 1950 to EMMET W. MILLER
4. MARY VIVIAN 5 (10) GORDON: b. Feb. 29, 1906, liv. Feb. 1990. NM.
5. LEONA EVANGELINE 5 (10) GORDON: b. Mar. 26, 1908, liv. Feb., 1990. M. 1931 to JOYCE WILLARD BALDWIN

The children of this family were all well educated. Three were graduate nurses, and two were teachers, all with degrees from college or advanced training. It was a family who believed in education, so much so that eventually they sold the farm in the Madison Valley and moved to Helena so the girls could attend the Methodist academy there and Mother could begin college. This happened about 1916.

Leon 4 (9) Gordon was a hard working farmer, as well as a teacher. Once he fell out of the hayloft onto the tines of a pitchfork which a hired hand had carelessly left in the hay pile. The tines pierced his body. That is a story I remember Mother telling me from her childhood. He died on Jan. 1, 1929 at Helena, Montana, over 8 years before I was born. Margaret Jane Oliver Gordon died on Jan. 29, 1937, a month before my birth, so I never knew these grandparents.

After my mother, Margaret Emma 5 (10) Gordon was the next child, born Feb. 18, 1899, only 11 months younger than Sarah Irene. Margaret trained as a nurse, and supported herself for a number of years before she married Ewing A. Robinson at Vancouver, Washington, May 14, 1939. She was 40 at that time. They were happily married for nearly 10 years, when she died at the age of 50 in Los Angeles where they were living. It was a really sad time for my mother as they were so close, in age and in their feelings. She left only her husband, who mourned her greatly and died a few years later. They did not have a family.

Lillian "Joy" 5 (10) Gordon was born at McAllister, Madison Valley, MT. on July 17, 1902. She preferred to use her middle name, Joy, instead of her first name, Lillian. She was a Dr.'s secretary, a lab assistant and lived in McMinnville, Oregon in the 1940's, when my family also lived there. I loved to go to her apartment, as she had such interesting things, like the India wall hangings, and a tiny furry dog figurine I remember liking much. She moved to California, about the same time that Aunt Margaret went there. It must have been hard for my mother who had been used to having two sisters so close, to have them suddenly both gone.

She sent us a funny map once about Los Angeles, and was always encouraging our family to "come on down". She worked as a secretary for a lawyer in Los Angeles, and eventually married her boss, Emmett W. Miller, an estate attorney who was a wonderful man. They were married in 1950 when she was 48 years old and were very happy for 20 years, until he died in 1970. She continues to live in California today.

Like several of her sister's, including, Margaret, her heart was damaged by childhood illness which would be easily treated today. So she has had bouts of angina for years and lived a quiet life, but a full one, traveling some in her later years until her health became more tenuous.

Mary Vivian 5 (10) Gordon was born at McAllister on Feb. 20, 1906. She was trained as a nurse in Montana hospitals, and chose to go as a medical missionary to India, under the auspices of the Methodist church in 1937. She stayed there, coming home for a year's furlough every five years, until 1968, when she was forced to return for health reasons to the US. Some of her story, and the story of Clara Swain Hospital at Bareilly, UP, India, is told in Dorothy Clark Wilson's book, "Palace of Healing", published in 1968 by McGraw Hill. Before she left India, she trained many new Indian nurses who would continue the work she and others did after she left, and also was accorded the privilege of seeing the new nursing wing of the hospital named after her.

Upon her return to the US, she spent time working in a missionary and deaconess retirement home at Pasadena, Calif. Now she is retired and living outside of San Diego, Calif., but still continues to be very active. She even learned to play a wooden flute and travels some with a group which gives concerts at churches and nursing homes, etc. She still spends a great part of her time doing for others. Our family nicknamed her "Road Runner", as she walks very fast and is always busy.

Leona Evangeline 5 (10) Gordon was born on my mother, Irene's, 10th birthday, on March 26, 1908 at McAllister, MT. My mother was allowed to pick her middle name, and having just studied the poem, Evangeline, chose that name for her. She attended Rocky Mountain College in Helena, and got a degree as an English teacher. She taught at several Montana schools through out the years, both before and after her marriage. On July 2, 1931, at Helena, she married Joyce Willard Baldwin. They later adopted two children, Virginia and David. David died tragically in a bicycle-car accident at age 15. Virginia married Allen Hummel, had 3 daughters, and died suddenly of a brain hemorrhage at age 38. Her oldest daughter married and has a son, making her a great grandmother, a job she loves.

My aunt was such a wonderful example of courage, deep faith, and acceptance because of her losses, that it helped us to deal with the loss of our oldest daughter, Sandra Lynn, in 1979 at age 20 from a combine accident. She is a really remarkable lady, and a survivor, having also survived a fall which left her partly disabled, two bouts of cancer, and the loss of her husband just a month after their mutual retirement, then the loss of her daughter, all in a space of 10 years or less. She continues to live in the Montana home which she and her husband worked 20 years to complete, weekends and summers, etc. at Laurel, MT.

Sarah Irene 5 (10) Gordon was born on March 26, 1898 at McAllister, Montana. Like her sister, Lillian, she preferred to use her middle name of Irene. She did not marry Fredrick 3 Louis Ulrich until she was 36 and he was 44 years old. For many years as a child I begged her to tell us children how she and Dad met. It was not until the later part of high school that she told me that they were "pen pals" who met by mail and married a few months later. I could understand that by then, as that was nearly the story of my own life. My husband, Dennis Skeate, and I wrote letters, only meeting a few times before our engagement and marriage when I was 20 and he was nearly 22.

The Children of Sarah "Irene" (Gordon) and Fred L. Ulrich:

1. LOUISE EDNA 5 ULRICH: b. and d. Oct. 4, 1935
2. MARIAN IRENE ULRICH: b. May 19, 1936 (adopted) age 3 wks.
3. *ELINOR FREDA 6 ULRICH: b. Feb. 25, 1937

Irene Gordon Ulrich was college valedictorian of her class at Rocky Mountain College, which was then at Helena, MT. and took graduate courses at Northwestern College (now University), Evanston, IL. My father, on the other hand, was one of 10 children, born in 1890, of a Minnesota family who emigrated in the 1850's, his mother from Switzerland, his father from Germany. He left school after 6 years, to homestead land near Harrington, WA, with his family who settled on a farm just outside of Rosalia, WA.

He was poor in school, but rich in self education, an avid reader who learned a lot through experience and books. He valued education for his daughters, and had a right to be proud of my sister's hard work which enabled her to get her BS and master's degree at WSU, and a Doctorate in Virology from Stanford University in 1964. She has lived the last 25 years in Venezuela where she was honored for her work on leprosy and other tropical diseases and for teaching at the Medical school at Vargas Hospital.

He saw me through my 2 years of College, and the first 7 years of Dennis and my marriage, which gave him a Civil Engineering degree from the University of Idaho. He didn't live to see his grandchildren, Shari and Michael, attend college and prosper in their careers, or to see Sandra lose her life earning money for her college education, but he would have been pleased to know that Sandi and Mike were high school valedictorians, with a 4.0 grade average, while Shari was salutatorian, with one B she incurred the year she spent 4 months recovering from surgery after a broken shoulder in a bicycle accident, a 3.98 average for her 3 years of high school.

In 1961, about 4 years after my marriage, Mother wrote down some stories for me which are best told in her own words. They give an insight into her life as a Gordon, the 5th generation we know about. I will copy the next part of this from the manuscript she left. She was a writer and Sundays were always spent with her at the typewriter keeping correspondence with her sisters, cousins, and friends. She wrote us often when we were in school and after I was married until the phone took over and it was easier than writing. I have a file of her stories and my love of writing seems to come from her. Here is some of what she wrote:

10:15 Am, Feb. 3, 1961

"Dear Daughter, You have asked me to write down the events in my life, and now at last I'm going to try. Once, a few years ago, I tried writing the story, such as it is, in the third person, but it sounded so stilted and over-sentimental, that I've decided to try writing it in the first person, which is, after all, the most natural way to tell a story about something that has happened to one's self."

"I was born in a white frame house on the Gordon farm, about 3 miles west and a little north of McAllister in Madison County, Montana, on March 26, 1898. The house had been built by my father, Leon Luther Gordon, and was solidly built of squared logs covered with siding. Windows were double as protection against the intense cold of winters. On the lower floor were a kitchen, washroom, another small room opening off the kitchen, a "Parlor", coat closet, and my parent's bedroom in which the youngest child or two also slept. There was a screened front porch and a back "porch" roughly boarded with windows."

"Underneath the house was a cellar, with dirt walls, entered by a stairway from a very small hallway opening off the large pantry, next to the kitchen where most of the cooking, dish-washing and preparation of meals was done. In the basement were bins where were stored potatoes and other root vegetables, also apples, cured meats, empty fruit jars, canned fruit, jelly and jam and various odds and ends."

"Behind the porch and connected by a short "bridge" was the bunkhouse where "Uncle George" lived and where, in one room, he or my father made butter in the years before there was a creamery available to send the cream to. Behind this bunk house, built of logs, was a smaller, one room building, connected by a shed roof, in which milk from our dairy cows was separated and put to cool. Close to the milk house was the pump, and a short distance west, the chicken house and granary. Nearby was the big barn, a "corral" as we called the cow yard, a pig pen, and numerous old sheds used for calves, for storage of feed and other purposes. Between the barn and the road, was the blacksmith shop, a two-room building where horses were shod, machinery repaired, and various other operations of interest to us children were performed. Behind the blacksmith shop ran the creek which crossed the road in front of our house and meandered on through the fields between our house and the property of the next farm. A narrow lane carried the road past our house, over a bridge on the creek and on up a small hill where it disappeared from view."

"From the front of our house, which faced east, we could see perhaps half a mile away, the main stage road between Ennis, the little village about 7 miles south of our place and McAllister, our post office, which consisted of a general store with post-office attached to the end, a saloon, small hotel, church, public school and a few houses. From our house to the post office was about 3 miles, but in my early childhood the mail was brought to a box in front of our house by the stage from Norris, our nearest railroad station, about 17 miles north, and Virginia City, the county seat, about 27 miles to the south."

"On the side of the house away from the barns ran a very small stream, and across that was the woodpile and a combination bunkhouse and buggy shed. Still beyond that was a small granary with a lean-to on one side which we children used for a playhouse. Beyond that, part way up a small hill, was a tenant house, a two-room long cabin, usually occupied by a man and wife, occasionally with one or two children, who were the only playmates we had. To the south, adjoining our 2,000 acre farm, was the Valley Garden ranch, its house being about a quarter of a mile from ours. On our ranch were two other tenant houses, one which we called the "Pile House" and the other the "Buell house", both being named for the people who lived there and worked for my father while we children were small. The Buells had one grown daughter, the Piles several children. These houses were reached through the fields and were over a steep hill from our house. The land between them was more or less swampy in summer and part of it became a sea of ice in the winter, over which we used to drive to reach my Grandma's (Oliver) house by the shortest route, making it perhaps two miles away, instead of three and a half or so by the road through McAllister."

"My sister, Margaret Emma, was born on Feb. 28,1899, making her about 11 months younger than me. Lillian Joy was born July 17, 1902, Mary Vivian, Feb. 20, 1906 and Leona Evangeline on my tenth birthday, March 16, 1808. She was named Leona after my father Leon, and because she was born on my birthday, I was given the privilege of selecting a second name for her. I had just read "Evangeline" by Longfellow in school and evidently must have been impressed by the name. She has never used it, and I suppose few people have ever heard her middle name."

"My first baby picture, taken by an itinerant photographer when I was four months old says that I weighed 16 pounds. From time to time, we children were photographed by other professional photographers who visited our community, but most of the childhood pictures we have were taken by "cousin Mary", my mother's second cousin who lived with Grandma and spent some time at our house, I think twice a year, sewing for the family. Until I was 12, I wore curls and so did my sisters at the same time. Each evening we went through the ordeal of having our hair put up on rags, and we usually wore a hair-ribbon in a bow at one side, the hair being parted on the left side."

"Since we lived in a rather isolated place and had few contacts outside until we were grown, the people in our lives were very important, so before telling any events of my childhood, it seems necessary to describe the people who shaped them: First, of course, was our mother, Margaret, a hard worker, capable, unselfish to the extreme, easy to get along with, but very sensitive and easily hurt. Father was a quiet man who rarely talked to anyone unless it was necessary, a hard worker with no time for recreation, who left all the discipline of the children to Mother. My earliest memories of him are of his taking charcoal tablets and dyspepsia pills for his digestion. He had flu (called grippe, then), or pneumonia every winter, and was subject to frequent accidents with machinery or animals on the farm."

"Uncle George Gordon lived, until Margaret and I were in our teens, in the log house back of ours and was part owner of the farm. He was a sullen, taciturn man who seemed to resent mother and us children, and took pleasure in persecuting us. He spent all of his time, when not working, in the cabin where he had stacks of books and magazines piled ceiling high. He never came into our house except at meal time, where he sat shoveling in the food, speaking to no one, giving mother a sour look if the meal was a few minutes late. There were a few relatives with whom he seemed to "unbend" and I have heard that he was an interesting talker when he chose to be. We children kept strictly out of his way whenever we could, as we were terribly afraid of him. Sometimes he would throw things at us or destroy something we had made to show his displeasure toward us. "

"Uncle Charlie "went back East" to Cuba, New York, the Gordon family home, when I was about 8 years old. He lived with us, at least part of the time, when I was a baby and small child and used to hold me on his lap, I am told, and keep me from eating flies. Evidently I was his favorite, perhaps because I was the oldest child while he lived with us, and could respond more to his affection. As far as I can remember, we all liked Uncle Charlie."

"Grandpa Gordon (Fordyce Foster), lived with us for a while the same year that Uncle Charlie left and my diary, started in 1907, relates that he went back to Cuba in Nov. of that year with Uncle Will who came from Cuba for a short visit. My chief memories of Grandpa are of his long white beard, stained with tobacco juice. (He must have been a chewer)."

"The most influential person in our home, aside from our parents, was Aunt Mary, father's lame sister, whom he brought out from the Gordon family home in Cuba, NY, when I was about 6 to be our teacher. He was opposed to having us little girls ride 3 miles to school through the intense cold and deep snow of Montana winters, to the little one-room public school at McAllister. Aunt Mary, crippled from childhood with what may have been polio, and walking with one crutch, had been an elementary school teacher in New York and then had tutored in a private school, I think , in Boston. She was already old when she came to live with us (she would have been about 58), and was very frail. "

"Every winter, she like my father, was sick with "grippe" and Mother had to care for her in her upstairs bedroom which was located over the parlor and kept warm by a hot-air register and the stovepipe from the parlor wood heater. Summers she spent visiting other relatives at Harrison and Bozeman, Montana."

"Aunt Mary was a strict disciplinarian, a thorough and conscientious teacher, and a well-read person. She was always neatly dressed and was intolerant of any lack of neatness in others. She was the only person who dared reprove Uncle George for any of his rude acts toward us children. Though she loved my mother and tried to save her work when possible, I realize, looking back, that her presence in our home wasn't always easy for mother to endure because she was so sensitive to any criticism, either implied or expressed. One of Aunt Mary's mannerisms was a cause of considerable nervous tension to me as well as to Mother; I don't know whether if affected the younger children as it did us, but I can remember Mother and I retreating to the pantry evenings to do work which could have been postponed when a peculiar clicking noise that Aunt Mary made somehow with her teeth became too persistent. I can remember yet, after all these years, how "nervous" it made me."

"An occasional visitor in our home was Cousin Mary Oliver whom I have already mentioned as the sewing woman who used to make clothes for mother and us girls. As time went on, and more ready made clothes were available, mother ordered some from the catalog for us, but while I was a small child, Cousin Mary did most of the sewing and her visits were always looked forward to."

"Besides the people with whom we lived all the time for years, others who influenced our lives were the hired help. Because ours was a dairy farm it was necessary to keep help year round. When possible, father always employed a married couple, the husband for farm work and the wife to help in the house. Sometimes they lived in the tenant house on the hillside above our house, and sometimes they occupied a bedroom in our house. In summer, to help with the haying, we had extra men. Besides all the labor of cooking and dish-washing, mother was irked by the other problems of feeding a large group of people. I think what bothered her most was the fact that Uncle George and the hired men would always come in for meals promptly on time and sit there glaring at her till the food was set on the table. If she had been delayed by an accident or a sick baby or a crying child, they made no allowance."

"When we sold the farm in my mid-teens, mother often said that the happiest day of her life was when she got rid of hired men. We had all kinds: one who always slept with a gun under his pillow and disappeared if a stranger came to the farm; many with whom drinking was a serious problem, some who were lazy, some who could not be trusted with the stock. Many who were sent out by the employment office at Butte knew nothing of farm work and had never milked a cow in their lives. Some of these left at once, before even starting work, when they found what was expected of them. (One of the hired men, I think his name was Mike, made a beautiful woven basket out of the reeds on the farm in which my mother kept her sewing for years, and in which I keep magazines on the fireplace today. It must be 80 years old or more)."

"Some of the women were as great a problem as the men. One boasted that she had always wanted to be a train-robber. One Sunday morning when mother had to stay home alone with a sick child, she chased mother around the house with her long black hair streaming and a carving knife in her hand. Not 6 weeks after she left us, the paper carried an account of a train holdup staged by this woman and an accomplice."

"Another woman had trouble getting her trunk closed on the morning she was to leave. She called one of the men to help her, and they had a difficult time getting the trunk shut, too. Before she had been gone many days, the reason was discovered...she had taken with her the pile of cloth, trimmings, buttons, and all the notions which had been purchased for the spring sewing!"

"One family which lived for an extended time in the small house on the side of the hill had a young boy with fiery red hair. His mother called him "Waynie", and kept him in curls till he was about 12. He and his brothers were among the few children who shared our home-school for a few months and whom we had for constant playmates."

"Other people who shared our home for brief periods, usually only a night at a time, were the cattle buyers who came from time to time as they traveled around the country. More glamorous in our childish eyes were the peddlers who came in wagons which I suppose were the forerunners of today's panel trucks. They drove horses, and carried an assortment of useful articles varying from thread to dish pans. It was a great event when we were allowed to buy something from these traveling merchants."

"Much looked forward to by us children, were also the visits of the shoe-repair man, Uncle Gessler, as we called him, who came once or twice a year to repair shoes. I can still smell the waxed thread and hear the pounding. In between Gessler's visits, father did the best he could with a set of iron lasts, to keep soles on our shoes which of course, in those days, were mostly high and buttoned."

"Another event looked forward to was the annual wood-sawing. Living near the mountains as we did, it took only a day for the men, as winter approached, to go to the timber and cut logs, then haul them home. How we children loved the smell of the freshly cut, fragrant logs, and how thrilled we were if a few branches bearing cones had been overlooked by the men when they prepared the logs for loading. The logs were piled ready for sawing and on a great day in late fall, the wood-saw arrived, a portable outfit, run, as I remember, by a steam engine. We children, of course, had to stay at a proper distance, so as not to be hit by the lic school at McAllister. Aunt Mary, crippled from childhood with what may have been polio, and walking with one crutch, had been an elementary school teacher in New York and then had tutored in a private school, I think , in Boston. She was already old when she came to live with us (she would have been about 58), and was very frail. "

Living near the mountains as we did, it took only a day for the men, as winter approached, to go to the timber and cut logs, then haul them home. How we children loved the smell of the freshly cut, fragrant logs, and how thrilled we were if a few branches bearing cones had been overlooked by the men when they prepared the logs for loading. The logs were piled ready for sawing and on a great day in late fall, the wood-saw arrived, a portable outfit, run, as I remember, by a steam engine. We children, of course, had to stay at a proper distance, so as not to be hit by the chunks as they were tossed aside from the saw, but we could watch from the buggy-shed or some nearby place of safety, and there was always a thrill about hearing the whine of the saw."

"Another seasonal thrill, in my younger childhood, was provided by the Gypsies who occasionally camped near our farm for a day or two in fall or spring on their migrations. Farmers in the region watched their poultry sheds more carefully then, and mother, like other farm wives, occasionally traded a hen or a few dozen eggs for some of the exquisite handmade lace which the Gypsy women carried for barter purposes. We children were not allowed to visit the Gypsy camp, but after they moved on, we lost no time in combing the camp site for any treasures they might have left behind, perhaps a broken cup or two."

"Indians, too, occasionally rode by on their ponies, leading or driving others. My sister, Margaret, and I used to beg our father to get us a pony to ride, but he was so fearful lest we be hurt, that he would not allow us to ride even the old poky horses that we drove to town to get the mail. Horses we always had, none of great value, but later we had the hides of two of them sent away to be tanned and made into carriage robes..a buckskin and a bay and white pinto with lovely soft hair. I can remember a few sad occasions when a horse got out in a barbed wire fence, and had to be treated by my father as there was no veterinarian in the valley in those days."

"We children all had to help with chores. Those I remember best were carrying in wood and water in freezing weather when we almost froze our hands and faces in spite of being well "wrapped up". Only in a blizzard or when the weather was most bitterly cold, did father take over these chores for us and we had to stay indoors all the time. The wood box had to be kept filled every day, and we had to pump the water as well as carry it. I can remember once when I must have been foolish enough to take off my frozen mittens and the icy pump handle peeled the skin off the palms of my hands."

"At the back of the big Monarch wood stove in the kitchen was a small reservoir which had to be kept full of water for household use, and besides the stove stood a 30 gallon galvanized tank connected to the fire-box and with a faucet at the bottom from which hot water could be drawn off. My father filled this tank by standing on a chair, raising the bucket of water over his head and pouring it into a funnel in the top of the tank."

"Needless to say, in a household as large as ours, hot water was always at a premium, and none could be wasted. How well I remember the weekly Saturday-evening bath in the small room next to the kitchen when we children had to take turns bathing in the washtub set on the floor and containing hot water which had been used by others. There was always a scramble to be first into the tub, as the water was less attractive after others had bathed. As I grew older, I became so squeamish about bathing in water which had been used, that I can remember asking for a basin full of warm water in which to wash my face."
"As younger children came along to take our places in our parent's bedroom, we older ones were moved upstairs. With one room reserved exclusively for guests, another occupied by Aunt Mary, and a third often used by a hired girl or married help, a large unfinished room above the kitchen and heated only by the stovepipe which ran up through that room to the chimney. In cold weather we heated flatirons or flat soapstones and wrapped them in flour sacks to warm our feet, sometimes putting them into the beds a half hour or so before we went to bed to take some of the chill off the icy-cold blankets. As children, we usually ran down to the kitchen to dress in the morning."

"This storeroom and an open gable which led into the space above the other wing of the house which joined the kitchen wing at a right angle. That space was dark, and we children used to lie in bed sometimes, terrified, imagining strange shapes and noises in that dark attic. On one side of the room was piled the year's supply of flour in 50 pound sacks covered with an old comforter. In another corner was a large wooden box full of old magazines and Sunday School papers, and around the room were boxes and trunks containing out of season clothing, hats, and odds and ends. Here was my mother's trunk which we children were not supposed to open. But once, when she was ill, she sent me to get something out of the trunk and I "happened" to see some strings of pearl beads which later came to Margaret and me from `Santa Claus'."

"He was a real person to us, and our parents reared us in the belief that he actually did come down the chimney, visited all the children in the world on one night, and all the rest of the legends which used to be dear to children..more so, perhaps, as I sometimes think, to their elders who enjoyed seeing little eyes pop wide open with surprise at thoughts of such miraculous goings on. It was a rude shock to me when I first began to realize that the stories were not literally true; I must have been at least 10, I think, before the disillusionment began."

"Because I was the oldest of five children, I was told.. on the Christmas shortly before I was 11, I think, that the doll I received that Christmas was to be my last. Margaret and I received that Christmas the nicest dolls we had ever owned..Bisque, I think they were, perhaps 16 inches tall, with real hair and eyes that closed. Mother, who had always dislike dolls, assured me I was getting too old to play with the, and must leave dolls to the younger children. But I loved this beautiful doll, and was brokenhearted when my father one day accidentally broke her. He and a hired man were piling sacks of flour when he tossed aside a bundle of rags, as he thought, but inside the old clothes was my beautiful doll and her head was broken. I dared not let anyone see me cry, so I went down to the dark cellar which had been my refuge on other sad occasions, and cried and cried. I have always thought that if I had been the parent, I would have replaced the doll, but father said we had been told not to wrap our good dolls in old clothes, so it was all my fault that I had lost her..and that was that."

"And now it is time to tell about our school at home. When Aunt Mary came to teach us, she brought from New York a supply of kindergarten equipment she had used there..boxes of blocks, pegboards, construction paper, and probably many other things which I have forgotten. Father assigned the little room north of the kitchen to her for a schoolroom. It had only one window, opening onto the front porch, and no heat except what came in from the kitchen. There was room only for a chair for my aunt, the teacher, and a table at which we children could sit. Under Aunt Mary's direction, father shortened the legs of the table and built out of boxes, homemade desks with slanting tops to place on the table. We kept our books underneath, and supplies in a small cupboard by Aunt Mary's armchair. She had a small bell which she tapped for classes, and was very strict about keeping regular school hours and class schedules."

"Every morning we children changed our clothes or took off the long "sleeve aprons" we wore when doing chores, and our hours were as regular as those of any public school. Only in emergencies, if mother absolutely required our help, were we excused from school, and in that tiny room probably intended when the house was built, for a bathroom some day, Aunt Mary's word was law and her discipline accepted without question. She kept in touch with the county superintendent of schools and followed the curriculum of the public schools with such exactness that we were well prepared for the 8th grade examinations which each child in the county had to take at the county seat or other designated point. Ours, as I remember, were taken at Jeffers, across the Madison river from Ennis."

"The younger children were kept busy with kindergarten play, and we older ones were thoroughly drilled in the essentials of " readin and writin, and rithmatic", also with most painstaking devotion in spelling.. a training which came in handy for me later in life in my office work and as a proofreader. We observed fittingly all the school holidays. For instance, on Arbor day, we had an appropriate program outdoors; on Washington's birthday, a program centering around his life and so on. Most looked forward to and longest prepared for was our Christmas program, held in the seldom used parlor and to which our Oliver and Fletcher relatives at McAllister and Meadow Creek were invited."

"It was held in the afternoon, in front of a tree we had decorated with popcorn, paper chains, gilded walnuts, and other trimmings we could make ourselves. The program consisted of recitations, Christmas songs, and carols, and we made little booklets with Christmas bells and holly on the covers and the program neatly written inside. Strangely enough, I cannot now remember whether we had any treats after the program and I remember vaguely the gift exchanges, which so far as I remember, consisted only of gifts we children had made in school for our parents and the other relatives present."

"We made pen wipers, match scratchers, button bags, and other small items which I cannot now recall. But they were labors of love, and I am sure modern children who buy their gifts have no such thrills as we had in giving things on which we had lavished so much loving care and our own creative ability, directed though it was in detail by Aunt Mary, our teacher."

"Summer meant extra chores, helping with the garden, picking currants, raspberries, and later on, crab apples and eating apples in the orchard across the road from our house. We helped irrigate the garden and pick peas and other vegetables, also helping to prepare them for the tables."

"But we had our fun too. Father bought us a small tent which was set up in our front yard for a play house. There and in the lean to already mentioned, we made our fancy mud pies and cakes, played with our dolls, and perhaps with the cats and dogs which were a part of our farm, though I cannot remember much about them. Uncle George, for several summers, brought home orphan lambs from the sheep camps up in the hills and we girls bottle fed them. When they grew up, they repaid us by chasing us and ruining the few flowers which Mother carefully tended in the front yard, so that eventually a fence was built to keep them out of the front yard and out of the small garden we had there in later years."

"In spring we climbed the hills south of the house and picked wild flowers..bitter root, moss, bird-bills, phlox, daisies, evening primroses and others I cannot now remember. In school we pressed them and made little booklets identifying them by name. We picked up shiny rocks, some of them agates, some showing that the sea had once covered these hills. We slid down haystacks, hunted eggs in the haystacks, and sheds where some hens were fond of hiding their nests away, and when the men were all away haying we could play in the hay mows and explore the sheds and nearby streams."

"How we all escaped broken bones, I do not know. The worst accident I remember to any of the children was when Lillian stepped into a kettle of boiling water which a hired girl had carelessly left on the floor in canning time and got a bad burn. I myself have a scar on my forehead caused by falling onto corner of the stove when I was running around my mother's rocking chair, and Lillian has a small scar caused by running into the protruding part of a door-latch. But in general, as I remember we were fortunate in avoiding really serious accidents."

"Not so our father. Mother used to dread haying times, especially, as it seemed he always got some kind of an injury. Once a jagged hay fork caught him under the arm, and I , as the oldest child, had to run to Valley Garden to phone the Dr. I can remember yet how utterly terrified I was when, as I ran I heard a dreadful noise, the like of which I'd never heard before. Afterwards I found out it was a jackass braying. But that was not the end of my misery for that day, because when the Dr. finally arrived, from Virginia City, I think, I had to listen to my father's groans as the Dr., with him seated on the front porch, sewed up the jagged cut. How well I can remember the odor of idioform, a yellow powder, used as a dressing."

"Our contacts with the outside world were few, except for the people who came to our house. The biggest event of the week, usually was the 3 mile trip to Sunday School and church service in the little white country church across the field from my Aunt Nellie Fletcher's home. Her oldest son, Samuel, was superintendent, and when three years old I was in her Baby class and received a Bible story book as a reward for the most regular attendance. The church had a small reed organ, usually played by my cousin Ruth, as I remember, and ordinarily the only vocal solos were by Cousin Sam who loved to sing hymns and led the singing in Sunday School."

"There were no pews and we children had to sit by our parents on large chairs, with our feet dangling. On rare occasions we were allowed to sit by Aunt Sarah or by some visiting cousin across the aisle. In the center was an immense wood-burning stove, and a back room was used for Sunday School classes and for the rare social events, notably the mite box openings engineered by my cousin Mary and others interested in missions. After a dinner in the back room, a program would be held and at one of these programs. Cousin Mary, a dignified older woman that she was, absentmindedly appeared on the platform in her white lace trimmed apron..to her everlasting mortification, I suspect. At another program, Children's day, I think it was, my cousin Winnie's little girl Kathleen, visiting from Livingston, lay down and kicked and screamed instead of saying her piece."

"Since the church was our only social center, it is not surprising that many of my earliest memories center around its services. I remember for instance, the time when dear old Uncle John Ormiston, a Civil War veteran, interrupted the service and bawled out the preacher because he had hung the American flag backwards. The service was interrupted until the flag could be re-hung. Another time, a small child was taken out and spanked in the entry-way, its cries practically drowning out the preacher's voice. On another Sunday, the excited talk before and after service centered around the Halloween prank of some young men in the neighborhood who had taken the preacher's buggy and put it on top of the church building."

"Our home, like Grandma Oliver's was a center for visiting preachers, and a haven for resident ministers who needed someone to tell their troubles to. I'm sure some of them would have starved had it not been for the vegetables, fruit, and meat, furnished by the Oliver, Gordon, and Fletcher farms, particularly by Grandma Oliver and my Uncle Frank and Aunt Sarah who lived with them."

"Mention of their home inevitably brings back memories of Christmases and other holidays spent at their home and of visits in between times when mother had time and the use of a horse and buggy to take us. I can't remember that any of us ever spent a night there, but the dinners we had there were something to remember, as all the Olivers were good cooks and believed in eating well. "

"On Christmas, the double doors to the parlor were kept closed, as I remember, until after dinner, and then our eyes feasted on a beautiful tree and we were given our gifts from Grandma and the aunts and uncle. I'm afraid the only one I remember distinctly besides a book on butterflies and bees, was a gyroscope top given me by Uncle Frank Oliver."

"Grandma always had a beautiful flower garden, tended with endless care, as the soil required much water. She had peonies, bachelors's buttons, sweet peas, geraniums, buttercups, pansies, and many more kinds. She and Aunt Sarah always had a wonderful vegetable garden, and many fruit trees, besides raspberries, gooseberries, and currants which required picking almost daily during the hot season. They worked very hard to make a living on a small place with chickens, cows, hay, pigs, and their garden stuff which they gave away most generously."

"Under Aunt Mary's watchful direction, I began keeping a diary when 8 or 9 years old. I still have these diaries, some years almost kept daily, some years not. I think the first was 1907, but I do not find any for the following year, 1908, which was the year I was taken very ill, sometime in the fall, I think in October. I cannot remember all about the details of that terrible time. The first thing I can remember about it is dragging myself down stairs, unable to walk. The pain started in my hip, I think, then went down to my knee, the right. After some days, I can't remember how long, the nearest Dr. was called..Dr. Tidyman from across the river at Jeffers."

"His verdict, then or later on, was "inflammatory rheumatism" and I can't remember what if anything he did to relieve the pain. Later the knee became stiff and my parents were told if they didn't want me to be a cripple they would have to exercise that stiff knee and keep it from getting permanently stiff. That next week or months were such torture for me and my parents that I still cannot bear to think about what we went through. Twice a day, or more, my father, sometimes with help, tried to bend that knee by force..first a tiny bit, then more. "

"Even after the terrible swelling burst and discharged quarts of fluid, the doctor didn't seem to know what was wrong, and wanted the joint bending to continue. It was such terrific pain that all day I and I am sure my poor parents, dreaded the ordeal. I can remember vaguely thinking of trying to crawl out of the house at night and hide in the alfalfa field. I can't remember now how many weeks or months this treatment continued."

"In the meantime, of course, my relatives and people who knew the family offered all kinds of suggestions and hear-tell remedies. Aunt Sarah or Grandma or somebody, in the household purchased some "Quaker Oil", so-called and an applicator which had a plunger containing a lot of sharp needle points. They put the oil into this contrivance and released the plunger or whatever it was called up and down my spine. I still have the scars and it has been difficult to explain to doctors and nurses what caused them; I have never found a person who had heard of that kind of treatment. "

(I remember seeing those scars, circular holes , maybe 30 pin pricks in the circle, starting at the middle and working out to about 3 inches across. I used to rub liniment on Mother's back for her and there were probably 6 or 8 of these down her spine. What a terrible remedy!)

"On March 17, after being shut in the house all winter, I was taken for my first buggy ride, and what a wonderful world it seemed! On April 24, I began to study again. On May 26, one or more of my parents, I'm not sure, started to the railroad station at Norris, with me in a buggy to go to Butte to consult a Dr. there where my Uncle S. A. Oliver was pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church. We met with a blizzard and had to turn back home, but on June 2, 1911 Uncle S.A. took Mother and me on the train to Butte. I can't remember whether he came out from Butte especially to take us. The next day Dr. Phoebe A. Ferris and Dr. Kistler came to see me and on June 4 they gave me ether and put my bad leg in a cast. The verdict was tuberculosis of the bone."

(There are some things here that don't seem right. She says she was first taken ill in 1909, but didn't see the specialist until 1911. In talking about this to Drs. and others, it is probable that she had a bone infection from an injury, such as a fall, which could have been treated if recognized then and now. Or she may have had childhood rheumatoid arthritis which froze the knee joint and all the irritation of the bending of the joint could have caused the infection, also. What ever she had, it is painful even reading about it.)

"On June 9, father came to Butte, and on the 12th we came home on the train to Norris, I on a cot in the baggage car again. On July 22, Dr. Kistler, who sometimes came out to the Madison Valley to fish, as did many Butte people, helped Dr. Tidyman put on a new cast. On January 3, 1912, my oldest sister when to Butte with father and I. A wheel chair was waiting at Norris, so I didn't have to go on a cot again, but if I remember rightly, we did go in the baggage car. Next day, father and Uncle S.A. wheeled me down to Murray Hospital, and the next day, Dr. Kistler amputated my right leg. I had been told that they were going to scrape the bone, so didn't know until I came out of the ether and had a queer feeling where my leg should be what had happened. I was so thankful not to have to go through that knee-bending again, that it softened the shock of losing my limb."

"I had already been through so much agony that I really believe my greatest feeling was of thankfulness rather than dread of a future without a leg. I had faith that " all things work together for good", and I was firmly resolved to do my part to bring that about. There was still pain to go through, of course, and a couple of times the abscess which formed had to be lanced which was an ordeal. On January 8, father and Margaret (Mother called her Emma), went home and Mother came, and on January 18, I got out of the hospital and mother and I rode in a cab to Uncle's while he and cousin Grace wheeled my chair up the steep Butte hills to Centerville where they lived. "

"Twenty six days after I had gone to Butte for the operation, Mother and I went home and father met us at Norris. On Feb. 12, I began walking with crutches and some weeks or months later (I have no record), I began walking with an artificial limb ordered from Minneapolis from measurements sent by mail. In August of the next year, I sent it back to Minneapolis to be lengthened 2 1/2 inches, and when I finished growing, I had to have still another one made."

"The months between June 4, 1911 when the doctors put my limb in a cast in Butte, and Jan. 5, 1912, when they amputated, were busy ones spent in trying to build up my health enough so I could endure an operation. Dr. Ferris (who a few year later went to Baroda, India, as a missionary Dr.

and spent some years there), was a wonderful Christian woman whom I came to almost worship. It was her place to prescribe my diet and general care. I had to eat and eat and eat of nourishing food, drink Scott's Emulsion (a thick white syrupy form of cod liver oil used then), take iron, and of course drink lots of milk (which I didn't like), and eat lots of diary products, vegetables, etc. In addition, I swallowed raw eggs, working up to as high as 15 or more a day. I didn't know at the time, of course, but the doctors had said there was only one chance in a hundred of saving my life, so it must have been a period of terrible anxiety for my parents. Naturally, they didn't share their worries with me, but concentrated on helping me get well."

"The actual period of my illness, before we found out what the trouble really was, is very dim in my mind except for a few events: after I became well enough to get out of bed, they lifted me into a chair each day for a little while. I was on a cot in my parent's bedroom , but could sit up in the parlor when I was able. We had a chair, the back of which could be set at any desired angle. I can still remember how terribly tired I'd feel all of a sudden after sitting up for a while, and how wonderful it felt to get back into bed. I can remember singing hymns in bed and hope I had a better voice then than now." (Mother's voice was ruined by her illness, probably, and she had sort of a monotone, which was too bad as she loved music).

"One of the happier memories of my illness is of the "surprise box" from which I was allowed to choose a gift each day. Once in a while, when something perishable was put in, I was given a hint which package to choose, but for the most part I was free to choose any package I wished, and the box was an event of the day for my younger sisters..who must have been unselfish not to complain when they didn't get daily surprises as well as me. The gifts were small objects like handkerchiefs, beads, trinkets of all kinds, donated by relatives and friends of the family."

"Speaking of boxes, I must not omit mention of the "Big Box" which was a highlight of each fall and spring season at our house. Twice a year, we sent a big order to Montgomery Ward or Sears Roebuck, for clothing and household items. Somehow, too, our parents managed to smuggle in toys and other Christmas gifts, and it must have required all their ingenuity to hide these items as they were unpacked. "

"The day of the "Big Box", actually an assortment of boxes and barrels, was a day of supreme excitement for us children. Early in the morning, father would drive to Norris, our railroad station, and it was usually late afternoon when he returned with the farm wagon loaded with mysterious boxes. These were set on the back porch and we children could hardly wait till they were opened. New clothes, cloth to make clothes, household articles, everything was exciting to us. When I grew old enough, mother turned over the job of making out the orders to me, and many were the hours spent studying the catalog to find the best buys. When I had finished the main part of the order, under her instruction, she and father would add things they hadn't told me about and the order would be mailed."

"Some long, long days dragged by for us children before we received notification from the railroad station that "The Box" was there waiting. It was a long, hard trip for the horses, and father, too, I suppose was tired enough to have wished that the boxes could sit unopened until the next day, but I can't remember that they ever had to."

"Among the problems my parents faced each year was that of helping some of the needy families in our neighborhood who never had enough saved to get through the winter. One family that lived in one of our houses seemed to be always in need, and always to know where to come for help. Besides feeding them, my mother would go to their homes and help take care of the sick, and we children, I'm afraid, were sometimes impatient at those who seemed to ask too much, but she never complained. Help for the sick and needy and improvident was a person-to-person matter in those days, not the impersonal rendering of aid by government which it often is now."

"Like all farm folks, we always had the best of food in those days. Milk and cream, homemade butter, buttermilk to drink, and for cooking, home cured bacon and hams, whole animals butchered and kept frozen in the milk house in winter, to be cut up with a saw while still frozen, chicken for Sunday dinner and company, all the eggs we could use, even in winter when we used eggs put down in "water-glass", these, with garden produce raised by hard work in summer, formed the basis of our diet."

"Staple groceries were purchased from the little country store in McAllister or ordered in quantity from Lutey's big store in Butte. Dried peaches, apples, pears, and prunes by the box, I suppose 25 pounds or more, big fat thick crackers called Uneeda Biscuits, ginger snaps and vanilla wafers, honey and syrup, and many more good things came from Lutey's. All bread, of course, was home made, and besides, large quantities of corn bread, hot cakes, plain and buckwheat, doughnuts, and other good things were set before the family and the hired men. Fresh peaches, plums, cherries, and pears were shipped in from Clarkston, Washington, and strawberries, too, though I can't remember where these came from, so the summer and fall months were more than busy with canning and making jam, jelly, and apple butter. We had our own apple trees, also a few sour cherries, and the cellar in winter was fragrant with the smell of winter apples."

"One of my jobs in spring was to remove the sprouts from the potatoes which had been kept in the darkest part of the cellar all winter. Sometimes we raised our own popcorn, and always pumpkins, cabbage, carrots, beets, and probably other vegetables I have now forgotten for winter. Haying time was the really high-pressure season for all of us. As soon as I was old enough to handle a team, I worked in summer driving a team which raised the forks full of hay from the wagons to the stack. This team was hitched onto the axle and wheel assembly of an old mowing machine, and as the fork full of hay was raised, the attached rope wound around the axle. I remember once when the horses got a little out of control and the rope wound tightly around my foot. Between loads of hay

I would lie in a shed tortured with hay fever from the timothy and alfalfa hay being stacked."

"Another duty of mine during the summer season was to help Mother put up lunches for Father and the hired men who had to spend much time over the hill on the other places we owned, cutting hay and stacking it for the cattle for winter. We had a large wooden box with a hinged handle into which we put the sandwiches, pies and cookies, fried chicken, and other good things, also a box for dishes, knives, forks and spoons. In the evening, the dishes used for lunch in the field had to be washed along with the supper dishes. Water was carried in a milk or cream can and we made lots of lemonade. When the men worked near home, we children carried freshly made lemonade and sandwiches to the field."

"The good food we raised on the farm and bought at the local store or by mail order from Butte, was sometimes supplemented by special items sent from Cuba, New York, or brought be Gordon relatives from there who came to visit. I remember New York cheeses, maple sugar and syrup, butternuts, and chestnuts from there, too."

"Perhaps the following entries from the diaries I kept will serve to further illustrate the events that filled our days in those "good old days":

1908: Fall, a team ran way in front of our house, and the man who was injured was cared for by my mother and later by his wife from Virginia City in our Parlor. He was campaigning for the office of county clerk. The next week Aunt Mary took me with her to the county teacher's institute in Virginia City and we stayed at their houses. They had a daughter about my age, but I felt so ignorant of town ways, that I was too tense to enjoy visiting with her very much. She took me to a store where I saw and tasted my first cinnamon candies."

"1909: January.. Father made a trip to Bellingham, Washington to visit people he knew who had moved there and liked it, but decided he didn't want to move there."

"1910: Feb. 11, my first party away from home, a Valentine party at the home of my older cousin, Ruth Fletcher."

"1913: January.. took 8th grade exams at Jeffers, and passed."

"1914: March 26, received a silver watch for my birthday from father. June: attended Epworth League convention at Billings with cousin Grace Oliver. Sept. 24: Won county sewing contest, trip to the fair, medal and scholarship at Montana State College, Bozeman (never used). Started school in academy dept. of Montana Wesleyan College at Helena. Margaret and I stayed on 9th avenue in the home of cousins Ethel and Frank Keene."

"1916: Was elected president of the YWCA at school. In April, Aunt Mary left for Cuba, New York, to make her home with Uncle Charlie, and Aunt Sarah living in "Pile House" with our family who moved there after selling our farm to the Love family. Leona and Mary attending school at Meadow creek, Lillian Joy in Helena where we three lived in two rooms in Mills Hall dormitory on Ewing St. about a mile from school."

"1917: May 29, I graduated from Montana Wesleyan Academy. June 23-July 3, attended YWCA conference at Seabeck, Washington, going alone on the train. Sept. 10, Margaret, Lillian, and I went back to Helena,and Oct. 11, the family moved to 815 Montana Ave., Helena, a brick house 4 or 5 blocks north of the Capitol Building. Brought a cow along with furniture in the box car. Oct. 16-Nov.. 14, quarantined because Margaret and Lillian had scarlet fever. Nov. 28, family picture taken. Dec. 6-22, In quarantine again, Leona with diphtheria. She and Mary attending Hawthorne school in 6th Ward."

"1918: June 19-23, attended Epworth League convention at Livingston, Montana. June 4, Margaret graduated from academy. 1919: June, Margaret and I worked several weeks as stewards at Centenary Celebration of Methodist Church (missionary exhibits from all over the world), at Columbus, Ohio. Roomed at 38 16th Ave. with Mrs. John Garrett, worked in Montana section of home mission exhibit with "Brother Van", Dr. Edward Laird Mills, one other student from Montana Wesleyan."

"1920: June 2, I graduated from Montana Wesleyan University at Helena and Lillian from academy (high school) Sept. 22: Arrived in Evanston, Illinois to attend Northwestern University Dec. 18: Went to Cuba, New York to visit Uncle Charlie and Aunt Mary during Christmas vacation. Summer of 1920: Worked for a while in the office of Montana Life Insurance Company."

"1921: Feb. 1: acquired glasses. April 27: Heard the Messiah for the first time, by Swedish Choral Club at Orchestra hall, Chicago. Sept.: Started teaching English in high school, Lodge Grass, Montana"

"1922: May 21, left Lodge Grass, having been selected on May 21 to teach at Roberts, higher salary. Aug. 24: family photograph taken. Sept. 1: arrived at Roberts, Montana June 7: Margaret graduated from Montana Wesleyan and started Nurses training in fall at Great Falls Deaconess, Hospital"

"1923: January, back to Roberts to teach. Christine and Margaret Knudsen started rooming with the folks in Helena. May 30: left Roberts June 23: tonsil operation Aug. 31: back to Roberts. Nov. 23: began correspondence course in bookkeeping from Anthony Wayne Institute"

"1924: Jan. 1: Left Helena at noon after sitting on train for 12 hours, at 50 below 0 degrees temperature. Back to Roberts until May 15. Aug 1: I began to work at the Helena area office of the Methodist church."

These are some of the entries made by Irene Gordon in her diaries. There are many more, of course. I have the diaries and they make interesting reading. Particularly frustrating was the time when she and her sisters had just started school in Helena, only to have several of them become ill and go through quarantine so they missed quite a few weeks of their first year of public school. Before that they had only what Aunt Mary Gordon taught them. These entries give some insight into what it was like to live on a farm in Montana, 80 miles from the nearest large town (Butte), in the early 1900's.

On June 18th, 1934, Sarah Irene Gordon married Fred L. Ulrich and they began their honeymoon trip back to Washington, through Glacier park. They were married for just over 30 years when my father died in 1965. Mother told me a story about their honeymoon. Dad would yawn intentionally, because he found that it would make Mother yawn,too. I guess they just yawned away their wedding trip! Actually, she thought it quite funny, later, though maybe not at the time. I never see a wild rose along the roads without remembering my father's custom each spring: to stop the car and pick my mother the first wild rose of the season.

The first child born to Irene Gordon and Fred Ulrich, was named Louise. She was born Oct. 4, 1935, and did not survived her birth. I can remember my mother crying years and years later as she told me how that baby had to be buried in an orange crate because it was the depression and there was no money for a casket. She must have been devastated by the loss of the child. Soon, though, my sister Marian was adopted in Montana, where they went to bring her home shortly after her birth, May 19, 1936. They did not know was that Mother was expecting me. So Marian and I are just 9 months apart in age.
Irene Gordon Ulrich was an amazing woman who never complained, though she must have gone through a great deal of pain, with her artificial leg, and later heart problems, diabetes, and osteoporosis. We, her family, overlooked the pain (perhaps, because there was nothing we could do about it, perhaps because it made us feel helpless to know she suffered.) She was very active all her life in the Methodist Church, until she was about 75 years of age, when she moved to Newberg, Oregon and attended another church. She held many offices in the Methodist church, was an ordained lay pastor, and a lifetime member of the Women's society, an honor given by their group once a year for outstanding service.

In her lifetime she was a teacher, a journalist, and finally a proof reader for the local paper. She worked in the fields alongside my sister and I in the summers while we lived in Oregon so she could earn extra money, and allow us children to earn some spending money. Later, while I was finishing high school and my sister was a Sr. and then in college, she ran a 16 room rooming house with the two upper floors of the three story house rented out. She worked often on election boards, and always voted, as she taught us was her duty and her privilege.

In the fall of 1977, Mother and I had a good visit, while my husband attended some meetings in Portland. She lived for 12 years at Friendsview Manor, a retirement home at Newberg, Oregon where she moved after my father died. We even talked about her memorial service and what would need to be done if she had to go into the nursing home wing of the retirement home. It was only a month or so later that she found out that she had cancer. She postponed the surgery until after Christmas, when my sister would be there from Venezuela.

Marian, Mother, and I went to Newberg after Christmas, just before New Year's 1977. Marian and I were staying in another room, and we did not find out until the next day that Mother had "snuck out" to go to the Watchnight service of her church on New Year's Eve. It was to be the last time she would go to church there.She survived the surgery for her cancer, but not the complications about 4 days later. She died early in the morning of Jan. 9, 1978 with my sister and I at her bedside. She lived a rich, full, fascinating lifetime of almost 80 years.

Since Leon Luther Gordon left no sons, his line must be carried on by the female side of the family. The Gordon story must be preserved or carried on by his ancestors. I hope that in telling the story of the family, that is what will happen.....perhaps some time in the future another descendant will add my story to the Tarbell-Gordon history.
